POLICEMAN GIVES LIFE TO SAVE PAY ROLL

Dying, He Fights Off 3 Bandits.

Homicides in Chicago Since Jan 1, 1920, 108

The Tribune is authorized by Julius Rosenwald to announce a subscription of him of $1,000 to start a fund for the ief of the family of Detective Ser- ant Frank J. McGurk.

This is in keeping with Mr. Rosen- ald's practice of contributing to the re- ief of families of policemen killed in the performance of their duty. Inade- uate provision for the dependents of uch policemen, and the increasing dan- er to all policemen by reason of the urease of crime, and the hope that he situation may be bettered by com- on action are the inspiration for the und thus started.

Detective Sergeant Frank J. McGurk, one of the oldest and gamest attachés of the detective bureau, gave his life yesterday in protecting the pay roll of the Illinois Vinegar Manufacturing company from three masked bandits. Lying mortally wounded on the floor of the company's office at West Forty-ninth and South Leavitt streets, he held his revolver until numbness overcame his trigger finger and the bandits fled leaving behind the object of their raid.

McGurk, who with his partner, Patrick Mulvihill, had led the police efficiency list fifteen times, was substituting for Acting Lieut. William Freeman of the detective bureau. Freeman, who has been assigned to guard pay rolls, had his rent suddenly raised and went out hunting yesterday. He called up the bureau to find out if some one could take his place.

Volunteers for Job.

"Sure, I'll do the pay roll job for you," McGurk replied.

Mulvihill is away on a furlough and McGurk's work, "broken home" cases for the Court of Domestic Relations, had been slack. So McGurk accompanied Oscar Spielman, a messenger from the company's general offices at 2012 West Nineteenth street, with the $3,800 pay roll and stood guard while the employés were being paid off.

J. T. Schroeder, the cashier, had paid out about half of the money when the attempted holdup occurred. With Schroeder in the office were Leo Vardet, a clerk, and Harry Sturba, the foreman.

McGurk was standing near the pay window when the three bandits, disguised as workmen, crept up the basement steps and approached the cage. They had sawed the iron bars protecting a rear window, extracted the bolts and removed the entire iron grating frame in order to have a free means of escape. All wore overalls. The leader, apparently about 25 years old, weighing 180 pounds, had a soft hat pulled down over his eyes. Another wore a blue cap.

He Gives the Alarm.

They carried their weapons beneath their overalls and, as they neared the pay window, drew out handkerchiefs with which to mask their faces.

"These fellows aren't working here!" shouted McGurk as he saw three revolvers appear and reached for his own weapon.

"Hands up!" commanded the leader. Schroeder, Vardet, and Sturba raised their arms and McGurk's revolver cracked. The men whirled and all three turned and fired simultaneously. The policeman sank to the floor. One bullet had pierced his right arm, another had shattered his left wrist, and the third had penetrated his chest below the heart.

Bandits Make Escape.

But he kept up his fire as he lay on the floor and one of the bandits was seen to grip his side with his hand and stagger. His two companions dragged him hurriedly through the door and supported him on either side as they made for a machine waiting at Western avenue and Forty-ninth street. He was seen to fall three times on the way.

"Make one take care of my papers and my gun," McGurk asked weakly as he was carried to an ambulance. But before he died at St. Anthony's hospital he turned to Capt. Michael Sammon of the Brighton Park station and said: "I'm sure I hit one of those fellows."

"McGurk was the gamest man I ever saw," said Schroeder. "He fired

NIMBLE YOUTHS STEAL $53,000 OF BANK'S BONDS

"Fagin Gang" Sought by U. S. Agents.

Secret service agents, aided by detectives, were scouring the city last night for traces of two Chicago youths who engineered a $53,000 bond theft, made their escape, and left a confederate to "hold the bag."

Federal authorities working on the case, which bears all the ear marks of a carefully laid plot, believe their capture will bare the trail to a band of "bond Fagins," similar to that of Jules Arnstein, which has been operating in the middle west for the last year.

Some weeks ago, according to the police, the two youths, known on Chicago's west side only as "Slim" and "Mickey," left Chicago for Cleveland. There "Slim" secured a position in a Cleveland bank as a messenger. "Mickey," 19 years old, turned "newsboy."

"Slim" rapidly cultivated an intimate acquaintance with the bank's other messenger, a Cleveland youth who had been in the employ of the institution for three years.

Sent to Bank with Bonds.

A few days ago "Slim" and the Cleveland youth were sent to the postoffice with a package containing $53,000 in bonds addressed to a Toledo concern. They extracted the bonds from the package, police say, resealed it, and mailed it.

"Slim" took the bonds and gave them to "Mickey," who took the first train to Chicago. It is said he disposed of the bonds here to the clique believed to be dealing in stolen bonds, and returned to Cleveland.

On his arrival there he told his "pals" that he had received $12,000 from the sale of the securities, and still had one bond left. Five thousand dollars of this sum, together with the remaining bond, was turned over to the Cleveland youth. A few days later "Mickey" and "Slim" went to their Cleveland accomplice, police say, and told him that one member of the gang in Chicago had been arrested and that it was necessary to put up $10,000 as cash bail security.

Parts with His Share.

The Cleveland youth was asked to surrender his $5,000 to help the cause. He did. "Mickey" and "Slim" disappeared.

When the bonds were discovered to be missing the Cleveland youth was immediately arrested. He confessed, naming the other two.

Yesterday Postoffice Inspector Cyrus W. Zimmerman, Detective John T. Shibley, operatives from a private agency, and the Cleveland youth came to Chicago to look for "Mickey" and "Slim" and also to trace the missing bonds.

Unless the two are found, police say they will formally book the Cleveland youth on a charge of robbery on his return to Cleveland.

Neither the Chicago nor the Cleveland operatives engaged in the case would reveal the names of the thieves, declaring that arrests were imminent.

President's Physician Goes on a Vacation

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, President Wilson's physician, started on his vacation today, explaining that he was going by direction of the president. Dr. Grayson said the president had shown such marked improvement of late that it was not necessary to put him in the care of another physician.

THE MAN WHO THOUGHT THE COUNTRY HAD GONE DRY

ALLEN LEADING, GORE TRAILING, IN PRIMARIES

National Issues Up in Three States.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Though opposed by organized labor for his work for the industrial court law, Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas, according to the Kansas City Star at a late hour tonight, appears to have been renominated by the Republicans in the Kansas state primary.

With Gov. Allen on the Republican ticket was Senator Curtis, who ran ahead of the governor.

Interest in the senatorial race in the Missouri primary centers in the league of nations and the liquor issue. In the Democratic ranks Breckinridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state, is ahead on a pro-league and dry law enforcement program. In the race against him are two pro-leaguers, the Rev. Arthur N. Lindsey and Charles M. Hay. His other rivals were George H. S. Scrutch, newspaper publisher, and former Federal Judge Henry S. De Priest, pro-wet and anti-league.

Volstead Law Champion Leads.

In the Republican race late tonight Senator Spencer, Volstead law champion, was ahead of Dwight S. Davis, former colonel in the 35th division and a wet.

Returns on the governorship showed John M. Atkinson leading the Democrats and Arthur M. Hyde leading the Republicanss. Both are drys.

Gore Appears Defeated.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 3.—Feeling in this state which was strong against Senator Gore's proposal in 1917 that none of the $2,000,000,000 war revenue then voted should be used to send drafted men abroad, unless they volunteered for such service, was reflected in the primary today. Scott Ferris, Democrat, was leading Senator Gore in the vote in the cities. In sixty-three precincts out of the 2,708 in the state the vote was 5 to 1. In the rural districts Gore was expected to gain. Returns on the Republican candidates were too scattered to be indicative.

A compilation by the Daily Oklahoman of unofficial returns from 55 out of 77 counties in the state gave: Farris, 41,200; Gore, 25,807.

Beer Advocate Wins.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 3.—State Senator J. T. Deal of Norfolk was nominated for congress in the Second Virginia district in today's Democratic primaries, defeating W. J. Kendrick of Suffolk by more than 2,000 votes. During the campaign Deal announced that he was in favor of "light wines and beer," while Kendrick advocated strict enforcement of the Volstead act. In 1916, when Virginia voted dry, the Second district returned a majority for prohibition.

CROWD OF 10,000 SEES FUNERAL OF "JIMMIE" CANARY

Newark, N. J., Aug. 3.—A crowd, estimated by the police at 10,000 persons, thronged the streets of the city tonight to see the funeral of Jimmie, the pet canary of Emidio Russomanno, 65 year old cobbler. Police reserves were called out to preserve order and clear the streets for the funeral cortege. Jimmie, described by its owner as possessing "a song as sweet as the voice of Caruso," choked to death Sunday on a watermelon seed.

Leading the procession was a band of twelve pieces, playing funeral dirges, followed by a hearse, bedecked with flowers and carrying a small white coffin in which the bird's body reposed. The old cobbler, in tears, rode in a coach with a few intimate friends.

The cost of the bird's funeral was contributed by the cobbler's friends. When Jimmie died the old cobbler drew the blinds of his shop, hung out a sign "Closed on account of Jimmie's death," put crêpe over his door, and went into deep mourning.

Drowns His Four Children and Then Kills Himself

Little Rock, Ark., Aug. 3.—News was received here tonight that William Crutcher, aged 40, a farmer, threw his four little children into a bayou, drowning them, and then drowned himself.

THINK THEY HAVE REAL KIDNAPER OF COUGHLIN BOY

Hundred State Police Help in Search.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 3.—Postal inspectors who admitted today they arrested a man at Egg Harbor, N. J., yesterday in connection with the kidnaping of the 43 month old child of George H. Coughlin of Norristown, Pa., on June 2, expressed the opinion they had the right man. The prisoner is said to be a foreigner.

Say He Is "The Crank."

Chief Postal Inspector Leonard said he believed the arrest would eventually lead to the recovery of the missing child. The man under detention is declared to be the one who wrote half a dozen letters to the parents of the child, signing them "The Crank," and demanding $12,000.

He is said to have confessed that Coughlin left the money at the designated place, it disappeared, and nothing further was heard from "The Crank" until last week, when the family received a letter making further demands.

A sensational version of the method pursued in capturing the man is published here. According to this version, the supposed "crank," in demanding an additional $10,000, instructed Coughlin to board a certain train for Atlantic City with the money in a box. When he saw a white sheet flying from a tree he was to throw the box out of the car window.

One Hundred Police Search.

The story further relates that more than one hundred Pennsylvania state policemen were ordered on the case. Some of them patrolled the railroad tracks while the remainder left Philadelphia on a special train on Monday five minutes before the scheduled train carrying Coughlin.

When the state police saw the white sheet near Egg Harbor they stopped their train out of sight of the spot and a squad of the men surrounded the place. When the scheduled train came along Coughlin saw the sheet, threw out the box, the supposed "crank" appeared and picked it up and was pounced upon by the state police.

Mr. Ford Is Caught Taking Flivver; Sanity Questioned

Albert Ford of 236 Abbottsford road, Kenilworth, was surprised by the police last night as he was removing a neighbor's flivver. It is the second he has attempted to take, the police say. He is to be sent to a private institution for examination as to his sanity.

BOOZE SEEKERS LOSE $81,000 TO PICKLE MAN

He Gets Roll to Buy Whisky and Flees.

Down at Central station they call it "The Great Pickle Mystery." It's a sad case.

First, Harry Michell's young son, fondly called "Cabbage" by his parents, is heartbroken. Harry is missing. So is $81,000 intrusted to him by a group of friends, who gave it to him thinking he'd furnish whisky in return.

Next, "Sam" Listicky, egg candler, has a lump on his jaw, a piece of beefsteak on his right eye and many dark thoughts in his soul. "Sam" was Harry's friend. He's now in jail.

Harold J. Michelly, 27 years old, owner of the Sunshine Pickle Factory, manufacturers of the famous "Moonshine Pickles," lived with his wife, Anna, and his son, "Cabbage," at 2630 Evergreen avenue—until last night. Harry, the police say, is a bootlegger de luxe.

He Meets Some Live Ones.

About three weeks ago, in the Board of Trade hotel, Harry Michelly met Harry M. Nadel, 843 Sunnyside avenue, former investigator for the late Herman F. Schuettler; Albert Powers living on Rosemont avenue near Broadway, a nephew of Ald. John Powers of the Nineteenth ward, and himself a broker and promoter, and Robert Fabbrini, owner of a saloon at 205 West Van Buren street.

"I've got a friend on the north side who has 850 cases of real bonded stuff—550 of it Sunnybrook—and who wants to get rid of it. Can we made a deal?" said Michelly.

"Why, certainly," the trio responded.

Two weeks ago Michelly called "Sam" Listicky, an intimate friend, 'tis said, of Michelly's wife, Anna, and said:

"Sam, come down to the Morrison hotel. I will make you $2,000. It's a big whisky deal." Sam came.

He was taken to Room 842. He was introduced to Powers, Fabbrini, and Nadel as "Mr. Benjamin Gordon," who owned the whisky. The trio paid "Gordon" $2,500 an initial payment to show good faith. Listicky and Michelly went downstairs. Listicky passed the coin over.

Agree on Price of $81,000.

A week ago they met again—still at the Morrison. Then the total amount—$81,000—was agreed upon. Nadel, Fabbrini and Powers paid "Gordon" another $1,500 and Michelly $1,000, completing the total of $5,000 demanded as "earnest money." And again Michelly got "Gordon's" share.

On Monday night they met again to finish payment. There were, besides the five already mentioned, Henry Hurley and Daniel "Peg Leg" Murphy, co-owners of a saloon at Thirty-seventh and Wallace streets; Frank Fall, saloonkeeper at 4704 South Halsted street, and Eddie Tancel, ex-pugilist and owner of a coffee house at Sixteenth street and Blue Island avenue. The Hurley-Murphy contribution was $31,000. The Fall donation to the pool was $15,000. Tancel turned in $5,000 for his share. The remainder was from smaller fry.

Wraps Money in a Newspaper.

They wrapped the coin in a newspaper and gave it to "Gordon." Outside the hotel the saloonmen had their gangs to transport the booze, which was said to be in a warehouse at 743 North Clark. "Gordon" and Michelly then left to get the keys.

Michelly drove his seven passenger car to the Edgewater Beach hotel.

He entered the hotel. A minute later he came back. "My man's at the Hotel La Salle," he said. They drove to the La Salle. Michelly took the money, left "Gordon" in his car, and said he'd go upstairs and square "his man." He went inside.

Sam Nervous Over Prospect.

An hour later Sam Listicky began to get nervous. His thoughts ran mostly to the husky gangmen and their bosses who waited for the booze.

Then he called Powers, room 2047, Morrison hotel. "Hey, Al——" he said, and told his tale. Ten seconds later there irrupted on Madison street a bevy of angry booze purchasers. A dozen cars drew up at the La Salle. They got poor Sam Listicky, who, weeping, told his tale. And then——

"Dey hit me in de eye and slapped my face," he said. "Dey pushed me on the floor and wiped der feet upon my neck. Dey took me to the hotel an' dey beat me up. An' den dey said dey'd trow me from d' window. O! Yo!! O! Yo!!"

They combed the south and west sides all the night for Harry Michelly. But Harry wasn't found. His pickle business, limousine, wife and his son "Cabbage" still are here, but Harry disappeared.

LATE BULLETINS ON POLISH CRISIS

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—(By Associated Press.)—The occupation of Warsaw by the bolsheviki has been fixed for Aug. 9, says a dispatch to the London Times from Berlin, quoting a wireless dispatch received by the National Zeitung.

The Polish government, the dispatch adds, is taking the necessary measures and has placed the fortifications of the capital under command of French engineer officers, while the defense of Warsaw has been intrusted to the northern army under Gen. Haller.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—(By Associated Press.)—"The Polish northern front," says the National Zeitung, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Times, "has been completely smashed. Russian troops will reach the southeast corner of the Danzig corridor (Poland's outlet to the sea) in a few days, and endanger railway traffic between Warsaw and Danzig, so that the Poles will not be able to count upon the arms and munitions arriving and being unloaded at Danzig."

BULLETIN.

WARSAW, Aug. 3.—(By Associated Press.)—Inside the great battle arc the Poles are hurriedly preparing defenses, particularly trenches and barbed wire entanglements in front of Warsaw.

League Is In Favor of Blockades

BY HENRY WALES.

[By Special Cable.]

[Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.]

SAN SEBASTIAN, Aug. 3.—Freedom of the seas suffered a death blow here this morning in the adoption by the league of nations' council and recommendation to the league assembly at Geneva on Nov. 1 of Sig. Tittoni's report in favor of establishing an international blockade committee and justifying the blockade principle which the United States protested against continually before entering the world war.

The plan admits that the league would be unable to force nonmembers to declare blockades, but provides that league members would be entitled to make any blockade effective by bottling up the ports of nonmembers. Military measures might possibly be necessary, the plan declares, when a large state bordering any recalcitrant state should refuse to break off commercial relations.

A blockade alone, it was said, perhaps would be ineffective as, if Germany should violate the covenant and Russia should refuse to join in a blockade of German ports, then both might be blockaded and, possibly, military action against Russia might be taken.

Switzerland's representation in the league council manifested an objection to the blockade principle on the grounds that Switzerland contemplated neutrality in any eventuality. The plan affords a loophole for the violation of Swiss territory in the event that enemy commerce with or through that nation should not be cut off despite the institution of a blockade.

JAMES B. WALLER DIES SUDDENLY; HEART DISEASE

James Breckenridge Waller, member of a noted Chicago family, died last night in St. Elizabeth's hospital of heart disease shortly after he had been taken to the hospital by his son, James B. Jr., and Dr. Gilbert H. Wynekoop. He had become ill at his home, 1365 Astor street, early in the evening.

Mr. Waller was born in Lexington, Ky., in 1856 and had been a resident of Chicago since 1880. His wife died in May, 1919. At the time of her death she was president of the Fortnightly club. Mr. Waller was in the real estate business here for over 25 years up till two years ago when he retired on the advice of his doctor. It was around the old Waller homestead on the north side that Eugene Field framed his famous poem, "The Ballad of Waller Lot."

Mr. Waller is survived by his son and a daughter, Mrs. John Borden, wife of the Lieut. Col. John Borden, the explorer.

TRIBUNE MAN VISITS REDS' BATTLE LINE

Must Take Poland or Starve.

BY EUGENE SZATTAMARY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

GRAJEV, Poland, Aug. 3.—The Russian Fourth army in two columns is advancing from Bielsk and Bialystok on Mazowieck, carrying with it heavy artillery for a bombardment of Warsaw.

This afternoon I interviewed officers of the Russian bolshevik army. They showed me their orders which directed them to continue along the East Prussian frontier until they were directly north of Warsaw, thus cutting off the Danzig corridor (Poland's outlet to the sea).

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—Herr Szattamary is a German journalist, well known to Berlin, who is representing The Tribune on the East Prussian frontier. This account is the first to reach the world with news of the inside of the Russian army now invading Poland.

The military side of the soviet government has been the most guarded of the bolshevik secrets. No correspondent ever has been permitted before to visit the active army, and the restrictions have been the more intense since the reorganization which wiped out the ruling committees of soldiers and established the army on its old disciplined basis.

Herr Szattamary today writes in Grajevo, a town of 4,000 population, about twenty-five miles southeast of Augustowa, just over the East Prussian frontier, in the Polish republic now under the heel of the Red armies.

BY EUGENE SZATTAMARY.

[Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.]

GRAJEVO, Poland, Aug. 3.—Today we crossed the East Prussian frontier to Grajevo, where we found three regiments of Russian cavalry and front line troops. Now that I have seen both sides, my wonder is increasing how the Russians could have won the war.

Before going across the line I was told by Lithuanian guards that the Russians were an army of beggars, but I did not expect to find Budenny's legendary knights who have blazed the way from the Crimea to Kief and from Kief to Grodno such a ragged, starved, disreputable looking crowd as they are.

One of the cavalrymen was dressed in mufti, while his companion was in a uniform. I saw round hats, bearskin hats (the temperature is about 80 Fahrenheit), derbies and slouch hats, sport clothes, fur coats, and those peculiar caps that the Polish Jews wear.

All Wore Red Star.

I saw one British uniform and seven Polish hats and uniforms on the first few Russians that I met. Surely it was a nondescript lot, but they had one thing in common—the red star insignia of the Red army, which each wore on his blouse or cap.

The men were dirty and ragged, and the small Cossack horses were not groomed, but were caked with the mud of a thousand miles. I saw 200 horses and their riders, but not a one of them was dressed or fitted according to the standard of either side of the war in France. Only rifles and ammunition were in plenty, and one Cossack showed me a Japanese carbine and bullets, and even a knapsack, proud souvenirs of a bolshevik raid in Siberia.

Iron Discipline Prevails.

An iron discipline everywhere prevailed. The officers were well dressed in uniforms. With them was a civilian commissar, who really is superior to the officers and watches them. When the Russians pulled out of Grajevo they requisitioned supplies, but they paid in soviet rubles and did not plunder or confiscate anything. Only one car of flour was broken into.

In looking over the Russian army I cannot understand what has been urging them from victory to victory throughout the last two years. Perhaps, it is their discipline. Perhaps it is fear of starvation, if they do not win. I know the men feel they have to conquer new territory in order to obtain food because there is none at home. That is why I am doubtful if the army will quit conquering when an armistice is signed and word is given to return to Russia.

REDS SEEK MINSK PARLEY

WARSAW, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The breaking off of the negotiations between the Poles and the bolsheviki, out of which it had been hoped would come an armistice and the early cessation of hostilities, was due to a misunderstanding, according to the contention of the Russian soviet authorities in a wireless dispatch received here today.

The latest communication from the soviet suggests that negotiations both for an armistice and for peace be held in Minsk Wednesday. It asks that the Poles send a delegation to Minsk invested with all the necessary credentials to negotiate for peace.

The Poles contend that it will be a physical impossibility for them to comply with this proposal.

While the Polish delegates are retracing their steps bolshevik troops are reported everywhere to be pressing their attacks on the entire battlefront from the East Prussian line on the north to the region adjacent to Lemberg in Galicia on the south.

REDS SEND POLES BACK.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Negotiations for an armistice between Poland and soviet Russia have been delayed, according to a wireless from Moscow. It says the Polish delegation left Baranovitchi for Warsaw on Monday to present to its government the soviet demand that the Polish delegates be given mandates for signing not only an armistice agreement, but also a protocol setting forth fundamental conditions of peace.

"Without this," the message says, "it will be impossible to conclude an armistice."

Soviet for Occupied Poland.

A provisional soviet has been formed for the parts of Poland occupied by soviet troops, according to a wireless from Moscow.

Julian Marchlewski is chairman of the newly formed body.

The new soviet has issued a manifesto to the laborers of Poland which declares that a stable peace between Russia and Poland is possible only through soviets of the workers.

SEEK TO OUTFLANK POLES.

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Special advices received from Marinwerder state that the Russian fourth army, operating near the East Prussian frontier, is continuing its flanking operations to the southwest. Several squadrons of bolshevik cavalry are proceeding along the frontier towards the west. Russians occupying Lomza are massing forces before Ostrolenka, an important railway center on the Narew river.

Soviet army leaders are said to have decreed the death penalty for violations of the German frontier. As a result of this order, the populace shows no alarm.

REDS RUSH REINFORCEMENTS.

WARSAW, Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—At Brest-Litovsk, the last great fortress guarding Warsaw from the east, has fallen before a tremendous assault by the Russian bolsheviki. They have not yet taken the city proper, three miles west of the fortress. North of that place, soviet forces have smashed their way forward in their drive westward to a point only sixty miles east of this city.

On the northern sector, soviet troops are nearing Ostrolensk, sixty-six miles from Warsaw.

Mention of Ostrolensk was the first intimation that the bolsheviki had passed the river Pissa. Ostrlesk is southwest of Lomza.

Americans Leave Warsaw.

It is estimated that already about 120 American women and children have left Warsaw, most of them proceeding to Danzig. Many women welfare workers, however, are still attending to their customary duties.

Word was passed to Americans here, upon advice from Washington, that those desiring to remain in Warsaw, should it appear the bolsheviki would take the capital, would do so at their own risk. It was said the indications were that few, if any, Americans would remain.

LONDON MEETING SEEMS OFF

BY JOHN STEELE.
[By Special Cable.]

LONDON, Aug. 3.—While Great Britain has received no reply from Moscow to proposals for a peace parley with the allies in London, the rebuff of the Polish envoys and the bolshevik statement that there could be no armistice unless peace proposals were offered simultaneously, were taken as a direct reply.

There is no concealment of the fact that Downing street is worried over the Polish situation. Although Great Britain and France are pledged to uphold Polish independence, conditions at present make formal war with Russia almost impossible and make the allies practically powerless to save Poland by force of arms.

The allies' chief hopes are centered in economic negotiations, as it is known that Russia, anxious to resume world trade as soon as possible, realizes that this cannot be until the Polish situation is cleared up and Russia's ministers are received at the allied capitols.

BEATEN BY TWO SOLDIERS IN AID OF GIRL; MAY DIE

George Prentiss, of Oregon, Ill., was attacked by two soldiers from Fort Sheridan last night in a rooming house at 503 North Wells street, while he was defending the woman in charge of the house, Mrs. Cecil Evans, from the soldiers. Prentiss' skull was fractured and he suffered concussion of the brain. The doctors at Passavant hospital say he will die.

The soldiers, George Dressel and Bernard Malley, who, the police say, were intoxicated, attempted to enter the rooming house, but Mrs. Evans refused them admission. They kicked in the door and approached the woman. She cried for help and Prentiss went to her assistance. One of the intruders swung a chair and hit Prentiss on the head.

Mrs. Evans ran to a nearby restaurant and called the police. Policemen Beyer, Shea, and Naughton found the soldiers at the restaurant, where they had followed Mrs. Evans. They had a fight arresting the men. A bystander, Edward J. Kelly, was also arrested. Mrs. Evans is held as a witness.

CHAOS IN RUSSIA IF SOVIETS FALL, FISHER ASSERTS

Chicago Jurist Returns from Redland.

New York, Aug. 3.—[Special.]—"If soviet Russia should fall now, nothing but chaos would result. There is no organized party or system capable of taking over the function of government there. Even the anti-bolshevists recognize this fact and their only hope is to find some basis of compromise."

Such is the manner in which Russian conditions were epitomized today by Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Chicago Municipal court. Judge Fisher, with Max Pine of this city, has just returned from a three months' stay in the heart of soviet Russia, as special commissioners of the joint distribution committee for Jewish war sufferers.

Enforce Iron Discipline.

"Russia today is ruled by the Communist party, composed of 700,000 members. It functions through its executive committee, whose decrees are enforced with iron discipline," he said.

"The peasants, however, who form 85 per cent of the population and are illiterate, exert a large influence on the government at Moscow. They have forced many concessions that are not in accord with the theories of communism.

"There is no freedom of the press. Only the official or communistic press is allowed, and even these newspapers are not sold, but pasted on the walls, where passersby may read them. The excuse of the government is that there is no paper."

Not Fair Test of Soviet System.

Asked whether the soviet system had proved beneficial to Russia, Judge Fisher said: "Russia is virtually under martial law and has not had a day of rest since the revolution. Besides putting down internal troubles, the government has had to defeat Kolchak, Denikine, Yudenitch, and the Poles. Therefore, you can readily understand it has had little time or power to attempt any constructive program. Until it has it would be unfair to judge the system."

Of the relief work accomplished by the two commissioners, he said: "There are about 150,000 Jewish children orphans as a result of pogroms and the government was able to care for only about 10 per cent of them. They were, therefore, willing to enter into an agreement whereby aid could be given.

"We had the pleasure of seeing the first shipment of relief supplies land in Russia just before we left on July 3. It was the first shipment to pass through the blockade.

Women Emancipated.

"Under soviet Russia the Jews are better off politically and morally, but they are worse off economically and culturally."

Judge Fisher said the women of Russia under the soviet system had been completely emancipated. The government fostered marriages and allowed these to take place in churches, but insisted also upon civil ceremony.

Divorce was freely and easily obtained, he said, it being only necessary to appear before the same official who registered marriages and "register out."

Polish War Unites Russia.

Judge Fisher said the offensive inaugurated by the Poles had cemented all factions in Russia and that this had proved to be embarrassing to the bolsheviki. He said Gen. Brussiloff had issued appeals to all Russians to defend "Mother Russia." Brussiloff is a member of the general staff.

The bolsheviki are afraid of this, he said, because they think it might arouse a feeling of national patriotism, which they thought they had succeeded in suppressing.

U. S. SILENT AS SOVIETS' TORCH LIGHTS POLAND

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—With the desperate plight of Poland emphasized in dispatches foreshadowing the imminent fall of Warsaw and telling of the proclamation in Polish districts of a soviet government, the position of the United States toward the swift development of events in Europe today engaged the serious consideration of officials of the government.

Despite reiterated appeals to the United States government by Poland, through its minister, Prince Lubermirski, for extension of moral if not material aid, there has been as yet no disposition shown among officials to reflect a departure of the United States of the neutral position assumed at the beginning of hostilities btewеen Poland and Russia.

SEEKS DEATH AS END TO QUARREL; HER BABY DIES

After Fred Johnson had quarreled with his wife, Lurline, yesterday afternoon he packed a few belongings and with his 4 year old son, Fred, went to the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Hewitt, 2311 South State street.

Then he thought it over and concluded he had been a bit hasty. So he returned to the Johnson flat at 3510 North Rokeby street to tell Lurline he was sorry.

The door was locked. No one answered the bell. He forced entrance. All the gas jets and burners of the kitchen range had been opened. Mrs. Johnson and their 2 year old son, Trenchard, were unconscious in the bedroom.

The pulmotor squad of the fire department worked for an hour and forty-five minutes before Mrs. Johnson regained consciousness. Two hours and five minutes were devoted to Trenchard. But he died.

"I'm so sorry," sobbed the husband, "but that doesn't do any good now."

Chicago Postal Group to Reach Capital Today

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—The delegation of postal employés who are coming from Chicago to appeal to President Wilson against the action of the postmaster general in charging them with "pernicious political activity" will arrive tomorrow morning, and confer at once with Gilbert Hyatt, president of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks.

It will then be decided whether to lay the matter before the president at once or to await the return on Monday of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who is in Atlantic City.

Politician's Son, a Suicide, Beaten in Jail, Is Charge

The inquest into the death of F. M. Breen, alleged burglar who hung himself in the River Forest jail Monday night, was continued for two weeks yesterday. Breen was a son of the late Patrick Breen, a west side politician. Henry Pingle, former fire chief of River Forest, said Policeman Emil Ewanson had told him that Chief of Police Frank A. Laatz of River Forest had beaten Breen in his cell. Both Laatz and Swanson denied this.

HUERTA FOOLING WITH A HOT IRON IN CANTU'S CASE

Perils Loss to Mexico of Lower California.

BY ROWLAND THOMAS.

Mexico City, Mexico, Aug. 3.—[Special.]—The defiance offered the federal government by Gov. Esteban Cantu of the northern district of Lower California will result in no sudden decision or hasty feeling. It is the natural fruition of a movement that has been maturing at least three years.

It is not too much to say that an effective conspiracy exists to bring about the separation of the peninsula from the rest of Mexico. If the government persists in its present announced policy to remove Cantu, it plays into the hands of this group of conspirators, composed of American business men, bankers, and some residents of the district with other homes in the states.

Cantu Intrenched.

A man who knows the situation inside and out said:

"Don't underestimate the strength of Cantu's position. His administration has been such as to make all classes his enthusiastic supporters. He put a lot of money in roads and irrigation projects, opening up a vast acreage. He showed an adaptability to work hand in hand with American business men and residents, so that both he and they made money. The result is that a vast majority of the residents are Cantu men, hotly resentful of the suggestion of his removal.

"He has a little army, well drilled and equipped. To aid them he can count, the moment hostilities open, on as many American filibusters as he chooses to pay for.

His Capital Inaccessible.

"Some time ago he moved his district capital from Ensenaza on the Pacific coast to Mexicali on the border, which makes him all but inaccessible.

"The proposal to get Cantu from the north is untenable because it involves moving the Mexican troops through American territory. Even if Mexico pocketed its pride and asked permission, California would oppose such action to a man. The great canal of the Colorado river irrigation project watering the Imperial valley crosses Cantu territory. It is well understood the instant Mexican troops would enter American soil Cantu would tear out the canal, resulting in the death of hundreds of thousands of fruit trees in the Imperial valley and the total loss of a decade of development work."

Says Cantu Is "Removed."

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 3.—A proclamation pronouncing vacant the governorship of the northern district of Lower California was received here today from Mexico City, according to an announcement by Eduardo Ruiz, representative in Los Angeles of the de facto Mexican government.

FOREIGN NEWS —IN BRIEF—

WILL RECOGNIZE RUSSIA IF REDS PAY OLD DEBTS

PARIS, Aug. 3.—France stands ready to recognize the bolsheviki the moment they assume the international obligations of the former Russian government, Premier Millerand declared today.

In his first interview since the allied conference at Boulogne, the premier thus clearly defined his country's attitude toward the bolsheviki.

"France will recognize the bolshevik government the minute it assumes the international obligations of the former Russian government," he said, "and this includes, first, payment of all debts; second, acceptance of all treaties and observance of all international engagements with the former allies of the imperial Russian government."

GERMANY FEARS WAR

BERLIN, Aug. 3.—With the bolsheviki thundering at Poland's gates, the big issue in Germany today was what attitude the government should take in the tense situation. The Germans seemed determined not to be involved in the war.

Germany would rather remain out of the league of nations altogether than enter it as "the entente constabulary" to be used against Russia, Dr. von Simons, the foreign minister, declared in a speech in the reichstag.

Von Simons warned against Germany getting involved in any action against the bolsheviki which might be seized on by Russia as cause for declaration of war against this country. He also warned the entente against sending troops to Poland for the purpose of holding a plebiscite.

IRISH POLICIES MAY BE ALTERED BY RESIGNATIONS

Last of "Real Rulers" Gives Up Post.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.]

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Today's most significant development in Irish affairs was the announcement of the resignation of Edward Saunderson, who, for many years, has been private secretary to the lord lieutenant. His father, the late Col. Saunderson, was a noted Ulster leader and a bitter enemy of the Irish nationalists' aspirations.

Edward Saunderson and H. Watt, principal secretary to the chief secretary, who also resigned recently, were looked upon as the real rulers of Ireland.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary of Ireland, removed Watt immediately upon taking office and the resignation today of Saunderson is interpreted as a sign that Lloyd George is preparing a more liberal Irish policy. Saunderson advocated the most stern coercion.

Ireland Closed to Prelate.

The government announced today that Archbishop Mannix, the Australian prelate, whose defiant speeches aroused the ire of the British government, will be permitted to land at Liverpool, and his movements thereafter will be practically free from restraint. It was stated, however, that should his actions become "obnoxious" to Downing street the interference of the authorities would be invoked.

He will not, however, be permitted to visit Ireland and he will be shadowed by Scotland Yard detectives to prevent any attempt at a surreptitious trip to the island.

Gaelic League Convenes.

No attempts were made by the government today to interfere with the Gaelic league convention at Dublin, although last year it was stated that attendance would be punished by imprisonment. Delegates from all parts of Ireland were present today, the dispatches said, among them being several for whom warrants have been issued.

Economic War Looms.

Indications of an outbreak of economic war between north and south Ireland are increasing as a result of the expulsion of Catholic workmen from shipyards and other industrial concerns in the north by their Protestant fellow workmen. It is thought in some quarters that this will be the next move to add to the already great embarrassments of the country.

LEAGUE SEEMS POWERLESS TO STEM WARFARE

U. S. Cash and Fighting Men Missed.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Was it because of the inability to call on the United States for an army that the league of nations, dominated by the principal European powers, declined to invoke the processes of the covenant to stop the war between Russia and Poland?

This is a question that is assuming greater importance daily as the league continues impotent to function, as promised by its authors, and as the American people debate the wisdom of assuming the obligations to participate in foreign wars inherent in adhesion to the covenant.

The failure of the league to take cognizance of any of the numerous European and Asiatic wars originating after the end of the war with Germany never has been satisfactorily explained.

Cecil Acted in Vain.

Lord Robert Cecil sought in vain to induce the league council to take steps to stop the Russo-Polish war. It would not even act under that section of the covenant providing for the commercial boycott and blockade of a nation declining to arbitrate. England may have opposed a course involving the possible boycott of Russia, for Lloyd George at that time was negotiating with the bolsheviki for a reopening of commercial intercourse.

Nor was the league council willing to consider the use of force against the nation that refused to accede to pacific settlement of the dispute. It was reported popular sentiment in England, France, and Italy would not tolerate the dispatch of troops or warships to aid the league in stopping the Russo-Polish war.

Yanks Were Wanted.

Whether the league would have been galvanized into action had the United States been a member and therefore subject to a requisition of troops and naval forces is a matter of interesting speculation.

If Earl Curzon, British foreign minister, did not have this precise aspect of the question in mind, he certainly did not hesitate to blame the United States for the impotence of the league in the course of a speech in parliament recently. The text of the debate reached Washington today.

Replying to numerous interpellations concerning the failure of the league to take cognizance of the Russo-Polish and other wars, Earl Curzon said it was useless to deny the painful disappointment we had suffered by the defection of the United States, and it was useless to deny that the work of the league of nations had been crippled by that defection.

Absent at Christening.

"It never entered into the mind of anybody that the country which to a large extent inspired the league would be the first to stand aloof, or that the real sponsor of the league would be absent from the christening ceremony."

He added that no effort had been spared to induce the United States to reverse its attitude. He said the league had not interfered between Poland and Russia because both those countries would have refused its offices.

Lord Parmour observed that unless the league demonstrated its ability to function, it would not be commended to nations less favorably disposed to it than England, which he said must also demonstrate its earnestness.

League's Acid Test.

The acid test of whether the league was to be a reality, he said, "was whether we were prepared to admit that a real league of nations denoted some effective limitation of the principle of national sovereignty."

Viscount Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States, admitted the general disappointment in the failure to popularize the league, which he attributed largely to its secrecy of procedure. He thought the league should have acted to suppress the wars since the peace with Germany. The most important step to restore confidence in the league, he said, was to "bring in the United States," which he was confident would join eventually.

Wants Covenant Revised.

Viscount Haldane said the inability to make the league a reality might account for American indifference, while Lord Sydenham thought America would not join without modification of the covenant and "there could never be a valid league of nations unless America joined it wholeheartedly."

TURKEY SULKS WHILE ALLIES DIVIDE NATION

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

[Copyright: 1920: By the Tribune Company.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 3.—The Turks believe they must foot the bill for the diplomatic spree of the Greeks and Italians over disposition of the Dodecanes islands, and expect the outcome of the scrap will be an allied compromise wherein the Greeks will get Constantinople, more territory in Smyrna, and other concessions.

Reichid Bey, Turkish delegate at Paris, has telegraphed the sublime porte saying that signing has been postponed indefinitely by disagreement among the allies and declaring that this probably means further dismemberment of the Turkish empire. It is understood that the Paris delegates may be recalled.

Greek officials are confident Constantinople eventually will be given to Greece, saying that the city belongs to them anyhow. They are bitter against the Italian attitude on Dodecanes question in the belief that occupation of the islands by Italians is a repetition of he Fiume coup.

ROUND UP CHILEAN REDS.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 3.—The roundup by the authorities of persons alleged to be Bolshevists is continuing. Up to last night more than fifty, most of them foreigners, had been taken into custody.

O-O-O-H B-B-B-O-Y!!!

Right out in Michigan boulevard, where the world may behold and marvel, were the Misses Bernice Cottrell, Lenora Moran, Helena Kaski, Edna De Werth, June Snell, and Frances Kaski, displaying the drapes that make the feminine form a thing of beauty and a joy forever. If you don't think the populace was interested just what would you have done had you been in the vicinity?

Stopping Traffic

NOT even a Clare Briggs has aspired to a solution of the mystery of what a woman thinks about. Therefore, in recounting the style show parade in Michigan avenue yesterday the male critic would have been utterly nonplused to conjecture the mental processes of the 100 models in costumes of $100,000 aggregate value, had it not been for Miss Wanda Lyon.

Miss Lyon, London Hippodrome actress, whose beauty particularly enhanced a fetching creation, kindly consented to enlighten an inquirer anent the foregoing psychic point. Her summary of the mental processes of the 100 models, who tied traffic, both vehicular and pedestrian, in a Gordian knot as they fluttered from the Blackstone to the Congress, was as follows:

"If the Venus de Milo had come to Chicago we'd have knocked her dead."

There is none to gainsay her. The parade was all and more than the modest press agent had augured. Including Miss Dale Kent, in an $18,000 sable coat, as well as the policeman in plain or Sunday clothes, who guarded her, it beggars desdription.

Miss Wanda Lyon was another of the boulevard traffic paralyzers. Youth merrily contemplated the future while age sadly shook its head when Wanda paused. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

GREEKS SCATTER KEMAL'S FORCES INTO MOUNTAINS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—The Nationalist Turkish forces are fleeing into the mountains in Anatolia, according to state department advices from the American legation at Athens. This information is based on a communique issued from the Greek headquarters in the Asia Minor fighting zone.

The communique stated that Greek advanced lines were pressing the largely depleted forces of the Nationalist Turks, under Mustapha Kemal. In their flight, the communique said, the Nationalists are avoiding approach to the villages where Mussulman populations are reported waiting to attack them and "kill them without mercy."

The Greeks pursued the Turks almost to the town of Simav, about sixty miles northeast of Philadelphia (Alashehir). West of Simav the Turks made a show of resistance, but were routed.

Yield to French.

BEIRUT, Syria, Aug. 3.—[Havas.]—The situation in Cilicia has improved considerably. The French troops which recently left Adana won a notable victory at Yenidje, the enemy leaving 400 dead on the field.

The situation in Syria also is excellent, according to various reports. The French have occupied Homshawa (probably Homs, the ancient Emesa, between Damascus and Aleppo), together with the entire railway. Damascus is completely calm, and in general throughout Syria submission by the population to the French authority is reported.

Mesopotamia British Lose 300.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The war office today reports a strong British column on the lower Euphrates was attacked and roughly handled by tribesmen, but succeeded in cutting its way back to Hillah, near the site of ancient Babylon, after sustaining 300 casualties and the loss of one gun and twelve machine guns.

BERLIN ENVOY IN JAPAN.

KOBE, Japan, Aug. 3.—Dr. W. S. Solf, recently named German ambassador to Japan, arrived here today.

FEDERAL BOARD SAYS U. S. MUST BEGIN OIL QUEST

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Belief that the United States must go into the oil business or take steps to prevent other nations from monopolizing the world's oil supply is expressed by the department of commerce in a report to the senate public lands committee, made public tonight by Senator Phelan of California.

"It appears that the British government is definitely going into the oil business," the department's report asserts. "During the war period it acquired two-thirds of the stock of the Anglo-Persian Oil company. This company has an exclusive concession for oil exploitation throughout all of Persia, except the five northern provinces, and has valuable concessions in Mesopotamia and other parts of the world.

"It would seem imperative that our government must take the same course, or, at least, find a way of preventing, so far as possible, the monopoly of future sources of oil supply by foreign countries."

Paris Buys Enough Dollars to Pay U. S. $250,000,000

PARIS, Aug. 3.—The ministry of finance virtually has completed buying sufficient American exchange to meet obligations falling due in the United States Oct. 1. [The Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000, of which the French share is $250,000,000, is due on that date.]

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN —IN BRIEF—

DAYTON, O.—Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, suffrage leader, called on Gov. Cox, urging him to do everything possible to have the Tennessee legislature pass the federal suffrage amendment. The governor is expcted to speak in Chicago in October.

MARION, O.—Harding campaign batteries to start when Democrats lift league of nations into full view.

Reichstag Adopts Amnesty for Kapp Revolutionists

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Pardons will be granted all persons concerned with the Kapp revolution here last March under the terms of the government amnesty bill, adopted by the reichstag today after a long and animated debate. Exceptions will be made, however, in the cases of leaders and those guilty of ordinary criminal offenses, who will be placed on trial.

NEW VICE PRESIDENT FOR BRAZIL.

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 3.—Buneo de Paivia, chairman of the senate finance committee, has been nominated for the vice presidency of Brazil, in succession to Delfin Moreira, who died last month. The election will be held Sept. 5. The nomination, however, is equivalent to an election.

Five Killed in Japan When Aeroplane Falls

[By Special Cable.]

TOKIO, Aug. 3.—Aviators Kirby and Tiffany, the former a British ace during the war, but both Americans by birth, were killed here when, during an exhibition flight, their Handley-Page demonstrating plane fell more than 300 feet into the crowd watching them. Three spectators were killed and several seriously wounded.

British Flyers Safe.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 3.—Two aviators, Parer and McIntosh, arrived safely today at Port Darwin after an adventurous flight from England. They hopped off from Honnslow on Jan. 8, and all the intervening time has been spent repairing damages and overcoming other difficulties encountered during the long flight.

ARMED FLYERS IN PLANE HUNT DARING BANDITS

Held Up Moline Bank; Got $20,000.

Moline, Ill., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Within fifteen minutes after six bandits held up the Commercial Savings bank of Moline, locked two tellers in a vault, and a half dozen patrons in the cashier's office, and escaped in an automobile with $20,000 of the bank's funds, they were being pursued by Lieut. F. C. Brierly and Fred Wallace, from the Wallace aviation field at Bettendorf, Ia.

The holdup occurred just before noon and from that time until dark the airplane, with the occupants heavily armed, patrolled all the roads of Mercer and Warren counties within a radius of 100 miles.

Auto Swoops Down.

Twice during the afternoon the machine swooped down to within 200 feet of the earth when an automobile with men in it was sighted, but each time it proved to be a false alarm.

In addition to robbing the bank, the bandits shot Charles Mohler, a barber, whose shop is across the street from the bank, as he came out of the door to see what the excitement in the bank was about. He was not seriously wounded.

Posses in Autos Pursue.

The bold holdup threw Moline into wild excitement and posses in automobiles immediately started in pursuit of the bandits. Rock Island and Davenport also furnished their quotos of armed hunters for the daring robbers.

The bandits sped through Rock Island at a mile a minute speed and were last seen on the Knoxville road going towards Galesburg. They did not reach that city and it was thought they may have turned and headed for Chicago.

Witness Links Friedrich to Tisza Assassination

BUDAPEST, Aug. 3.—The trial by court martial of the persons under accusation in connection with the murder of Count Stephan Tisza, who was shot and killed in November, 1918, began here today. Lieut. Huttner, one of the defendants, admitted the charges against him. He declared the murder had been prepared by a group of journalists belonging to the Karolyi party, with the connivance of Stephan Friedrich, the former premier, who paid the expenses of the assassination plot, amounting to 150,000 crowns, the witness asserted.

U. S. PROTEST AT JAP INVASION STIRS FAR EAST

Saghalin Occupation Is Called "Temporary."

TOKIO, Aug. 3.—Special dispatches from the United States described the recent conference held at the American state department between Secretary of State Colby; Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador to the United States; Roland Morris, American ambassador to Japan, and Sir Billsby Francis Alstrom, the British minister to China.

At these meetings the general situation in the far east was discussed and the suggestion in some of the dispatches that Great Britain is showing signs of joining the United States in her far eastern policy have served to increase the nervousness here over Japanese-American relations.

"Unbroken Front" Urged.

Leading newspapers devote lengthy editorials to discussion of the situation and generally demand that the Japanese people show an unbroken front. The Nichi Nichi thinks the trouble with Japan's diplomacy lies in the fact that the authorities are "excessively timid and overconsiderate of the feelings of other countries."

They should take resolute action on their own responsibility, the paper says.

The Hochi Shimbun declares the country should not belittle the importance of the American communication regarding Japanese occupation, which the newspaper considers virtually a protest.

"Japan's vacillating diplomacy," it asserts, "has often brought contempt on Japan, particularly with regard to America."

While deprecating rage over the American protest, the Hochi Shimbun says:

Hints at New World War.

"Let us urge no yielding to a protest based merely on a suspicious imagination. We are anxious to see the problems of Japan and America settled amicably, but there is a limit to our patience. If things become unbearable a state of affairs may occur regretable, not only so far as Japanese-American relations are concerned, but for the peace of the world. We hope the authorities will abide by the cause of justice and fear nothing."

The Jiji expresses fear that the congressional inquiry will have the effect of aggravating the anti-Japanese situation in California, and will influence the minds of Americans generally. But the newspaper expects final congressional action will be based on equality and justice.

MOROCCANS KILL SPANISH TROOPS.

MADRID, Aug. 3.—Twenty Spanish soldiers were killed and thirteen wounded, some seriously, near Rhana, in Morocco, July 27 and 31, says an official report. Moroccan tribesmen fled in disorder, leaving many dead.

EXPERT CALLS RATE RAISE BIG HELP TO ROADS.

S. O. Dunn Alters Views on Decision.

The following statement regarding the railway rate decision of the interstate commerce commission was made yesterday by Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age:

"It is my opinion, after having carefully read the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the case, that the rate advances granted will be very helpful to the railways, and that the decision is an encouraging indication that the railway problem of the country can and will be solved under public regulation and private ownership.

"I have been quoted in the press as having criticised the decision and expressed the opinion that the advances granted are much too small. The earlier newspaper dispatches regarding the decision, upon which I based my earlier comments, indicate that the advances granted were smaller than the complete opinion of the commission shows them to be.

"An estimate which has been made by the Bureau of Railway Economics indicates that the increase in freight earnings for the country as a whole will be $1,300,000,000, the average advance in freight rates for the entire country being 35¼ per cent. It estimates the increase in earnings from passenger train service will be $283,000,000. It would appear from this that the total advances in rates will amount to $1,583,000,000.

$100,000,000 Less Than Asked.

"The railways asked the commission to grant them advances in rates which would enable them to earn $1,227,000,000 net operating income annually, or 6 per cent on an estimated property investment of $20,616,600,000. The decision of the commission fixes rates which the commission estimates will yield a net operating income of $1,134,000,000 annually, or 6 per cent on an estimated value of $18,900,000,000.

"Therefore, the net operating income which the commission holds the railways are entitled to earn is approximately $100,000,000 less than that for which they asked. It gives the eastern lines $31,400,000 annually less than they asked for, the southern lines $16,000,000 less, and the western lines about $52,000,000 less.

Expects Revival of Orders.

"The commission by this decision has shown a strong disposition to help put the railways on their feet financially. In spite of the high rates which must now be paid for new capital, the decision should result in an early revival on a substantial scale of orders for materials and equipment to be used in rehabilitating railroad properties and increasing their carrying capacity.

"It must be borne in mind, however, that the new investment which has been made in the railways for some years has been very small, and that in consequence their development is far behind that of the other industries of the country.

Russian Crown Jewels Smuggled to England

LONDON, Aug. 3.—[United News.]—The Evening Standard tonight states that the Russian crown jewels of fabulous value have been smuggled to England by bolsheviki agents who are trying to dispose of the gems in Amsterdam, the United States, and elsewhere.

The article states that the jewels in the hands of the smugglers include the czarist regalia, including crowns and the famous Orloff diamond, which are priceless. Scotland Yard has sent a universal warning to all dealers to watch for the attempted sale of the jewels.

Ryan Sues for $1,000,000 for Ousting by Exchange

New York, Aug. 3.—The recent suspension of trading in shares of Stutz Motor company stock and the expulsion of Allan A. Ryan, chairman of the board of the Stutz company, from the New York stock exchange resulted today in the institution of a $1,000,000 suit by Mr. Ryan against the exchange's board of governors. Service of a summons and complaint was effected upon Arthur Turnbull, a member of the governing committee of the exchange.

Ace of Movie Aviators, Who Fell to Death Trying to Tail-spin 1,000 Feet in Air, His Plane Burning as It Dropped.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 3.—An investigation was started today by the coroner's office into the deaths of Lieut. Ormer J. Locklear and Lieut. Milton Elliott, aviators, whose airplane last night crashed to the ground in the Hollywood section without having righted from a tail spin started at a height of 1,000 feet.

The accident came during an exhibition for a motion picture production. Spectators said Locklear attempted to right the machine at a height of 200 feet but failed and that the machine burst into flames at the same time.

They said it appeared to them the plane was ignited by a rocket which had been dropped from the plane.

The lieutenants were in the United States aviation service during the war and for a time were stationed together at Fort Worth, Texas. Locklear, who was 27, left a widow.

BREAKS OUT AND IN JAIL BUT COPS NEVER KNOW IT

Waukegan, Ill., Aug. 3.—William Cross, who was arrested by the Waukegan police for alleged disorderly conduct at his home, broke out of jail last night, went home, got a pair of trousers and climbed back into his cell at the police station. The police didn't know a thing about it until today when Mrs. Cross arrived at the station to appear against her husband.

"What did you let that fellow out of jail for last night?" Mrs. Cross demanded. "He came prowling about my house at midnight asking for his pants."

Cross escaped through a trap door and returned via the same route when the desk sergeant was looking in the opposite direction. He was fined $7.40, but had no money. So, because of his "trustworthiness," he was released to go out and scout around for a few frog skins.

New York Democrats Seek State Office for Woman

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Miss Harriet May Mills of Syracuse, one of the pioneers in the fight for woman suffrage, will be the Democratic nominee for secretary of state. She will be unopposed at the "unofficial" state conference, meeting here.

"And she's going to be elected," said one woman enthusiast tonight. "Miss Mills can go ahead and build up a powerful machine and maybe she'll be the Democratic candidate for governor two years from now."

Highwaymen Rob Jeweler, Escape in His Motor

Two Negro highwaymen, described as "more than six feet tall and savage looking," held up H. F. Finkelstein, a jeweler, and a companion, J. Singer, an insurance agent, early yesterday morning and robbed them of $2,400 worth of jewelry and $700 in currency. The robbery occurred as Finkelstein, who lives at 1330 South Union avenue, was putting his motor car in a garage at 647 West Roosevelt road. The men stole the machine.

DO NEW FREIGHT RATES ADD $1 A DAY TO H. C. L.?

Statistical Experts and Railroads Disagree.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Both freight and passenger rate increases will be made effective Aug. 26. The railway executives decided today that new tariffs could not be completed in time to make the passenger rates effective Aug. 20 and the freight rate Aug. 25, as tentatively decided yesterday.

The new tariffs will be filed by Aug. 21, according to the present plan, five days' notice being necessary under the interstate commerce commission's decision.

The railway executives decided to ask the Canadian railway authorities to apply the same basis of increases approved by the interstate commerce commission to join the rates from the United States to Canada.

Increased freight and passenger rates will mean the adding of more than $1 per day to the cost of living of the average American family, according to the statistical experts. This figure is based on the rule laid down by Walker D. Hines, former director general of railroads, that to add 5 cents to the freight rate means an addition of 25 cents to the cost of the commodities which move by freight.

Multiplying the estimated additional revenue by five and making a reduction for passenger traffic, it is figured that the per capita cost of the increases will be close to $73 per year. On the basis of the average family of five persons the cost of each family would be $365 per year, or $1 per day.

Glenn E. Plumb, attorney for labor organizations, agrees with Mr. Hines' theory that the rate increase will be multiplied several times in the cost of living. Mr. Plumb said today that the increased cost of living would much more than offset the increase in wages.

On the other hand, A. P. Thom, general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives, argued that better transportation and a higher rate of production would result in lower prices.

SUBURBAN ROADS' PLANS

Whether Chicago railroads will seek to obtain an increase of 20 per cent in suburban commutation rates from the state public utilities commission or endeavor to apply the recent decision of the interstate commerce commission in raising the fares is a question which developed yesterday.

Edward Chambers, vice president of the Santa Fé lines and head of the rate committee of the western railroads, is in Washington to seek permission to boost the commutation and intrastate passenger rates. He is using as his instrument, it was learned, the Esch-Cummings bill, which provides that state bodies cannot set rates which would be a disadvantage to carriers operating under the regulations of the interstate commerce commission.

To offset a delay a schedule will be filed by the Illinois Central railroad with the utilities board this week. According to Charles H. Markham, president, the request will be for permission to increase the commutation rates 20 per cent.

"We are working on the schedule now," Mr. Markham said, "and expect to have it ready for filing in a few days. The general increase asked will be 20 per cent. There will be some variation, but the exact amounts have not yet been determined."

RATES INCREASE NOT ALL VELVET FOR ROADS, MEN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Increased revenues, officially estimated at $100,000,000 annually, will accrue to the government as a result of the advance in railroad rates. The added income, officials said tonight, would be derived from increased transportation taxes—which are paid by the public—as well as through operation of the income and excise provisions of the revenue laws. Officials of the bureau of internal revenue calculate that the additional taxes will aggregate $38,650,000 on freight, $18,700,000 on passenger, and $3,500,000 on Pullman charges.

Railroad executives expect many of the carriers to earn sufficiently large returns under the new rates to compel the payment of income taxes for the first time since pre-war days. It is from this source that the treasury expects to obtain a large portion of the remaining $40,000,000 of their $100,000,000 estimate. Officials place the amount from income taxes conservatively at $30,000,000 a year.

The wage award itself of $600,000,000 a year also will produce returns to the government, for it places the railroad employes within jurisdiction of the income tax laws. The railroad army numbers more than 2,000,000 persons. From these officials believed the taxes would aggregate $10,000,000 or more.

Uncle Sam Cuts Public Debt 76 Millions in July

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—The gross national debt was reduced by a total of $76,404,453 during July, according to the treasury statement today. This leaves the public debt at $24,222,917,013. The reduction was accomplished through the retirement of that amount of treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Liberty Bonds

"The decline in Liberty Bond prices, although a great hardship to holders who have been forced to sell, will be beneficial in lowering quotations to an investment basis which will insure public absorption. Much of the selling has come from corporations and large interests which bid for immense blocks at the time of the war and which have found it less costly to sacrifice their holdings than to pay the current rates asked for new credit accommodation. With nearly $30,000,000,000 par value of these bonds outstanding, they have been used almost as freely as currency for the payment of debts by the immense body of small investors, who never before knew what it was to own a bond. There has been large distribution also in the form of dividends by corporations, many of which distributed Liberty Bonds instead of cash at the time of the war. In the light of what has happened, it is easy to see that instead of financing the huge war outlays with 4 to 4½ per cent bonds, the government really sold its war issues at a price so far below the market as to force a rapid decline as soon as the process of shifting these holdings from the hands of temporary to permanent investors was attempted."

STORM AWAITS TALK OF MAYOR IN BLANDINSVILLE

Legion Up in Arms Over His Appearance.

Mayor Thompson is scheduled to make the first speech of his downstate campaign for the Thompson-Lundin state candidates tomorrow at Blandinsville, in McDonough county, and a storm is brewing as a result.

Officers and members of the American Legion in McDonough and the neighboring counties have taken the invitation extended to the mayor to the Blandinsville farmers' picnic as a personal insult to them. The feeling of the Legion members is expressed in an open letter sent out by Dr. G. W. Clark of Roseville, Warren county, president of the Association of Legion posts in the Fourteenth congressional district.

Legion Man's Appeal.

In this letter Dr. Clark says:

"A few days ago bills were distributed through this community advertising William Hale Thompson of Chicago as the principal attraction at the annual farmers' picnic at Blandinsville and stating that he received more free advertising than any ten other men in Illinois.

"It is to be regretted that the committee in charge should have been so nearsighted regarding the loyalty of this section of the state as to invite as speaker a man whose utterances were widely quoted in enemy alien papers as propaganda; a man who opposed the draft, who disapproved the sending abroad of food, who refused to invite the allied war missions to visit Chicago and referred to Chicago as 'the sixth largest German city in the world.'

"It is no doubt true that Mr. Thompson receives more free advertising than any ten men in Illinois, but it is of a kind such as no patriotic American wants. It is to be hoped that all ex-soldiers and patriotic Americans will repudiate the action of the Blandinsville committee by staying at home."

In Bushnell, in the same county as Blandinsville, all advertising for the picnic has been removed from shop windows at the request of the local post of the American Legion. The Bushnell Record comments on the explanation of the Blandinsville committee that Thompson was invited because he was so widely advertised that he would draw a crowd as follows:

"We are properly shocked at this plan of Blandinsville. But then, on second thought, didn't we send down to St. Louis to have the Anheuser-Busch people send their ox team to our horse show.

"In the olden days a balloon ascension was the big attraction and people fell for hot air performances and the ex-kaiser on the vaudeville stage would have drawn millions to see him."

The Thompson-Lundin candidates continued their tour of the state yesterday, visiting St. Charles and Batavia during the day and speaking in the evening at Aurora.

Democrats will open their national campaign in Chicago a week from today when Franklin D. Roosevelt, vice presidential nominee will speak. News of the early opening was a surprise to local Democrats. The first intimation they had of it was when George E. Brennan received a telegram from Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the national speakers' bureau telling him that Mr. Roosevelt would be here on Aug. 11 and asking him to arrange for a meeting. Mr. Brennan immediately conferred with county leaders and the hall for the meeting will be announced later.

Bushnell Takes His Curls Down.

Democrats to Open for Roosevelt.

Senator John Dailey of Peoria visited Springfield yesterday and branded as false the story published recently that he is for Len Small for governor.

"I am for John Oglesby for governor and you may tell the world that," declared Senator Dailey.

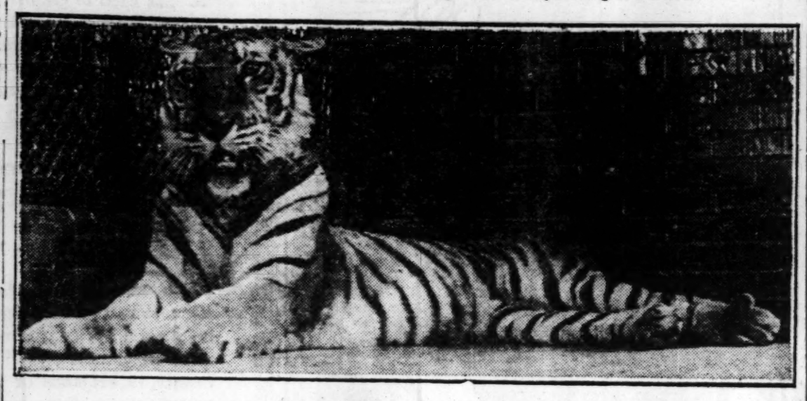
The senator spent some time in conference with Senator Clarence F. Buck, manager of the Oglesby campaign.

The following primary petitions were filed yesterday in the office of Secretary of State Emmerson:

Congress—First district, Dr. W. A. Blackwell, Chicago, Republican; Eleventh district, Ulysses S. G. Blakely, Plainfield, Republican; Sixth district, Francis W. Peterson, La Grange, Republican.

WE WANTA GO HOME!

Here is Mrs. Bengal, who has just taken up light housekeeping in the Lincoln park zoo. She has just asked the janitor if there are children in the building and if the plumbing is modern.



And here is Old Man Bengal (and not so old at that), quick to adopt the traditions of the head of the house by taking things easy.

The New Family

A young lady tiger and her gentleman friend arrived in Chicago yesterday after a three months' trip from the Bengal jungles of India. They have taken up their abode in the Lion house, an exclusive hostelry under the management of Alfred E. Parker, director of the Lincoln park zoo.

When interviewed yesterday the young lady, who was clad in a very chic coat of tawn and black stripes, refused to give her name.

"Meaow-ow-ow," was all she would say when pressed for a statement.

Mr. Parker asserted that the newcomer is 2 years old, while her companion is 3.

Exploding Tire Fractures Skull of Chicago Chauffeur

Traverse City, Mich., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Fred Grobe, 25, chauffeur for E. H. Uhl of Chicago, Ill., suffered a fractured skull last night when he pumped a tire too full of air and it exploded, forcing off the metal band that held it to the rim. The band struck Grobe in the head.

SEIZE MOONSHINERS.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—A whisky still containing ten gallons of whisky and 500 pounds of prunes, raisins, and currants was brought into the county jail today. Also Walter Gill and Tony Ahonchrewicz appeared with Sheriff Anstiss and his assistants. The still was conducted on Gill's farm near Holmsville, it is charged.

WANTED: AN IDEA. HOW'S THE THINK TANK THIS A. M.?

There's Still Chance for Your Snappy Slogan.

THE TRIBUNE will pay $110 in prizes for the best campaign slogan of twelve words or less, favoring either Cox or Harding.

The first prize for Harding slogans will be $25, and there will be three other $10 prizes for Harding adherents.

The awards to backers of Cox will be similar. The Harding managers have announced they will blazon a short slogan over the country. The Cox managers are expected to do likewise. Send your slogan to the Slogan Editor, THE TRIBUNE.

And still they come!

The southeast corner of Madison and Dearborn streets continues to be the rendezvous of all the prospective war cries for the fall political campaigns. Enough slogans to fill several elephant trunks and choke a herd of mules arrived yesterday. And all of them were just begging to be yelled. Yes, indeed. B. L. T.'s daily mail reads like a quarterly report compared to the letters addressed to the slogan editor.

Gather 'round, you Harding fans, and wrap your tougues about these samples of the sloger's art:

"America first!

Green Bay Is Heard From.

Rather rough on Armenia, but Nellie M. Goodhue, who wrote these lines up in Green Bay, Wis., is more concerned about her own country at present.

"No X in the name of Harding!"
"America for Americans; to hell with the league!"
"Vote for Harding and avoid Heartaches!"
"Home rule for America!"
"A Harding vote gets a bolshevik goat!"
"The Republicans never allowed the flag to be insulted."
"Hand the flag to Harding."
"While the president runs the earth, the country runs wild."
"A steady hand for a restless age."

From the Cox Partisans.

Despite the inpouring of G. O. P. slogans, Mr. Cox of Ohio was not overlooked. It seems that several persons intend to vote for him next November.

Sol Oppenheim of Rockford, for instance, looks to the Democrats to slay old man Hi Cost.

"Cox—and two bit sox," he sloges, using a purple typewriter ribbon to do it with.

A few more war cries for the mule follow:

"Meet Jimmy Cox, Ohio's son;
"He'll cinch the peace that our boys won!"
"A good governor will make a good president. Ask Ohio."
"Cox—America's safe deposit box."
"Bet my shoes,
Also sox;
Fellow can't lose
Bettin' on Cox."
"Let's call for Cox through the ballot box."

Eighteen Chances to Win.

Some slogan writers are prolific fellows. They send in a whole batch at once. C. W. Stewart of 2619 Hampden court submitted no less than eighteen, all for a 2 cent stamp. Where are yours?

BELGIUM TO AID FRANCE DEFENSE IN FUTURE WARS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—General terms of the defensive military alliance between France and Belgium, as drawn up by Marshal Foch and the Belgian chief of staff were received here today.

Military support of France by Belgium in future armed conflicts is pledged upon condition that France prove not to have been the aggressor. Belgium also reserves the right to remain neutral in all disputes between the interests of France and other nations in France's colonial possessions. Details as to France's pledge to Belgium have not yet been received.

The alliance is to endure for from five to fifteen years. The terms will be submitted to the league of nations for approval.

Attempts of Belgium to induce Great Britain to join with France in the defensive alliance have so far been in vain. The unresponsiveness of the British government was attributed to disapproval of the precipitateness of Belgium in extending with France the occupation of Germany in April without first having obtained the sanction of the supreme council.

A defensive alliance between Lithuania, Finland, Esthonia, and Letvia will be considered at a conference of representatives of the four Baltic states at Riga shortly.

PHYSICIAN IN KITTREDGE CASE IGNORED BY JURY

The August grand jury is to investigate the dropping of the murder charge against Ben W. Kittredge, Evanston millionaire. Judge Robert E. Crowe so directed when they were sworn in. As they will not reconvene for three weeks, Mitchell Kagan, whose 17 year old son was killed by Kittredge's $8,000 automobile, started to investigate on his own account.

Yesterday it was learned that Dr. T. M. Leahy, ambulance surgeon at the Chicago avenue police station, was not called as a witness at the hearing which exonerated Kittredge. Dr. Leahy had made an examination of Kittredge on the night of his arrest.

Intoxicated, Doctor Says.

A copy of his report is as follows:

"July 25, 1920, 10:10 p. m.

"Ben Kittredge, age 34, married, student, American. At 28th Prect. Diagnosis: Acute Alcoholism. Held prisoner. No treatment. Prognosis: Good. Probable disability, one day.

DR. T. M. LEAHY."

A copy of the accident report made by the police on the death of Frank Kagan contains the following:

"While crossing Clark street at Erie street, was struck and killed by southbound automobile No. 108284, owned and driven by Ben W. Kittredge, 2528 Sheridan road, Evanston, Ill., who was intoxicated, drove away at high speed, and was caught at Lake Shore drive and Ohio street."

The coroner's jury held Kittredge for murder in $25,000 bonds. The grand jury voted a "no bill." A letter signed by the father of the dead boy saying he had received $10,000 from Kittredge and refused to prosecute was given as the reason. He wrote to State's Attorney Hoyne asking that the case be reopened.

Coroner Peter M. Hoffman had termed the Kittredge case the most flagrant that had ever been handled by his office. His records show that nearly 300 persons were killed by automobiles this year. Twenty-two men were held to the grand jury for manslaughter or murder as a result of these deaths.

Of the twenty-two cases "no bills" were returned on eleven. Indictments were returned against eight, of which three were later stricken off the docket, leaving five. None of the five has been pushed. The charges against three have never been heard by a grand jury.

All 7½ cent tickets now outstanding will be accepted until 12:01 next Monday morning, the elevated railroads announced last night. No more of these tickets will be sold, however.

MISS WOODS AND SHAYNE CLEARED IN LOFTIS DEATH

Roy M. Shayne and his fiancé, Miss Ruth Woods, were exonerated by a coroner's jury yesterday afternoon of any criminal connection with the tragic death of Samuel T. A. Loftis, wealthy diamond broker, Friday evening.

The verdict returned by the jury gave as the cause of Loftis' death injuries suffered from "a violent fall on the floor of his apartment after hitting against a door."

Miss Woods was immediately released from police custody. Shayne had been liberated two days previously.

The greater part of the inquest session yesterday was devoted to Miss Woods' story of her visit to Loftis' north side apartment Friday afternoon, his conduct toward her, and the series of melodramatic circumstances which immediately preceded his death. During this recital Miss Woods fainted twice on the witness stand.

The only other witness heard was Miss Hulda Johnson, housekeeper of the Loftis apartment. She detailed Loftis' life during the four years she was employed by him, telling of many "drunken orgies" in which he had participated. She also brought to light a police raid of a year ago on the Loftis' home.

The coroner's jury deliberated but half an hour before returning a verdict.

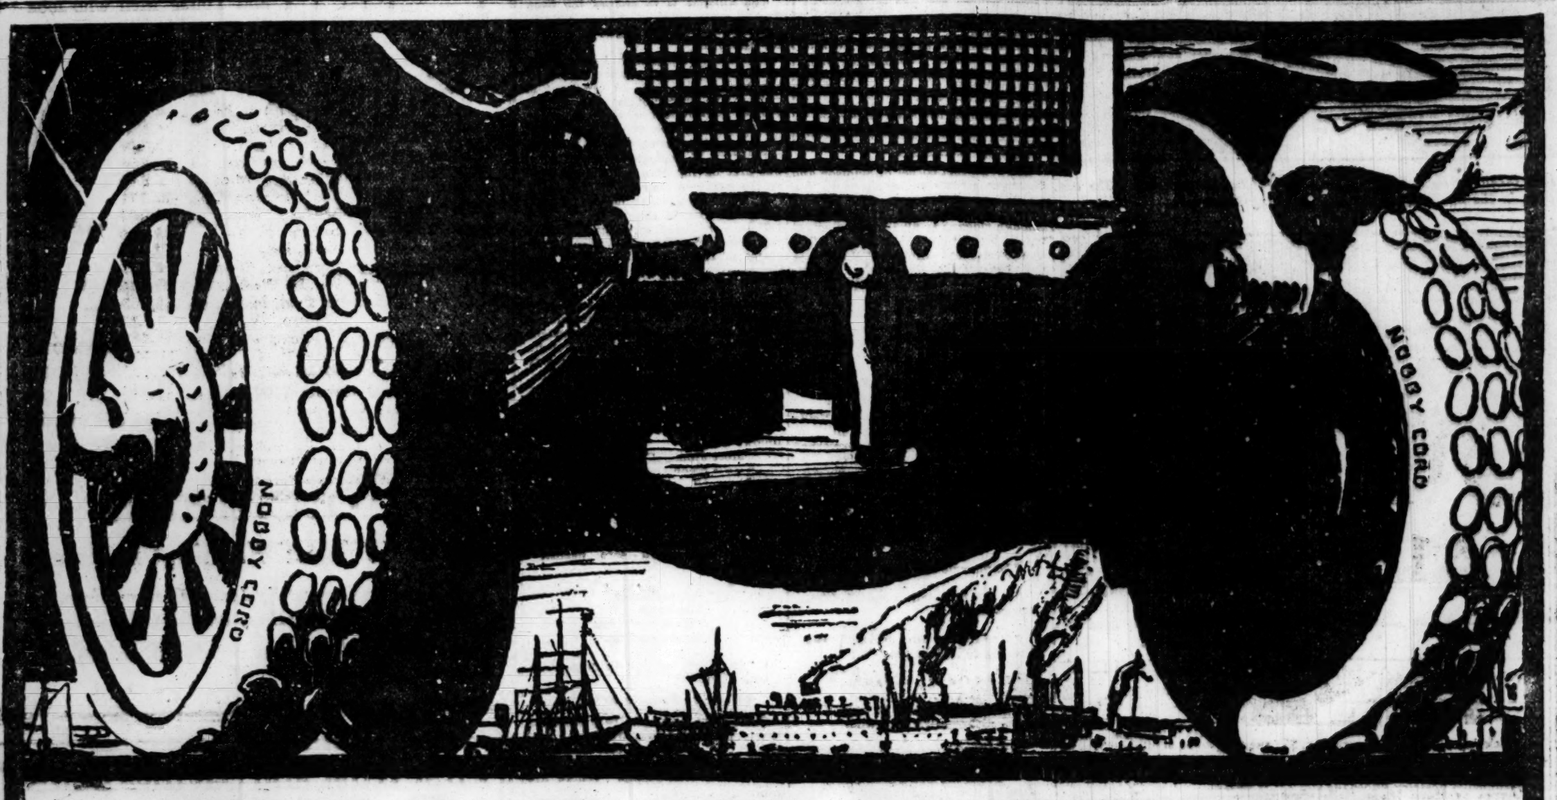
"Wolf" Menske, believed by the police to have been the man picked up by Herman Wexler, Miss Woods' taxicab driver on her wild midnight ride through the west side badlands, was arrested yesterday. After questioning, however, he was turned loose. He was not called as a witness at the inquest and no explanation was made for his liberation.

LIST OF CHEATING BREWERS IS SENT TO WASHINGTON

A list of Chicago brewers who have violated the prohibition law by making beer with an alcoholic content greater than one-half of 1 per cent were forwarded to Washington yesterday by Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, district enforcement officer. The major refused to give out the names, but said the action was the result of two weeks' investigation, in which samples of beer from every brewery in Chicago were taken.

"Thousands of dollars in civil taxes will be collected from the owners of these breweries," Mr. Dalrymple said. "In one case, where a large amount of beer was seized, taxes amounting to $30,000 were levied against the firm."

Hundreds of the samples contained from 1 to 2¾ per cent alcohol, the major said.



WHO PAYS FOR PNEUMATIC TRUCK TIRE EXPERIMENTS

WHEN an automobile owner's tire goes back on him he more or less cheerfully charges it off as a personal loss and tries to do better next time.

It is different with the motor truck owner.

Every tire must do exactly what is expected of it or be charged against his business.

Experimenting with tires is not the job of the truck owner.

The United States Rubber Company spent two years in developing the idea of putting a heavy truck on air before it brought out the first pneumatic truck tires. Even then it was not satisfied.

Even at that time it saw that you could not take an ordinary passenger car tire, enlarge it and make it do what truck owners expect of their tires.

It went back again to first principles—to the foundation—to the bead of the tire.

The car owner who seeks United States standards in tubes is well paid in more mileage for his tires. U. S. Red Tubes. U. S. Gray Tubes.

It created a new type of bead construction, positively anchoring the cords. It put in the right number of breaker strips, stronger side walls, a heavier tread.

The result was a pneumatic truck tire—not an enlarged passenger car tire. Created to fill a need—not padded and bolstered up to fill a market already created.

There are still some sizes of U. S. Nobby Cord Tires you cannot buy. The market is there, waiting for them.

But they will not be released until this company is satisfied that they will do what truck owners expect of them.

The United States Rubber Company has never asked truck owners to pay for its tire experiments.

BORAH, JOHNSON, HARDING'S MEN AGAINST LEAGUE

G. O. P. to Renew Attack on Wilson Issue.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Republican campaign strategy was discussed by Senator Warren G. Harding today with Harry M. Daugherty, member of the executive committee, and Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, head of the speakers' bureau.

Both visitors commented cheerfully on the split in the Democratic party over the Democratic candidate's visit to the White House and the exact place in the Democratic galaxy of issues the league of nations is to occupy.

Harding Dates Undecided.

Senator Harding's speaking dates outside Marion have not been decided. Just how far he will wander from the front porch will be one of the questions taken up at a meeting of party leaders in New York Thursday.

Mr. Daugherty will go there to meet Senator Weeks and others. Senators Johnson and Borah will take the stump, Mr. New said.

Just what disposition to make of Gov. Coolidge had not been decided. The party leaders who went to Northampton were much impressed, and he may be brought into the west.

Increased railroad rates and practical difficulties of bringing big groups here at regular intervals appear to make it increasingly necessary for him to go out from Marion more frequently than was at first proposed.

Quarrel's Flying Start.

Mr. Daugherty, in commenting on the difficulty in which Gov. Cox finds himself, said:

"The quarrel over control of the Democratic campaign has broken out even earlier than most people expected. The other day George White, national chairman, announced in Washington that the league of nations issue was to be sidetracked and 'progressivism' pushed to the front by the Democrats. Today I read that Gov. Cox's friends declared Mr. White was mistaken. In short, Mr. White already is repudiated by his chief, Gov. Cox, and will not be permitted to make any more policy announcements.

"It's a wide open secret that Gov. Cox's visit to Washington divided his party at the very beginning of the campaign, and that half the Democrats who assisted in nominating him are mad all through. Now we find the candidate and his campaign manager sharply divided as to the issues. It's a fine kettle of fish, but as to us Republicans—we should worry."

T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, president of the International Longshoremen's association since 1908, was one of Senator Harding's visitors today. O'Connor, a former Democrat, said:

"It seems plain to me that labor must support the Republican party this year."

MOTHER AND GIRL GO TO RECOVER $20,000 GEMS STOLEN BY BOY

[Photo Copyright by Moffett.]

Mrs. E. Olive Crone and her daughter, Miss Hazel Crone, fashionable modistes in the Stevens building, will depart today for Independence, Ia., with Detective Sergeant Kane of the South Clark street station, to recover a portion of the jewelry valued at $20,000 stolen from their room in the Auditorium hotel on the night of July 27.

The police learned that P. J. Golden, an employé of the hotel linen room, had left the city a short time after the robbery. Through letters found in his room they discovered the youth had corresponded with a girl in Independence and the police there were notified to arrest him. He was taken into custody yesterday and some of the missing jewels are said to have been found in his possession.

DANVILLE PLANS MILITARY BURIAL FOR COL. REDDEN

Danville, Ill., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Plans for the reception of the body of Lieut. Col. Curtis G. Redden, who died overseas, are completed, it was announced tonight. The body is expected to arrive at 2:30 a. m. tomorrow. The services will be attended by friends from Chicago and other points in the state, as well as delegations from American Legion posts of this section. A military funeral is planned.

Promoter of $125,000 "Get Rich Quick" Scheme Taken

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 3.—Milton A. Dodge, claiming no permanent address, was arrested today on charges of obtaining money by false pretenses in connection with transactions said to involve losses of $125,000 to investors.

WOMEN ASK AID OF GOV. COX TO WIN TENNESSEE

BY ROBERT B. SMITH.

Dayton, O., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Ratification of the women's suffrage amendment in time to permit women to vote in the November presidential election is out of the question, unless Gov. Cox and Senator Harding, the two major party nominees, go to its aid with stronger measures than they have yet applied.

This message was brought to Gov. Cox today by Mrs. Abby Scott Baker, political chairman of the Women's National Party, after a survey of the suffrage prospects in Tennessee and North Carolina, where the legislatures are soon to meet to act on the amendment.

MRS. ABBY SCOTT BAKER.

The suffrage leaders would like to have the governor go to Tennessee personally about the time of the meeting of the Tennessee legislature and make a direct appeal. It is doubtful whether Mr. Cox will do this.

Mrs. Baker is planning to go to Marion tomorrow to urge Senator Harding to exert more pressure upon the Republican members of the Tennesse legislature to ratify the amendment.

Gov. Cox is planning to address a big Democratic rally in Chicago early in October; he accepted an invitation extended by Charles R. Latham of Chicago, to address the Chicago Association of Commerce shortly after Oct. 1, provided that such a date would not conflict with any engagements made by the speakers' bureau.

RABBIT'S FOOT SENT GOV. COX AS AID IN PRESIDENTIAL RACE

Dayton, O., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Good luck tokens are pouring in on Gov. Cox. He got three which especially pleased him today.

One was a featherweight horseshoe worn by Lou Dillon when she established the world's trotting record for a mile in two minutes flat at Readville, Mass., Aug. 24, 1903. It came from W. H. Goher of Hartford, Conn., secretary of the National Trotting association. It is intended to symbolize a fast campaign.

Another good luck harbinger was the left hind foot of a rabbit killed at midnight in a graveyard. It was handsomely mounted with gold. It came from D. L. West of Waco, Tex.

Commodore E. C. Benedict, the Col. House of the Cleveland administration, sent the governor a gold mounted telegraph instrument over which both Cleveland and Wilson have received the news of their election.

N. Y. DEMOCRATS FOR SMITH AGAIN AS GOVERNOR

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith was unanimously acclaimed as the candidate for renomination by the unofficial Democratic state convention tonight. Although convention leaders had decreed that there should be no designation of candidates, a roll call of the counties for an expression of opinion tonight brought "Alfred E. Smith" as the only response.

GOV. A. E. SMITH.
[U. & U. Copyright.]

When Schenectady county was reached Mayor George R. Lunn offered a motion that the convention refrain from such action, but it was lost, 434 to 16. Gov. Smith's name was formally placed before the convention by former Gov. Glynn, who responded for Albany.

Tomorrow the convention will adopt a platform and call the roll of counties for an expression of opinion regarding the balance of the state ticket and United States senator.

The prohibition plank in the platform will contain a condemnation of the saloon and a declaration for the amendment of the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of beverages of an alcoholic content small enough to be considered nonintoxicating, it was said upon good authority tonight.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFENDS ITSELF.

The conviction of William Bross Lloyd and his nineteen co-defendants on charges of sedition is a logical result of the law of self-defense applied to government. Any effort to make of it a crown of thorns upon the brows of martyred apostles of free speech would be absurd.

Our government and its laws, whether good or bad, are the product of popular demand and popular effort. Among other things they provide for their own orderly reorganization. At the same time they provide against disorderly reorganization. They are as good as we make them. Good or bad, they are representative of our national thought.

The laws, therefore, prove that it is contrary to the popular desire that any man or group of men should conspire to overthrow or advocate the overthrow of the government by force. The defendants in this case are proved to have advocated such use of force. They struck at the foundation of our government and the government in self-defense has decided to punish them by fines and prison sentences. There is no martyrdom in that—nothing but justice. They believed they might prove stronger than the government, and played their game along that line. They lost.

In the normal course of political events a group may oppose government at the polls and stand a chance to win. If it loses it loses only its time, effort and money expended. If it wins its obtains power to conduct the government as it sees fit, by orderly alteration of law and subsequent execution of it.

In the present case, however, the group involved played for a larger stake. They advocated revolution by force. If they were successful they stood to win the dictatorship of a new government which would destroy the foundations of our present society, eliminating religious freedom, and leaving the group supreme. If they lost they stood to lose their lives or their liberty. They lost. That is fair enough.

PANCHO SETTLES DOWN.

The settlement Mexico has made with Pancho Villa ought to be a satisfactory one to him. He is a commander of rurales in Chihuahua, which ought to give him control of the state, and probably will. His men get a year's pay and he gets a government allowance.

It is a familiar method of dealing with a man who is powerful enough to make trouble. Chicagoans can remember when Carter Harrison made Mike Kenna be a good Indian on the traction ordinance, when good Indians were badly needed, and gave him the First ward in exchange.

Villa is the Hinky Dink of Chihuahua now. He has a number of important perquisites, including probably the smuggling privileges, and in exchange he is supposed to run other bandits out of Chihuahua and keep them out and keep himself fairly in order.

That is one way of getting peace in a state, and while it lacks a good deal of being satisfactory to the United States it may produce order. It is the policy the United States would follow in Mexico if it used good sense. If it went into Mexico it would make the strongest bad Mexicans be good and keep the others good.

MANSLAUGHTER BY MOTOR.

Steps taken to reopen the case of Ben W. Kittredge, wealthy resident of Evanston who was freed by the grand jury after being charged by a coroner's jury with the killing of Frank Kagan, give some hope that automobile killings are not to be brushed aside so lightly as they have been in the past.

The steadily increasing toll of automobile deaths is beginning to make the problem a personal one with every resident of the community. For that reason, if no other, the assumption that the results of any automobile accident are solely a matter for settlement between the individuals concerned is a fallacy. Frank Kagan is dead, but walking the street today is another man or boy who will be killed tomorrow or next week or next month. To such potential victims the case is still open: Their only interest is in so curbing reckless motorists that the death rate will be reduced.

Kittredge was released after paying $10,000 to the father of his victim. That might settle the civil claims of the father, but it fails to settle the claim of the community for protection. If anything, it aggravates that claim. It tends to give wealthy speeders an advantage over the ordinary driver of a flivver.

Evidence before the coroner's jury was conclusive that Kittredge was driving in Clark street at a speed of at least forty miles per hour when his car killed the Kagan boy. Witnesses were unanimous that he was under the influence of liquor, and that instead of trying to help his victim he made every effort to escape. Still he has been released without trial. That is wrong. If he is innocent he should be acquitted, but certainly the case should not be dropped for the payment of $10,000.

Prosecutions of reckless drivers have been altogether too few. In many cases which did not attain the publicity of the Kittredge case the pressure of public opinion was naturally less, but it is as much the duty of the state's attorney's office to prosecute such cases as it is to prosecute a case of manslaughter with any other weapon. Until cases of manslaughter with automobiles are prosecuted and the guilty punished, they will continue to grow in number.

The refusal of an Evanston police magistrate to release a motorist brought before him for driving while intoxicated until the prisoner sobered up is no punishment. That motorist was a potential killer, as much as a drunken man who shoots a gun up and down the street. He should be treated as such. There is no advantage in waiting until the killing is accomplished.

Present conditions demand rigid enforcement of every law existing for the protection of pedestrians from motorists, or of sober motorists from drunken, reckless, or inefficient ones.

LIQUOR AND TAXES.

Money taken for city purposes from saloonkeepers was abhorrent to prohibitionists, but it amounted to $7,000,000 a year, and it was a small part of the money spent by Chicago drinkers. The city is shy that $7,000,000, which was a considerable item in the annual income, and is a considerable item in the city's present insolvency.

Many of the men whose drink money had something shaved off for city operation could not afford to spend it in this fashion, but they did, and the city levied a tax on their recklessness and extravagance and folly.

These men now, unless they are succeeding in connecting with $20 hootch, have a great deal more money. They could give the city $50 more a year in direct taxation and still have a great deal more money than they ever had. Increased taxation means nothing to them.

The citizens who had no liquor bill and did not want anybody to have a liquor bill must make up the sum which the drinkers no longer pay the city. It cannot be made up in increase in various other licenses. Some can be obtained in that fashion, but most of it must come out of taxes.

If the city wants a wild spender handling the funds after they have been raised, it can keep Bill the Bunk on the job. Street car users are paying for things, such as street cleaning and street paving, and are lending money to the city for current expenses, about $44,000,000 in all from them thus far. Some day that may be taken off the shoulders of the street car users and put on the taxpayers. The taxpayers must also pay what the drinkers were paying.

When the taxpayer gets the full bill handed him he may become interested in getting a square deal from the city government, which is spending the money.

GET UP STEAM.

The optimistic reception of the interstate commerce commission's $1,500,000,000 railroad rate increase by leading railroad officials indicates that these executives are pleased and hopeful. The advance of 1 to 3½ points in railroad securities at the opening of the stock exchange indicates that the investing public is pleased and hopeful. The noninvesting public, therefore, also is hopeful. Whether or not it will be pleased seems to lie with the executives.

For the first time since the organization of the interstate commerce commission it has acted in the interests of the railroads as well as of the public Rate increases have been granted which mean an annual additional outlay of a billion and a half dollars by the public. The public will pay the bill, and therefore has a right to speak its mind on the subject. If we guess aright it will speak somewhat as follows:

"You railroad executives have been wailing about lack of equipment, general depreciation, labor troubles, and insufficient income. You have said you could not get money for current expenses, equipment, or needed extension. Now, the government has practically settled your labor troubles by granting $600,000,000 a year increase to your employés. It has granted approximately $900,000,000 besides that for your operating, replacement, extension, and profits accounts. It has cleared the way and provided the means for you to improve your service. Make haste and improve it. We pay the bills and will pay them willingly if you improve service to an extent which will eliminate the waste and annoyance which we have suffered by insufficient service. It's up to you. Make good or sacrifice your claims to future consideration."

Editorial of the Day

THE FOLLY OF A DIVIDED FLEET.

[Scientific American.]

Whatever political expediency there may have been in dividing our fleet between the Atlantic and the Pacific from the standpoint of military efficiency, national defense, and economy, it was one of the most faulty moves ever made in the administration of the United States navy.

A strong statement—but having behind it the navy's greatest strategical authority, for in 1913 Admiral Mahan said: "To divide the battle fleet would be the most entirely suicidal act that could be contemplated."

The results of dividing the fleet are bad at best and positively disastrous at the worst. In the first place, a divided fleet practically doubles the requirements for flagships, supply vessels, tugs, targets, flag officers and staffs, shore bases—in fact, for everything which in business would be known as overhead expense. By combining the two fleets and reducing the ships and staffs now duplicated we should save several hundred officers, several thousand men, reduce government expenditures by several million dollars, and greatly increase the efficiency of the navy.

Again, divided fleets develop doctrines and ideas independently of each other, according to the admiral in command. When the fleets come together for combined exercises they do not readily amalgamate, for their training has differed. You could not throw the Princeton and Yale football teams together overnight and expect them to play an efficient championship game with Harvard the next day. Team work in a great fleet can be obtained only as a result of long practice. Neither half of a divided fleet is as big as the combined fleet would be in war. Therefore, during peace the commander in chief is not obtaining the training he should have in handling and maneuvering the large number of vessels that would be under him in war time. An occasional assembling of the two fleets under one command would never provide the requisite training. It should be continuous throughout the command of the commander in chief.

The teaching of history, the warning of our greatest naval strategist, and the present crying need for economy unite in demanding that our fleet, no matter where it may be based, shall be reunited into one powerful unit.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IF government were a science, like biology or geology, if it were pursued by qualified men who increased in efficiency, and if the electorate appreciated efficiency and rewarded it—there might be reason for retaining a party in power after its time was up. But as things are, an intelligent citizen must either vote against the party in power or refrain from voting at all. He "throws away his vote" only when he casts it for a continuance of mediocrity or worse.

DESPITE the shortage of print paper, the New Republic prints a supplement, compiled by Walter Lippmann & Co., to show that the news dispatches from Russia, from 1917 to 1920, did not correspond with the facts. We assumed as much long before 1917, and discontinued reading dispatches from Russia. Mr. Lippmann, young and inexperienced—he was 26 at last account—has wasted a deal of perhaps invaluable time.

SUCCOR is to be extended to the railroads, and mebbe if something were done for the express companies they might be able to transport a package from Chicago to New York in less than four or five days. As for parcel post, packages should be marked, "Not to be expoded before Christmas."

SONG.

As rivers to the sullen sea,
White sails to waters blue,
The finite to infinity,
The nesting swallow to the tree—
So turn my thoughts to you.

As empty branches to a sky
Whose peacefulness endures
When all dead leaves are blown awry,
As dull lakes to the stars on high—
My arms stretch out to yours,

Aloof, indifferent, as the blue
Sea to the sail, or sky to tree,
You watch my mad words drift to you;
And though my prayers repeat, renew,
You never answer me. DOROTHY.

The Teaching of Poetry.

(From the London Nation.)

The headmaster made the boys spell "daffodil," asked the number of its petals, and said:

"Now, Briggs, why did the daffs flutter and dance?"

"'Cos they were so 'appy, sir."

"Don't be silly! You don't think. Now, can a flower be happy?"

"No, sir," replied Briggs, taking his cue aright.

"Well, why did you say they could?"

"'Cos I didn't fink, sir."

"Well, then, what was it that really made the daffodils flutter?"

"The breeze, sir. . . . The daffodils fluttered abart 'cos of the breeze what was a'blowing 'em."

"That's the kind of answer I like," said the headmaster approvingly. "Now you're talking common sense. But I'd have given a still higher mark if you had changed the word 'breeze' for a different word."

"I could 'ave said 'wind,' sir."

"Of course. Always try and use a different word from the poet's. The inspectors like us to encourage originality in the children."

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitation, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

[Copyright: 1920: By Dr. W. A. Evans.]

HE'S 65 YEARS YOUNG.

"AMONG the numerous human ailments commented upon in your always interesting column, 'How to Keep Well'," H. W. G. writes: "I do not remember ever to have seen mention of a certain condition, which, it seems to me, must result unfavorably to the health of many people. I refer to the pronounced shoulder stoop which I notice many people acquire as they advance in years and approach the three-score-and-ten limit. From its frequency one might almost conclude that it was unavoidable and yet I have several friends over 80 years old who are nevertheless as straight as a telegraph pole.

"I have a personal interest in the matter because I have noticed lately a strong inclination to crouch over from my shoulders whenever I assume a sitting position. When standing or walking I am perfectly erect and have no difficulty in maintaining that posture indefinitely; but as soon as I sit down I unconsciously slouch and have to recover myself by positive and repeated efforts.

"I am 65 years old, 6 feet tall, weigh 156 pounds, and enjoy excellent health. Last summer I climbed Mount Whitney in California, the highest mountain in the United States, and did it in half an hour less than the regular time, besides going through numerous other strenuous stunts.

"But this unconscious slouching tendency worries me a little. Can it be corrected by special exercises designed to strengthen the muscles of the back or is it simply a bad habit which I have fallen into and which I must overcome by a dogged, unremitting, never-give-up exercise of will power, aided by the frequent admonition of my fireside angel to 'sit up straight'?"

In reply—A man 65 years old who has endurance enough to climb Mount Whitney in less than schedule time need not worry about his muscle strength, his reserve of nerve power, or the condition of his heart. The proof is good that he is organically sound. But that is not what is worrying you.

A straight back is not natural in the human animal. So long as he is young and his muscle and ligament tone is good the human animal can hold his shoulders back, but to do so requires a little muscle effort and uses up a little energy. To sit or walk slouched is really an energy saver. A very tired man slouches as a subconscious method of sparing himself unnecessary fatigue.

On the other hand the lungs, heart, and abdominal organs have more room and work under less embarrassment when the shoulders are held back. In your case you are developing the stoop which means greatest ease for you, by reason of the peculiarities of the curves of your backbone. Slouching will not harm your heart or lungs or abdominal organs.

But it will react on your spirit, making you accept yourself as more senile than if you saw a straight backed fellow when you looked in the mirror. I will accept your suggestion as to an article on slouching. Read the communication from J. J. F. and learn of the use he made of a back block.

WHAT T. B. PATIENT THINKS.

E. R. writes of his experience as a tuberculosis subject. He developed sore throat and huskiness. After seeing many specialists and being treated in various ways his sputum finally was examined and a diagnosis of tuberculosis made. He was advised to go west and rough it. Eventually he got into a sanitarium and his disease was arrested. He thinks the diagnosis of tuberculosis is rarely made promptly even by reputable physicians, and the advice given is frequently faulty or too general to be very helpful. The public need to know much more than they do now about the nature of consumption, how it is contracted, how spread, and the significance of the early symptoms. He adds the following based on his experiences:

1. A man may have consumption and not spit blood.
2. He need not be a puny, emaciated person to get it. I have seen men big and husky and weighing nearly 200 pounds who had it.
3. He need not leave home if he knows what to do and does it.
4. There is no known medicine, patent or otherwise, that will surely cure.
5. Rest, not roughing it, is right.
6. Exclusive egg and milk diet will raise h— with the digestive organs. A general diet is O. K. if he can digest it.

EXPERIENCE SHOWS PERIL.

K. L. C. writes: "1. Is it dangerous to cut the toenails on my foot? I have had gangrene and lost my left foot from cutting my big toenail. I had diabetes. 2. Can you tell me why my right foot and hand always are numb? 3. Is it possible for gangrene to set in in my other foot if I do not cut it or draw the blood in any way?"

REPLY.

1. Your own experience proves it's dangerous.
2. Some persons with diabetes complain a good deal of numbness. In many the arterial walls are thickened. In many there is considerable acidosis. This explains numbness and other disturbances of circulation.
3. It is. In the first place infection may get through the unbroken skin. In the second place gangrene may result from the condition of the blood, the blood vessel walls and the tissue.

YOU MIGHT USE YOUR MIND.

E. J. J. writes: "I am a young married woman and am so anxious to overcome an extremely nervous temperament. If dieting is necessary, will you kindly publish the necessary diet?"

REPLY.

There is no medicine which is of any particular benefit. Your trouble is mental and the cure lies in mental treatment. I suggest you get a copy of Sadler's "Worry and Nervousness" and study it diligently, chapter by chapter. If you prefer to do so, go in for any of the cults—whichever one strikes your fancy.

MAKES SHORT CUT UNPLEASANT.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Owing to garbage and filth that is accumulating underneath the Wilson avenue "L" between Roscoe street and Newport avenue, will you kindly have the health commissioner make an investigation and put a stop to this insanitary condition? Many people walk through this way as a short cut from Newport avenue to the "L" station at Clark street, and the odors are something awful. My rooms have windows on the side next the "L" and I can hardly bear to have the windows open on account of the odors. There is a can full of garbage which is uncovered that has been there for some time. This morning when I passed it there were thousands of flies around it and probably millions breeding in it. B. H. F.

An investigation was made by an inspector from this department, as a result of which a notice was served on July 29, 1920, to the owner to remove the accumulation of ashes and refuse from the rear of the building and to provide a proper tight metal can for garbage. JOHN DILL ROBERTSON, Commissioner of Health.

A late decision of the adjutant general permits members of the S. A. T. C. to wear the victory medal.

JUST A NEIGHBORLY SPAT.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The Western Screw Manufacturing company, operating automatic bolt manufacturing machines, has a night force employed which keeps the back door and windows opened all night, making it impossible to obtain any sleep on account of the noise of these machines.

I asked the night foreman if he would kindly close these doors and he told me the real estate board informed him that they were located in a factory district and could do as they pleased. Does this decision of the real estate board offset the municipal code when it comes to keeping an entire neighborhood awake? Could they not at least close these doors after 9:30 or 10 o'clock?
F. J. S.

I return herewith complaint of F. J. S. and others residing on Carroll avenue in the vicinity of the plant of the Western Screw Manufacturing company. The commanding officer of the district reports that he had an officer interview a representative of this company. The territory in which this plant is located is a manufacturing district, there being nothing but railroads to the immediate north. The officer was advised that the people living about 100 feet away, east of their factory, have been trying to sell the company a vacant lot, which the company values at $1,000, for $5,000, and they are inclined to believe this causes the complaint. The plant is operated four nights a week.
JOHN J. GARRITY,
General Superintendent of Police.

STATE MILITIA.

Crown Point, Ind., July 27.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Please tell me if I am entitled to retainer pay, having enlisted in the Michigan naval militia in 1917. If so, will you please inform me what department to address for the money?
M. W.

We cannot decide your question on facts given in your letter. If you were later mustered into the U. S. N. R. F. and you are now a reservist, you are probably entitled to retainer pay. In such instance apply for it through your district commandant.

UNLESS AN ENEMY.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Must you be a citizen to change your name without going to court? If not born in this country, what steps, if any, must be taken to change your name? F. M. L.

Citizenship makes no difference except that the "trading with the enemy act" provided that enemies should not change their names except under license from the president.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FIREARMS.

Cicero, Ill., Aug. 2.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Please let me know if a discharged officer who is still on reserve is entitled to purchase an army automatic pistol at the government arsenals and if so where should one apply for it? D. O.'B.

You may not, unless you are called to active service.

MEMORY TESTS. CAN YOU ANSWER THESE?

REVIVING THE RENT WAR.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—R. W. S. is right as to this being the rent hog season. He should join a tenants' protective association in his part of town. If there is none, start one; there is strength in numbers. R. W. S. should offer his shylock a fair advance on the rental of last year; if he insists on his pound of flesh, tell him to take his case to court. Should the decision be against the tenant, file an appeal, give bond, and let the hog wait for his year's rent until the decision is handed down. In the meantime R. W. S. stays where he is. The Illinois legislature convenes in 1921 and it is hoped that a bill may be passed which will cover such cases as that of R. W. S. and thousands of others. It was done in New York last year and if the poor white collar slaves will only stand together it can be done in Illinois.

MAKING IT PERFECTLY CLEAR.

Chicago, July 25.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your philosophic editorial of today's "World's Greatest Newspaper" touches the surface only of things. It takes an Asiatic to know the Asiatic. The undersigned ought to know Asiatics because he is one.

The Asiatic is deep and real; the European is shallow and artificial. The Asiatic deals with the eternal elemental nature of things, the European-American cares only for superficial and temporary things. Their civilizations take the character of their natures; the former is emotional and instinctive; the latter is intellectual. The one satisfies the inmost nature of man, the other entertains for a time. Now maybe you can understand a bit, and no longer see confusion in old Asia as expressed by "new Russia," as you term it.
JOSEPH VARGE.

AN ARGUMENT TO RESTORE THE KAISER.

Chicago, July 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We, who have just read of the release of Brent Dow Allinson, cannot understand why those who are responsible for his release have not also recommended the release and restoration of the ex-kaiser and crown prince. Surely we should treat all friends of Germany with equal consideration. N. L. KING.

THE PURCHASE OF IMMUNITY.

Chicago, July 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—So long as wealth can buy immunity from justice, can stop enforcement of laws and prevent punishment for lawlessness resulting even in death, bolshevism and other forms of revolt will follow.

An example is found in the recent action of the grand jury in voting "no bill" against a wealthy but drunken and reckless driver who was violating several laws and ordinances at one time, who killed a man, and then attempted to evade arrest, and was finally released by the grand jury as a result of a $10,000 transaction. Nothing could be much more revolting. READER.

"AUTOMOBILITIS."

Chicago, July 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—When a substantial, sound business man or farmer spends from $1,000 to $10,000 in the purchase of a toy for his 16 year old son or daughter to spend more money on, and with which to fool away valuable time, he has an attack of our national disease—automobilitis.

To one who is brought into actual contact with conditions as they exist over the country, the facts are almost unbelievable. The country has gone plum daft on the purchase of autos.

Thousands of boys and girls are spending their time manipulating complicated machinery manufactured at a great expense by clever workmen who ought to be making freight cars with which to move coal and crops.

Autos should be manufactured and sold to those who really need them; but what we need just now is railroad equipment and men to work on necessities.
FREDERICK S. PEIRCE.

ADVICE TO LANDLORDS.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The fall renting season has arrived. The tenants put up a good fight last spring. The landlords had their innings in the courts, but in return received unpleasant publicity, had to pay big bills for lawyers and had their apartments tied up for a long period of time with no rental coming in at all. After all, it didn't pay.

The police department has counted the city and reports that there are today 6,000 vacant flats in Chicago.

A notorious landlord in Rogers Park had eighteen vacant flats July 1 and many of them are still vacant. The same landlord had twelve bungalows for sale last spring and most of them are still empty.

It pays to be on the square. If you are a landlord, be reasonable with your tenants this fall. If you are a tenant, don't sign any profiteering lease. Consult a good lawyer. When your landlord sees that you have taken legal advice he will soon come across.
TRIBUNE ADVISER.

TOO BAD; THEY'RE GOING UP.

Chicago, July 25.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Will you kindly publish comparative figures showing the rise or fall of the circulation of THE TRIBUNE? I would give hope, if the figures show a decline, that the credulity of the people is becoming exhausted, and you will eventually have to work—to produce—as they yourselves, instead of merely telling others to do so. W. A. MANN.

PITY THE POOR BOLSHEVIKI.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It has recently been reported that the state department has refused to grant clearance papers to the relief ship which has been chartered by the American woman's emergency committee for the purpose of taking milk, medicine and shoes to the starving women and children of Russia. In reply to the organization's latest appeal Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby writes that because of the fact that the present authorities in Russia are holding upward of twenty American citizens in jail this government should not aid the starving women and children of Russia until said prisoners are released. Who are these twenty citizens anyway?

The present administration, as well as the rulers of England, France, Italy, and Japan, are determined that the soviet government of Russia shall not succeed, and to that end are still invoking the blockade, refusing to grant her needed food and medicine supplies, and are using Poland as a cat's paw to destroy the bolsheviki.

Mr. Colby wants to have the bolsheviki exterminated. That is reason he refused to grant clearance papers to the relief ship. HENRY N. BRINKMAN.

THE DANGEROUS PEDESTRIAN.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It has been my experience in driving a car that people cross the street aggravatingly slow. They depend entirely upon the ability of the driver to slow down or stop. At other times people dash across the street just in front of a car and barely miss being hit. This is especially true of children. Pedestrians cannot appreciate how much they are to blame until they drive cars themselves. WALTER SCHWIMMER.

Warsaw—46 Miles

1—At Ostrolenka, or Ostrolenak, the bolshevik cavalry has crossed the Pissa.

2—On the Bug river the bolsheviks have defeated the Polish First and Fourth armies, who are in retreat. The bolsheviks here, at last reports, were forty-six miles from Warsaw, on a good automobile road into the capital.

3—The Poles have stiffened their resistance at this point.

4—The Russians are forty miles from Lemberg, having defeated the Poles at Rusk. They intend to capture Lemberg and drive on toward the Galician oil fields in the Sanok region.

5—The Poles are putting up a stiff resistance.

6—A correspondent of The Tribune crossed the East Prussian frontier to the town of Grajevo, being the first correspondent ever to visit the active field army of soviet Russia. He found the conquerors of North Poland ragged, dirty, and starved, but well disciplined.

AR TAMMANY FROM ILLINOIS, OGLESBY'S PLEA

ints to Danger of the Thompson Machine.

Centralia, Ill., Aug. 3.—[Special.]— n an against Tammanyism in Illi-ois and this fair state shall not be e stalking ground of the tiger," was e defiance hurled at the Thompsonania machine here tonight by Lieut.
v. John G. Oglesby, candidate for e Republican nomination for gov-nor. The candidate hit straight from e shoulder at his opponents.

"The truth must be told without straint as to what Illinois may expect Thompson and his army of merce-ries. Socialists, and men with vicious ds get control of the affairs of the ate," he said. "The organized sysm of terrorism that would be put in eration would be a menace to every e in the state.

Seek State Power.

"The forces which have bankrupted r greatest city are not the ones that e to be trusted to help the taxpayers f the state. These forces want more wer. They want a larger field in hich to serve themselves through the ndless expenditure of many addional millions raised by public taxes.
"I am against Tammanyism in Illi-ois, and this fair state shall not be e stalking ground of the tiger.
"The people of Illinois must not have mposed upon them an unscrupulous mmanyism built upon spoils, protect-d by vice, and swollen contracts. They st be everlastingly on the alert between now and the primaries and on primary day with an avalanche of ballots halt the evil that threatens to extend itself over the entire state."

Discusses Good Roads.

After his arraignment of the Thompson-Tammany outfit, the lieutenant-governor took time to discuss the hard road problem confronting Illinois because of the inability to get railroad cars, impossibility of contractors to get material, and the enormous increase in the price of construction.

Gladness for City's Pollyannas

Marion Lowenthal, who led group of girls in benefit play for The Tribune's summer camp fund.

Recalling that there are many little Pollyannas in Chicago who would be made happier still by a vacation at Algonquin, THE TRIBUNE'S free camp and hospital for convalescent mothers and their babies, a group of girls living at 4820 Kimball avenue gave a production of the play yesterday for the benefit of the Algonquin fund.

The girls, who were headed by Dorothy Lowenthal, charged 3 and 5 cents for admission and later, when the receipts were counted, $1.24 was found to have been earned. The youngsters, who are between 8 and 12 years old, made their own costumes.

The girls also gave a tableau depicting various flowers and made their costumes from crepe tissue paper. A group of dances was included in the program.

Cotton Print Paper Soon Will Be Put on Market

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Cotton linters are to be used in the near future for the manufacture of print paper, it was announced here today. Cotton experts of the agricultural department regard the project feasible. Two large paper mills are now under construction, one at Hopewell, Va., and one at Dallas, Tex. The Dallas mill is expected to manufacture twenty tons of print paper a day.

STUDENTS' PLAY PROCEEDS TO BUY ICE FOR BABIES

Poor Chicago babies are not going to drink spoiled milk if the students of the University of Chicago summer school have their way. The students have arranged to give two performances of "The Witching Hour," by Augustus Thomas, in Mandel hall, Saturday, Aug. 21, the proceeds to be given to THE TRIBUNE free ice fund.

The cast was selected by Louis Dooley, veteran dramatic coach of the university, after a competition on merit was held. The leading rôles in the cast of twelve will be portrayed by Miss Louise Lynch, Richard Evans, and Charles Beckwith. The latter will be the "villain."

Seats for the performances, which will be given in the afternoon and evening, will cost $1.50 and $1.75. Reservations can be made by sending checks to Lawrence Tibbits, Box O, University of Chicago.

The following contributions to THE TRIBUNE'S free camp and hospital for poor mothers and their children at Algonquin were received yesterday:

Proceeds of Kimball avenue show	$1.24	A. L. Stone	5.00
Anonymous	20.00	Miss Lita Keller	5.00

NEW U. S. MADE MOTOR FOR USE IN PARIS RACE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—This country will be represented in the international race at Paris for the Gordon Bennett cup by a contingent from the United States army flying the Verville Packard, a new airplane of American design and manufacture throughout, and entries from the Glenn Curtiss and the Dayton Wright company.

Practically all of the European countries, with the exception of Germany, have entered this contest, and the finest examples of present day aeroplanes will compete.

The army entry, commanded by Capt. W. G. Kilmer, will sail for Paris Aug. 20. It will include Capt. R. W. Schroeder, Capt. Corliss C. Moseley, and Lieut. Alfred Puryear.

Col. J. G. Vincent, one of the creators of the Liberty motor, designed the motor for the Verville Packard, a 400 horse power airplane engine, recently completed by the Packard company, and the most powerful ever built in this country.

It is a twelve cylinder motor with two groups of cylinders set at an incline of 60 degrees, has a total displacement of 2,025 cubic inches and weighs 1.94 pounds per horse power.

The land yacht of a noted sportsman equipped with the vacuum bottle that will not break

A well-known Philadelphia sportsman has just purchased a new kind of automobile—especially designed and constructed to his order.

This machine is more than a touring car. It is actually a house on wheels—convertible in a moment into a kitchen, a dining or a bed room.

Four persons can travel in it—can live in it for weeks at a time as comfortably as in the cabin of a luxurious yacht. Not a detail has been overlooked to prepare this cruising automobile to meet every emergency of travel and camping.

The illustration above shows the care and completeness with which these details have been worked out. In the racks—in the corners of the interior—are arranged four one-quart and two two-quart vacuum bottles. These vacuum bottles can stand every jolt and jar—are proof against every accident.

How the Stanley Vacuum Bottle is made

The Stanley Bottle consists of two shells made from high quality steel. These two are connected by welded joints to form a single steel unit of great strength. A specially insulated vacuum space separates the inner shell from the outer shell.

No glass or fragile material whatsoever enters the construction of the bottle.

Each Stanley Bottle is lined with blue Amalite, a flexible material with a surface like porcelain.

Naturally the initial cost of the Stanley is higher than the glass vacuum bottle, but it is more economical in the end, because there are no expenses for repairs and replacements. With the Stanley the first cost is the last cost.

The Stanley Bottle is made in one and two-quart sizes. It is the only vacuum bottle made in the large size.

Sold at all the better department, drug, sporting, hardware, jewelry and automobile accessory stores. Prices, east of the Rocky Mountains, quart size, black standard finish — $10.00; two quart size, black standard finish—$15.00. Get a Stanley Vacuum Bottle from your dealer today.

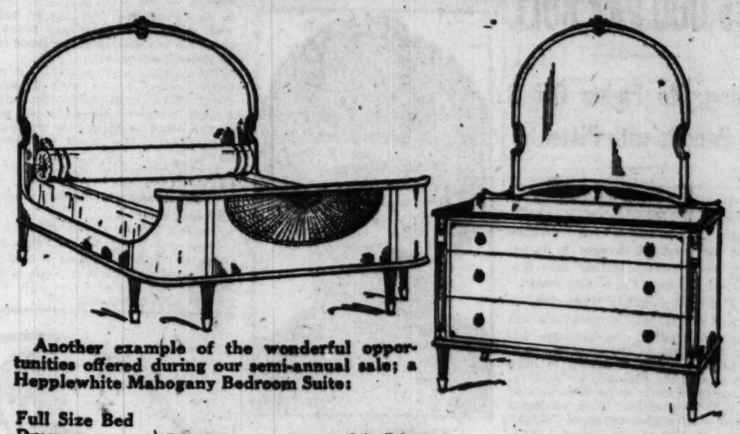
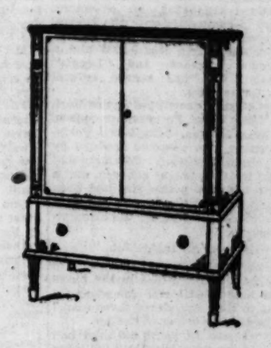
Scholle's Semi-Annual Sale of Good Furniture



Another example of the wonderful opportunities offered during our semi-annual sale; a Hepplewhite Mahogany Bedroom Suite:

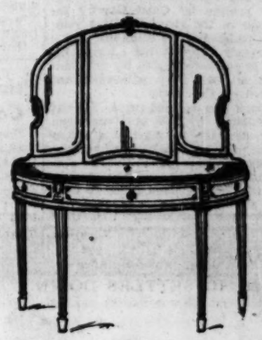
Full Size Bed, Dresser, Chifforobe, Dressing Table, Stand, Two Chairs — Seven Pieces

Reg. Price $1,424.00 — Sale Price $890.00



IF you have been around to the various furniture stores since the beginning of this midsummer season of special sales, you have no doubt felt that conditions are about as they have been in years past at this time. This is quite true, especially with the better houses. Prices are high, of course, but there is nothing startling about them; there is no reason to expect a radical change either up or down; certainly not down for some time.

This sale of ours is very attractive to buyers. We have made heavy reductions in prices—just look at the suite illustrated—and the quality is fully up to Scholle standard in every way, and our guarantee that what you buy here will prove satisfactory as long as you have it, is still just as much a safeguard for you as ever.



Rugs

We carry a large stock and wide assortment of fine domestic and oriental rugs; we buy them right; we price them fairly and we guarantee them, just as we do our furniture.

POLICEMAN GIVES HIS LIFE TO SAVE $5,000 PAY ROLL

Dying, He Fights Off 3 Bandits with Pistol.

his gun until he was so weak it dropped from his hand. I thought those fellows were merely getting into line for their pay until I saw their guns."

Three Ex-Convicts Suspected.

From photographs three ex-convicts were identified at the detective bureau last night as the slayers.

One of the men is known to have been shot in the abdomen by McGurk. He fell three times as he fled, assisted by his companions. Eye witnesses picked out the photograph of "Mike" Norton as that of the wounded man. Norton escaped from the Joliet penitentiary last month.

The other two bandits were identified as James Gallagher, an ex-convict wanted in connection with the Dressel Commercial and Savings bank holdup, in which a citizen was killed and a policeman wounded, and "Leggy" Ellickson, who has served several terms for robbery.

Chief Garrity questioned James Moriarty, 2300 West Forty-eighth place, and John Halyko, 2423 West Forty-sixth street, two suspects arrested by Lieut. Michael Hughes. Moriarty had worked for the vinegar concern, and a woman told the police she had seen him talking to the bandits in their automobile shortly before the attempted robbery.

Suspect an Inside Job.

The police are convinced an employé of the firm was involved in the plans for the holdup. Halyko also was seen talking to the "round, red faced man," described as the driver of the car.

McGurk was 50 years old and had been working with Mulvilhill for eight years. When James Gleason was chief he characterized them as the two best men in the department. McGurk was highly praised by Chief Garrity for his work in the race riots last year, during which he was wounded, and it was largely through his efforts that Lloyd Bopp was arrested for the murder of an Oak Park policeman and executed for the crime.

McGurk was married twice. He had two children by his first marriage. Four years ago he married a school teacher. Mrs. McGurk returned from a ten days' visit with relatives in Connersville, Ind., last night and wondered why her husband failed to meet her at the depot.

HANDSOMEST COP IN EVANSTON WINS BRIDE FROM RIVAL

William Johnson, commonly designated Evanston's handsomest and most fearless policeman, will depart Saturday for a honeymoon of two weeks in the Wisconsin hinterlands.

Mr. Johnson, who is 6 feet 1 inch in height and weighs 200 pounds, will be accompanied by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frank Allbright, and the bride.

The marriage was celebrated Monday afternoon at the Allbright home at 609 Davis street, Evanston. It culminated a wartime courtship, in which two fellow policemen, later overseas soldiers, contested for Miss Esther Allbright's hand.

One was the happy bridegroom. The other was Raymon Staten. They went to France together and returned together. Both corresponded with Miss Allbright, and both renewed their respective courtships when they returned. But Mr. Staten was rejected last spring. He has since gone to New York.

"Yes, we will leave Saturday for the honeymoon," said the mother-in-law last night. "We expect to have a lovely time. We are very fond of Mr. Johnson and are satisfied with the match. We shall be gone two weeks. We will then return and will be at home to our many friends."

The bride is 19 years old.

Private Banker Put in County Jail as Case Pends

Private Banker John M. Tananevicz was taken into custody yesterday by the sheriff. His conviction and sentence to three years' imprisonment was affirmed by the United States Supreme court and a mittimus issued.

MAIL AIR ROUTE PLANE SMASHED; 2 OTHERS GO ON

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 3.—Resumption of the flight of the all-metal airplanes blazing an air trail from New York to San Francisco was delayed today when one of the machines failed to rise from the ground and crashed into an unoccupied house.

The radiator was caved in, the propeller broken, and a wing smashed. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker sustained a slight bruise on the head, but none of the other occupants of the plane was injured. The house was demolished.

The plane, piloted by Capt. H. E. Hartney, was the last to start, the other two machines having made a safe ascent.

Two Arrive at Cheyenne.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 3.—The two all-metal airplanes blazing a trail for an aerial route from New York to San Francisco arrived at Wales field, Fort Russell, near here, tonight.

CHAMBLISS AND ROSS WOMAN ARE SENT TO JOLIET

The last barrier between Dorsey Chambliss, Negro ex-policeman, and the penitentiary was removed yesterday. A mittimus was received by the sheriff directing him to deliver Chambliss and Mrs. Emma Ross to the warden of the Joliet penitentiary.

Both were convicted of abducting Bertha Wiebeck, 17 year old white girl. Her subsequent experiences in the Ross woman's house led indirectly to her death.

Chambliss and the woman were sentenced to five years. Their time to appeal expired on July 30.

PAVING, BRIDGE CONTRACTS LET.

"I AM DEALER IN BANKERS' GOATS" PONZI ASSERTS

Says He's Paid $4,000,000 and He's Happy.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Charles Ponzi, who today described himself as "dealer in postage and bankers' goats," said tonight he had paid out about $4,000,000 to scared investors since the run on his Exchange and Securities company started.

With deposits in "thirty to thirty-five banks," he declared he was not worried by the payments made.

On the fringe of the crowd of scared investors today were "scalpers" ready to buy their Ponzi notes at 10 to 20 per cent off par.

Ponzi Rumor Magnet.

There are all sorts of rumors current about Ponzi, who today filed suit to recover $3,500 from his former press agent, William H. McMasters, who sued him for $4,200. A Socialist friend of Ponzi's says there is a financial scheme afoot to make the people the masters of the world's ready money, and that Ponzi, who is not yet naturalized, will go into politics.

Meanwhile, Ponzi himself hints at impending conferences with a New York banker and French associates to buy out his business for $10,000,000. He says in a few days he will announce plans for a super corporation, starting with about $200,000,000 to deal in all sorts of things all over the world.

Keeps Big Profit Idea.

Its slogan, he says, will be 50-50 profit sharing.

The federal audit of Ponzi's books will take several more days. The state investigation will follow.

PRINCESS OF PERSIA, HERE TO AID PEOPLE; LIVES IN POVERTY

ESTHER ABRAHAM.

Esther Abraham, princess of Persia and there known as "the little mother of the Christians," lives in a rear room of a lodging house at 640 North State street.

Accustomed to the comforts of a Persian mansion she is living in conditions that smack of poverty. It is in order that she may devote her money to a campaign to arouse the United States to a realization of the need of Christians in Syria and Persia.

Herself a cripple as the result of a nervous disease caused by the persecution she has endured, the "little mother" plans also to give of her own strength in telling folks here of the near east and its problems.

"Few realize the massacres, tortures, and famines which have afflicted us," she said. "Our homes have been burned, our fields devastated, our men murdered, and our women assaulted."

EXCHANGE RATE DROP IS COSTLY TO FOREIGN BORN

Lose Large Amounts in Aiding Their Kin.

While recent depreciation of foreign exchange rolled up millions for Ponzi, the wizard of Pi Alley, Boston, it also caused great money loss to many foreign born Chicago residents, it became known yesterday.

Since 1916 hundreds of these foreign born workers, appalled by tales of starvation and horror in their home land, have sent huge sums of money to their relatives and friends.

The money was sent through local banks. These purchased foreign drafts at the then prevailing rate of exchange. Congested mail conditions and disorganized banking affairs in the Europea nations resulted sometimes in months of delay.

Frauds Are Charged.

Meanwhile the rate of exchange fluctuated. Complaints of swindling were received—the senders in Chicago couldn't understand it.

Yesterday Herman Elsenbogen, vice president of the West Side National bank, Chicago, confirmed the reports.

"We have had many complaints and in several instances have had our clients arrested because of the disturbance they caused," he said. "Some clients want their money back; they can't get it; others say the folks in the old country have never received their gifts.

Wants Clearing House.

"Depreciation is the cause—and bad conditions. You can hardly blame a man for kicking when he deposits $50 to be sent to his starving mother and then after months of waiting the mother collects the equivalent of $5. Or if finally not delivered, he has returned to him only a fraction of his donation.

"The only remedy is for the bankers of America to establish a clearing house in Europe.

"The foreign bankers now pass the blame to us, and after several years of that kind of business you can hardly blame the poorer classes for believing that all American bankers are thieves and robbers."

"POPULAR SONG TRUST" CHARGED IN SUIT BY U. S.

New York, Aug. 3.—A government suit was brought in the federal court here today to enjoin the Consolidated Music corporation and several other companies from fixing prices and making agreements intended to stifle competition in player piano rolls. A "trust" in popular song copyrights is charged, as the means by which prices were to be controlled. Among the defendants are Irving Berlin, Inc.; Leo Feist, Inc.; T. B. Harms, Francis Day, Hunter, Inc.; Shapiro, Bernstein & Co.; Watterson, Berlin & Snyder, Inc.; M. Witmark & Sons, Inc., and all officers and general managers of these firms.

"EARTHBOUND"

BASIL KING'S powerful story of the unseen world

George Loane Tucker's statement

"There is a message in 'Earthbound' that the wide world is greatly and deeply interested in. I sincerely hope that everyone who liked my production of 'The Miracle Man' will go to see 'Earthbound.'"

Gertrude Atherton fascinated—

"I was enthralled, not only because the story itself is intensely interesting, but because it is unique. Nothing of the kind has ever been done—a unique idea presented with the most perfecting artistry."

FOUR lives bound together by a common creed—"No God—no Sin—no Future Life."

Two men and two women torn by the conflict between loyalty and passion.

Then inevitable disaster—and for one of them a headlong plunge to death.

Is the soul swept from earth the moment it is freed from the body? Or does it—earthbound—still share the violent emotions which the living must endure?

Does the personality change with death—how long do the old interests go on?

Is there growth and progression even after the shadowy barrier has been crossed?

Basil King's "Earthbound" is a gripping story of personalities reaching back and forth across this barrier.

It is a subject to which Basil King has devoted years of intense personal study. He brings to this great narrative an intimate knowledge of men and women, of their wants and emotional experiences.

"Earthbound" is a remarkable lifting of the veil that stands between this life and the next—a motion picture endowed with a power and human poignancy that can be found in no other form of art.

The year that it has taken in creation began a new era for the screen.

Gouverneur Morris deeply moved—

"That astounding drama which yesterday passed with unutterable dignity before our astounded eyes! Dignity, power, passion, drama—my heart almost stopped beating! No great work of art has ever held me more spellbound.

"Never have I been more spiritually uplifted by a closing scene and a closing line—or more comforted."

Maurice Tourneur's tribute—

"The most interesting subject that has ever been screened. The production of 'Earthbound' marks a distinct advance in the art of motion pictures."

GOLF 'TARZANS' OPEN WESTERN TOURNEY TODAY

BY JOE DAVIS.

Tarzans and Bambinos of the professional golfing world will have plenty of chances to demonstrate their swatting ability in the opening rounds for the western open golf championship at Olympia Fields Country club today.

Our sunny climate has browned the fairways and yesterday the big hitters were driving the ball the proverbial mile. On many of the holes it is going to be a drive and a niblick pitch. Strenuous work by the Olympia officials has put the greens in good shape and many of the approaches to the greens have been watered nightly.

Low Scores Predicted.

Under these conditions, and provided the weather is anything like that of yesterday, scores should be reasonably low, and predictions by the experts are that it will take about an average of 73 to land first money and the title.

They did not run as low as this yesterday, but few of the players were trying hard, the games with the exception of a few syndicates being of a practice nature, as the majority of the men never had been over the courses.

McLeod Shoots a 72.

Fred McLeod of Washington, who won the national open title twelve years ago, had the best complete score of the day. Playing in the afternoon over the No. 2 course with Lawrence Ayton, Alec Cunningham of St. Joseph, Mo.; Mike Brady of Detroit, and Jock Hutchinson, Fred needed a four for a 70, but he shot into the woods and took six.

In the morning Bob Peebles shot a fine round over the No. 1 course, getting a 73, with one shot out of bounds. He had five threes on his card.

The leading scores in the morning over the first course ranged from 75 to 79. Charley Mayo had 75; Ayton, Cunningham, and W. Nelson, 76; Jock Hutchinson and Walter Nelson, 77.

MacDonald on His Game.

Bob MacDonald, playing with Fred McLeod and Mike Brady over the No. 2 course in the morning, had a five for a 70, but did not play out the last hole. He was out in 34. Brady was next with 76. Par for the No. 1 course is 74 and for the No. 2, 72.

Champion Jim Barnes did not arrive until midday and played over the No. 1 course. Walter Hagen, national open champion, stopped at Detroit on his way from the east and will arrive this morning.

Pairings for Late Entries.

Late entries brought the field to 101, the pairings for the newcomers being:

10:50—W. J. Bell, Cedar Rapids, and Cameron Trent, Lorain, O.

10:50—A. Cunningham, St. Joseph, and C. W. Hall, Birmingham.

10:55—J. J. O'Brien, Sisterville, W. Va., and Ed Murphy, Green Hills, St. Joe.

11—C. B. Devol, Green Valley, and R. Healy, Beverly.

11—W. Barrett, Interlachen, and H. H. Rockwell, Beloit.

11:05—Percy Bell, Cedar Rapids, and George Dow, Rome, Ga.

11:10—Ramsey Hunter, Fort Wayne, Ind.

The first pairs will start at 9 o'clock, one pair from each tee.

Trains leave Randolph street on the Illinois Central at 7:13, 7:50, 9:20, 10:40, 11:30, 12:00, 12:44, 1:20, 2:40, stopping at Olympia Fields station.

MRS. LETTS LOW AT ONWENTSIA

Mrs. F. C. Letts of Onwentsia led a field of 110 in an open day tournament in the schedule of the Women's Western Golf association at Exmoor yesterday, winning low gross with 85 score. Mrs. Letts played an excellent game, scoring many 5s and 4s. Her card follows:

Out .....6 3 5 6 5 5 5 4 5—43
In .....6 4 4 4 5 5 5 5 4—42—85

Miss Edith Cummings of Onwentsia took second low gross with a 92 and Miss Marjorie Edwards of Midlothian, third, 93. Mrs. W. W. Willits, Exmoor, 96—15—81; Mrs. W. A. Alexander, Exmoor, 97—16—81, and Mrs. C. P. Mertens, Bob o' Link, 101—20—81, tied for low net honors.

In the qualifying round for the men's cup at Calumet Mrs. Frank Koller had low gross of 101, Mrs. Chapman getting low net of 107—27—80. Sixteen players qualified.

State Net Championship to Be Run in 2 Tourneys

This year, for the first time, the Illinois state tennis championships will be run off in two separate tournaments. The men's title events in singles and doubles will begin on Saturday afternoon at Chicago Tennis club, Ridge and Thome avenues. In addition to the local stars, such out of town playing celebrities as Vincent Richards of New York, Kenneth Simmons, Paul Westenhaver, Harold Bartel, and Henry Wick of Cleveland; Walter Wesbrook of Detroit, the western intercollegiate champion, and Louis Kuhler of Cincinnati, have entered.

GASOLINE ALLEY—BACKLASH AND TONGUELASH.

JUNO COPS 2:10 PACE, FEATURE OF CIRCUIT PROGRAM AT TOLEDO

Toledo, O., Aug. 3.—Juno, the favorite, easily outclassed the field in the News-Bee 2:10 pace for a purse of $3,000, the feature race of the second day's Grand Circuit racing at the Fort Miami track. In the first heat she "came from nowhere," passed the bunch and finished ahead by two lengths. In the last heat Peter Look stuck his nose out in front just as they reached the wire and got the decision.

Dr. Nick, the black gelding that Tommy Murphy drives, won his first race of the season when he outtrotted the favorite, Peter L., in the 2:07 trot and won in straight heats, but Peter L. battled him all the way.

Single G. and Grace Direct were not started in the free for all pace, which was won by Sanardo in fast time. In the first heat they went to the half in 1:03, with Sanardo leading and buzzed the rest of the way in 0:59¼. Princess Mary took the third heat of the race, while Gladys B. tired badly and finished last each time.

Eliza Dillon took the 2:15 trot in straight heats among a field of ten starters. Summaries:

'KID' M'COY'S 8TH WIFE TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—It was revealed here today that "Kid" McCoy's eighth matrimonial venture has gone the way of all the rest of the seven when Mrs. Norman Selby announced herself a "darned fool" and announced her intention of suing for divorce. Nonsupport and desertion, says she, will be her grounds. Mrs. Selby No. 8 was before her marriage Miss Dagmar Dahlgren, a dancer, and she married the fascinating fighter on April 19 this year.

"I was disgusted with him in a week after I married him," she asserted.

McCoy is 47; his wife is 19.

CHASE IS BARRED BY COAST LEAGUE; GAMBLING CAUSE

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 3.—Hal Chase, former Pacific coast and major league baseball player, today was barred by W. H. McCarthy, president of the Pacific Coast league, from all the parks of the league. Hart Maggart, outfielder of the Salt Lake club, at the same time, was released unconditionally by W. H. Lane, president of the Salt Lake club. The action of the executives, it was announced, followed investigation of charges of gambling on the games.

President McCarthy, in a statement, said Chase last week at Los Angeles approached Charles A. Baum, Salt Lake pitcher, with a "proposition to make some easy money." Chase told Baum, the president said, that he had some friends who were willing to bet large sums of money on the games "providing that they had the edge." McCarthy declared Baum refused.

The statement added that last week at Los Angeles "Babe" Borton, Vernon player, offered Ralph Stroud, Salt Lake pitcher, $300 to "throw a game." Stroud refused the offer.

Chase, who has been playing every Sunday with the San José team of the California Mission league, a semi-professional organization, was barred tonight from further participation in that circuit's contests.

OLYMPIC TARGET SHOOT TO YANKS BY WIDE MARGIN

BEVERLOO, Belgium, Aug. 3.—The United States has won a sweeping victory in the Olympic target shooting. Out of eight events, including rifle, pistol, and revolver contests, they won seven first places and were second in the other. In the seven individual events they won four firsts, two seconds, and four thirds, taking first, second, and third in one of them. They failed to place in only one event, 200 meter rifle firing from a prone position. Medals for the winners were awarded this afternoon. The final standing of points is as follows:

United States, 43; Sweden, 11; Norway, 9; Denmark, 7; Switzerland, 5½; Brazil, 5; France, 4; Greece, 2; South Africa, 2, and Finland, 1½. One third place divided between Switzerland and Finland after three shootoffs failed to break a tie.

Guilheime Papaeuse, a Brazilian, shooting with an American army type revolver, scored 274 in the Olympic revolver match today, winning first place in the last Olympic target match on the unofficial results. He defeated by two points Raymond C. Bracken, his nearest competitor from the United States.

Following are the official team scores in today's revolver matches:

United States, 1,309; Greece, 1,275, and Switzerland, 1,270.

Papaeuse, Brazil, 274; Bracken, United States, 272, and Zuranaf, Switzerland, 269.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

REPORTS of good catches of fish are getting rare these days; with an exception here and there, game fishing surely is not up to standard. F. E. Lux and family of Rochelle, Ill., have made some killings at Tomahawk lake, Wis. One day they took thirty-three pike, a pickerel, and a perch. Bass are striking well there and muskies up to forty-two pounds have been taken. This is one of the high spots.

LARRY ST. JOHN.

My friend Ed Miller sends in this report on Bellaire, Mich.: "There are plenty of trout there, and when I first arrived some experts were getting from fifteen to twenty a day of rainbow and speckled trout that ran from a pound to two and a half pounds. But an influx of visitors filled the streams and ponds and made the fish so shy [pronounced 'fish show shy' if you say it fast] that the best dry fly fishermen on the ponds were getting only two or three a day, and small ones at that. I note that the dry fly fishermen get the biggest baskets.

Bullhead fishermen, ahoy! H. H. Diggins, Woodstock, Ill., sends in this good tip: "It may interest some of your readers to know where they can catch all the bullheads they can carry home. I was at Rice lake recently, the one near Fort Atkinson, Wis., and everybody caught all they wanted from shore with worms. There are no other kinds of fish in the lake, but bullheads are there in swarms. The roads are good and there is a fine place to camp on the property of Mr. Dickinson, who is cordial to strangers of the right sort." One would hardly care to go to Rice lake from a distance, just to catch a mess of bullheads, but it is worth visiting when you are driving up north.

Lake front fishing is fairly good; in fact, still fishing for pan fishes is good almost everywhere. It is the major game fishes that seem to have joined the Reds and I Won't Workers.

Mrs. Fox was bragging one day about the large number of her cubs.

"How many cubs do you bring into the world at one time?" she asked the LIONESS.

"Only ONE," replied the Lioness—"but it's a LION."

BY I. E. SANBORN.

By handing Tarzan Ruth three deliberate bases on balls yesterday, Red Faber trimmed the New York Yankees, 3 to 1, in the third game of the set, and sent 27,000 folks—official estimate—out of the south side ball park decidedly peeved because their hero was deprived of three out of four chances to boost his home run total to thirty-nine or better.

URBAN FABER.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

So purple was the mourning of the Ruth rooters that they gave Faber a concerted volley of "boos" for every pass he gave Ruth, and made it plain to all who listened that they had paid their money to see a home run from Bambino's bat, and they didn't care a continental whether or not the White Sox won the game or the pennant.

Only One Infield Single.

Ruth was allowed to make a measly infield single in four trips to the plate. That was in the third inning when he came up with the bases empty and two out and Faber incautiously delivered one where the super slugger could reach it. A home run then would have tied the score because the Sox were leading by only 2 to 1 at the time.

If the White Sox had made as many runs as they had chances to make off Carl Mays the crowd might have been entertained by a home run hit or two from Babe's bat, but the Gleason tribe frittered away so many tallies by punk base running that there was no opportunity to take a chance on the big fellow without jeopardizing the game, and Manager Gleason is trying to win another American league pennant for Chicago, even if the rooters don't want it.

Men on Bases, Beware!

Twice out of the four times Ruth faced Faber there was a Yank runner on the circuit. Twice there was nobody on, but the score was so close a four bagger meant a tied score and a possible defeat. Three of the four times Faber pitched four successive bad balls way out of Ruth's reach in spite of an anvil chorus that could be heard in Wilmette.

The exception was in the third round when Ruth was up for the second time. After pitching two balls, Faber tossed up one that was within reach of the Tarzan's long war club, and he poked it between short and third for a single, although Risberg pinched the hit back on the grass and made a too late throw to first, which Ruth easily beat out.

Jackson Fails to Slide.

The Sox would have been able to spot Ruth a couple of home runs with nobody on if they had played baseball. Once in the first inning Joe Jackson tossed away a tally and a home run for himself because he disobeyed orders and did not slide into the plate to avoid being tagged.

Once in the second inning Faber, running with his head down, wrecked a rally which would have scored at least one run. Once the Sox got a man to third with one down in the fifth and failed to score him because Mays gave Jackson an intentional pass, but the crowd did not roast him for that as hard as they did Faber for passing Ruth.

Mr. Joe Drives in Two.

Leibold started the Sox attack with a walk in the first and stole second after E. Collins flied out. Weaver beat out an infield single and Jackson pulled a drive into the corner of left field, scoring Leibold and Weaver. Ruth lost track of the ball and gave Mr. Joe a chance to convert it into a yard home run, but he was nipped at the plate by a wide relay by Pratt, because he tried to go in standing up. Felsch followed with a wasted single.

One down in the second, Schalk singled and Faber walked. Leibold cracked a single to Ruth, who fired it home fast enough to stop Schalk on third, but Faber overran second so far he could not get back ahead of Ruel's relay and there were two out. E. Collins whaled a fly to right far enough to have scored Schalk if Faber had not blundered.

Foul Fly Yields Run.

Two runs were all the Sox could get until the seventh, when Meusel handed them a third talley by catching Jackson's long foul fly close to the stand with E. Collins on third and only one out.

Faber had everything and then some on the slab and held the Yanks to five hits, three of which they corralled in the fourth inning for their only tally. Bodie led with a single, Ward and Ruel fouled out then Mays and Peck singled, scoring Ping.

Owner Gives Giants $1,000 Bonus for Defeating Reds

New York, Aug. 3.—When the New York Giants defeated Cincinnati today, in the final game of the current series, the Giants received a bonus of $1,000 from Charles A. Stoneham, the Giants' president.

EDDIE CICOTTE TELLS HOW HE KEEPS RUTH FROM POLING HOMERS

BY EDDIE CICOTTE.

I WOULD rather see Babe Ruth get a homer off my pitching than any other player in the league. He is a good friend of mine and I think he is the greatest hitter of all times.

But he has never made a home run off me yet and I am asked to tell how I pitch to him.

There is no particular way to pitch to Ruth. He has no hitting weakness that I ever noticed. The whole thing, as I see it, is to give him balls that can't very well be hit out of the park.

I mean this: A fast ball can be elevated easy. So can a curve ball. But a low spitter, which has a downward break, is hard to hit for a long clout. If a batter gets under it it goes straight up in the air. If he hits it square it is a ground ball nine times out of ten, and the tenth time is a fly with a whirl that brings it down within reach of the fielders.

But a wise pitcher facing Ruth will never feed him spitters exclusively. I mix them up. I give him my fast one to show him I have one, but I never groove it. Usually I shoot it about face high. When I use my slow ball on him I keep it inside and low. Then, when the count is close, I use the spitter.

PASSES BY RED FABER PREVENT "BABE" RUTH CRASHING OUT HOMERS

First inning—Ruth's first trip to the plate found Peck on second with two out. Faber deliberately pitched four successive balls so far outside of the plate that Babe could not reach them. Meusel then flied to Leibold.

Third inning—Ruth came up the second time with two out and nobody on. The Sox were two runs to the good and a home run would not hurt. Faber started to work on him this time. He pitched one ball low and outside, then tried to get the next one over, but it was a bit high and Connolly called it a ball. The third one Faber put over and Ruth poked it to deep short for a single, beating Risberg's throw a step. Meusel struck out.

Fifth inning—Ruth's next trip happened with one out and the bases empty, with the score 2 to 1. Faber pitched one curve inside and followed with a high one outside. It looked as if he meant the next one to be over, but it was too high; then a fourth ball was delivered way wide of the plate. Meusel and Bodie hit easy grounders.

Seventh inning—Ruth came up for the last time with Pipp on second and two out. The score still was 2 to 1. Again Ruth was intentionally passed on four balls too far outside of the plate to be reached. Meusel popped out.

WHITE SOX NOTES

Babe Ruth once more today.

Wee Richard Kerr probably will try to stop the Tarzan in the final game of the series.

Risberg doubled to left with one out in the sixth, but Schalk rolled out and Faber fanned.

Faber was intangible after the fourth inning, not a hit being made off him in the last five rounds.

Pratt went out on four successive foul flies, all of which dropped into the capacious mitt of Ray Schalk.

Risberg slipped and fell to his knees under Ruel's tall fly in the sixth, but straightened up in time to catch the ball.

Weaver made a great play on Meusel's slow teaser in the fifth, scooping the ball cleanly as he ran in and throwing it accurately without stopping to straighten up.

Pat Dougherty quit baseball a few years ago after pulling the bone play Meusel staged in the seventh, when he gave E. Collins a chance to score from third on a foul fly.

Mays made two of the five hits off Faber in three chances, but when it was Carl's turn to bat in the ninth Lewis was sent to bat for him and struck out. Can you beat it?

The estimated attendance for three games here totals 97,000 and there still is a chance to beat the 128,000 New York turned out to see the Sox play Ruth six games in four days last month.

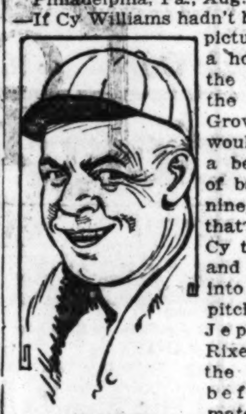
BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—If Cy Williams hadn't butted into the picture today with a home run over the right wall in the third inning, Grover Alexander would have won a beautiful game of ball, 1 to 0, in nine innings, but that four baser by Cy tied the count and threw Aleck into a desperate pitchers' duel with Jeptha Eppa Rixey, and it was the tenth inning before Aleck's mates could go over for him and win the battle, 3 to 1, his mates poling two in the extra inning spasm.



GROVER ALEXANDER.

Aleck had a bit the better of the duel with his old pal all the way, but it was a long time before the boys could drive in the run he needed to win. The snappy Phils poled a total of nine blows off Aleck and the Cubs hammered Rixey for a dozen shots, but Aleck was splendid whenever there was any danger.

Hard for Cubs to Score.

In the meantime, the Cubs had a lot of chances and had a terrible time before they could deliver the needed blow. They poled in one run in the third round, when Buck Herzog lined a two bagger down the left foul line with Aleck on second and Flack on first, Aleck beating it home, but after that it was a problem to get a tally off the tall Philly southpaw.

In the fifth it looked like the run was there, when Killefer's single, Aleck's sacrifice, and Flack's infield hit put runners on third and first with only one out, but this time Rixey himself knocked down a vicious liner and got Herzog at first without Aleck having a chance to score, then Terry lifted a fly.

Victory in Tenth.

In the tenth, Flack, first up, led off with a liner a foot above Rixey's head. The tall hurler retarded it on its way to center field for a single. Herzog bunted Max to second and Terry came through with a single to center that sent Flack home, Terry taking second on the peg to the plate, from where he scored on Paskert's single to right, after Merkle had flied out.

NOTES OF THE CUBS

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—One more tomorrow will wind up the series here. Jim Vaughn may pitch, but it is likely to be Hendrix or somebody so Vaughn may open in New York.

Merkle and Rixey have arranged to team together tomorrow morning in a golf match against a couple of local pros.

Cy Williams' four base blow in the third was his thirteenth for the season and would be worth a half column except for the fact that a guy named Ruth has poled thirty-eight.

Merkle was placed on first base because he usually swats the southpaw curves of Rixey. He swatted one the first time up for a double to right center, but got nary another blow.

PIRATES, 3; BRAVES, 2.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 3.—Pittsburgh defeated Boston, 3 to 2, taking advantage of McQuillan's wildness in the second inning, when a pass to Caton forced Cutshaw in and Grimm scored on Bigbee's sacrifice fly. In the Wake of the News

BABE RUTH DAY.

BABE RUTH, super swatsman of the American league, has no weaknesses as a batter, or if he has, as keen a student of baseball as Veteran Kid Gleason, manager of the White Sox, has not been able to discover them.

Following Monday's game in which Babe drove the ball almost on a line a distance of 400 feet into the right field bleachers, The Wake encountered Gleason coming from the park.

"What's Babe Ruth's weakness?" we asked.

"He hasn't any," replied Kid.

"What do you tell your pitchers to feed him?"

"I tell them to work on him."

"What do you mean by that?"

"Why, to mix 'em up, to try to outguess him. That's their only chance. If he comes up with men on bases and the game is close, pass him. If not, work on him.

"You can't give the same thing to Ruth right along. He may strike out on a ball and the next time he will knock that very same kind of a ball over the fence. I suppose a low ball inside is difficult, but he'll get those, too. If he knows it's coming, even once, he'll step back and kill it. I think he is the greatest long distance batter of all time."

The Real Hero.

The baseball scribes rave over Ruth
As homeward he doth frisk;
But how about the pitcher who Stands up, his life to risk?

It's great to watch the horsehide go
Soaring from old Babe's bat;
But when it's coming straight toward
YOU
It's no place to be AT. S. O. S.

Babe Ruth was born in Baltimore, Feb. 7, 1894. He stands 6 feet 1 inch and weighs about 198 pounds. He attended St. Mary's Industrial school and played on the school nine, where he attracted the attention of Jack Dunn, Baltimore manager, who had to adopt him legally to get him out. In 1914 Ruth played with Baltimore, but made such a reputation he was sold to Boston Red Sox, July 8, of his first year, then sent to Providence on an optional contract, Aug. 15, but recalled Sept. 2, since which he was a Boston regular until last winter, when sold to the Yankees for a reported price of $137,- cash and players, mostly cash.

What Counts?

I'd like to have Babe's muscle,
I'd like to have his swing,
I'd like to have his hustle
And almost everything
That he rejoices in for which
The public yells; but if I had his chance for vodveel dough
I'd be a lucky stiff. BUNNY.

Ruth is married, but has no children. He is one of the quietest members of the Yankees. Newspaper men traveling with the team say he has not been obliged to buy a larger hat. He accepts public homage as a matter of course, except that from youngsters, in which he delights, perhaps remembering his own school days.

SUCH IS LIFE.

"O, you Babe!" they holler this year;
"Attaboy!" just now they shout;
But next season if the bat fails
They will yelp, "Punk! Take him out!" GUY F. LEE.

Ever see such an array of new names? Sara Biala, for instance. Nancy Deever. And the owners of them are pretty good actresses. Evidently the day of the newcomer is at hand.

About the picture. It is based on the poem by Robert W. Service, but is not as good a picture as the poem is a poem. Reason—it's gummed up with too many people and the too many interests of the too many people. If more to the point it might have been forceful. As it stands, it really resolves itself into a mass of detail.

The plot proper is concerned with a young and mysterious newspaper man who goes to the Yukon to start a newspaper. There he meets and loves Goldie, the innocent adopted daughter of an honest dance hall owner. Well and good so far. But then the doctor's wife and Tiny Tess show up to distract your attention, and there be, too, Joe Duke and Cully and Medford Delaney, and dear knows how many others, all emoting in their several fashions to beat the cars.

You just don't know where they're all at until the vurr' end, when the newspaper man's wife arrives coughing upon the scene to tell on the witness stand what a good man her husband has been, reveal the dastardly plots of the villains against him, free him from the charge of robbery, and, as the last words fall from her pallid lips, die conveniently in order that the good man, her husband, may be free to wed his Goldie and end the picture happily.

If you like snow pictures—and I do on a hot day—here's the one to make you happy. And, really, it's not a bad picture, at that. As compared to some, it's quite a good picture.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunty Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Bobbie and Bess were playing together, somewhat roughly, when Bess cried out: "O, bobbie, you hurt my shin."

"Which shin, Bess?" Bobbie asked. "The one on your face or the one on your knee?" J. S.

Doris, the daughter of a country storekeeper, was very fond of romping with her father.

One stormy day, when there were no customers about, she climbed upon the counter, and, wanting her father to come and play, called out repeatedly, "How can I get down?"

Being busy, he answered, "Get down the way you got up."

Presently he stepped from the sliding ladder on a high shelf, and, in doing so pushed the ladder out of reach.

He remarked laughingly to his partner, "I don't know how I am going to get down."

BEAUTY ANSWERS

A. J. K.: THE GRAY LINES IN the neck may be eradicated by nightly massage after careful washing. There is a very definite way of reducing a double chin. The neck massage and the double chin treatment I have in pamphlet form for you; also a reducing diet and exercise. Exercise for the hips in separate form, I have too. Not too much; I am only too glad to be of service. Just send me stamped, addressed envelope, please.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Truly the season has been allowed to brown on every side. For from the little brown organdies which we don in the morning to the little brown taffeta dance frock which we wear at night, every summer thing is "done." Here is an example of the brown taffeta frock which we may wear to the country club dinner and also for the afternoon affair. It is combined with toast-tinted malines lace and this lace underskirt is plaited.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.

Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns you want. Inclose 12 cents in stamps or coin (wrap coin carefully) for each number, and address your order to Clotilde, CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Note: Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

I want to be the medium through which the friend in deed and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be you have some discarded article which has not outgrown its usefulness that will make some less fortunate one happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to go about it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper.

When information is wanted by mail a stamped, addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to The Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Save a Bit First.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18 years old and much in love with a young man two years my senior. He has no very bad habits, but my parents object to him because he is rather poor. But does that matter if we love each other? He has enough to keep us alive. What would you advise me to do? MARIE."

Well, Marie, poverty is not the blessing the poets would have us believe. It is not what you might call the best kind of soil for love to flourish on. If you are like the average young lady, and she is a very adorable young person, I may add, just barely keeping yourself alive will not satisfy the demand; now, honestly, will it? Suppose you just keep on being in love with him for a couple of years, and both save up for a wedding day.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

CURRANT JELLY.

Currants are still in the market, so it is not too late to mention this specific sort of jelly. The juice of the currant is richer in pectin perhaps, when it is undiluted, than that of any other fruit.

It is for this reason that we can make a currant jelly without cooking the juice. This jelly is sourer and has more of the currant flavor than any that can be made by cooking. And besides that we have to work so expeditiously in cooking so rapidly a jellying mixture as currant juice and sugar that we may not get the best jelly because we cannot work fast enough.

Wash a box of currants or any quantity you choose, drain well, and pick currants from stems. This latter operation may not be necessary, but I think we get the best results so. Add from one to four tablespoons of water to a quart of currants, or mash a few and put the whole to cook gently until all have burst and are tender.

Drain through jelly bag. To the juice add its measure of sugar and stir until it is thoroughly dissolved. Pour at once into cups.

It will stiffen over night, but to complete the process or to get it to an ideal consistency cover with glass and set in sun for a half day, then cover with paraffin.

The pulp may be just covered with water, recooked, drained, three-fourths of a cup of sugar added to the juice and cooked like any jelly. Three extractions may be made, or sometimes four, and all the jelly will be good. Be careful in recooking pulp to cook over a small amount of fire.

Some Wonderful Chords.

It happened during my junior year at college. Several of us were enjoying one of the best concerts of the season, by acting as ushers for the occasion, when there came an unexpected call for some one to carry a big harp out on the platform. I volunteered. The harp didn't seem heavy, and I went along fine—past all the palms and under all the decorations, with 2,000 pairs of eyes watching. But, setting it down was a different proposition. I felt the thing start before I wanted it to, but I couldn't stop it. My fingers struck some of the most wonderful chords you could imagine! In fact, I believe I played the scale perfectly from the largest to the smallest string, and the applause I drew from those students and their girls was something I'll never forget, even if it is impossible to remember how I ever got off that platform. SOCIETY and Entertainments

Higginson Girls Engineer Activities of Lenox Younger Set

Misses Lee and Theresa Higginson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson Jr. of 1323 Astor street, are leaders in the activities of the younger set at Lenox, Mass., where the Higginsons have a summer place. In a tennis match held last week at the Lenox club courts Miss Lee Higginson, with W. Roscoe Bonsal, defeated her sister and Machlin Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Higginson gave a dinner on Saturday for their daughters, and their guests, Miss Elizabeth and Thayer Thorndike of Boston.

Enough caddies returned to work at Onwentsia yesterday so that the ladies did not have to "tote" their own bags around the course, and by each boy carrying two bags all went smoothly. The events were a nine and an eighteen hole medal play handicap, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson winning the former and Mrs. Earle H. Reynolds the latter. Among the contestants were Mrs. John Andrews King, Mrs. Jay Morse Ely, Mrs. Huntington Henry, Mrs. Austin H. Niblack, Mrs. Thorne Donnelley, Mrs. Charles E. Brown Jr., Mrs. John Crerar, Mrs. Mason Phelps, Mrs. Paul E. Gardner, Mrs. Donald B. Douglas, Mrs. George R. Nichols, Mrs. Springer Brooks, Mrs. James O. Hinkley, Mrs. Harry B. Clow, and Mrs. Joseph C. Belden.

His New Book

VAGABONDING THROUGH CHANGING GERMANY

Franck had unusual experiences and adventures as he tramped the backroads, and stopped at the farm houses and little inns of Germany; but his book is more than that—for he got at the heart of the common people, and learned what they thought of the war and the peace, and their future. WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Miss Margaret Wilson, who has been with the president and Mrs. Wilson at the White House for several days, has returned to New York. President and Mrs. Wilson took a long ride yesterday afternoon, motoring far into the country.

The attorney general, A. Mitchell Palmer, who returned to Washington yesterday after a holiday spent with Mrs. Palmer at Stroudsburg, Pa., has taken an apartment at the Shoreham, since his home in R street is closed for the summer.

The secretary of the treasury, Mr. Houston, returned to Washington this morning from Woods Hole, Mass., where he visited his family, who are established there for the summer months.

The secretary of the navy and Mrs. Daniels returned last evening from the west, where the secretary has been since the San Francisco convention. Mrs. Daniels joined him at Yellowstone Park, and they stopped at the Great Lakes Naval Training station. Worth Daniels and Frank Daniels, sons of the secretary and Mrs. Daniels, came to Washington to meet them.

Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan, has returned from Asheville, Tenn., where he spent the last week end. He is acting as assistant to the secretary of state in handling Japanese questions now before the department.

Professor Sees Chicago of 2020 10,000,000 City

Twenty-seven persons—professors, bankers, men of business—gathered in the University club last night to discuss the formation of a magazine, to be published by the Geographic society of Chicago. Its aim, as announced by Prof. J. Paul Goode of the University of Chicago, would be not only to boost this city and the middle west, but to make Chicago the foreign trade center of the world.

Prof. Goode believes that the possibilities of this region are almost limitless. He thinks that before Chicago is another century old it will attain a population of 10,000,000 inhabitants. He is convinced that a magazine of geographic research, which would tell accurately and concisely of the various countries in which there is a market for commodities of this district, would stimulate foreign trade to such an extent that the world would almost radiate about Chicago.

"At present Americans don't know whether they want foreign trade or not," said F. E. St. Austell, head of the foreign trade division of the Continental and Commercial National bank.

"The reason for this is because they are handicapped by lack of knowledge of the foreign trade market. The field of this magazine would be to educate them by giving them authentic information about the countries with which they might carry on commerce. Then nothing can stop America from becoming the greatest foreign trade country in the world, with Chicago the logical center of that commerce."

William R. Dawes, vice president of the Central Trust company, indorsed the plan.

"The merchant has got to be well informed before he can ever hope to accomplish anything in the way of foreign trade," he said, "and the necessity for finding an outlet for our manufactured goods and the products of the soil will undoubtedly be very great in the future.

"If this idea could be brought home to the merchants of this part of the country it should not be difficult to secure funds for starting such a magazine and carrying on the research work."

The plan, as outlined last night, is for trained investigators to go forth, study the idiosyncracies, the demands, the conditions of various foreign countries, with especial regard for the products of the Chicago area, and then reporting them through the magazine. Meetings will be held in the near future to consider ways and means of getting the project started.

Noted Fisherman "Catches" Bride

It used to be that when "Jack" Evans—Attorney John T. Evans, 108 South La Salle street—returned from a vacation he exhibited a twenty pound "musky" or a pair of antlers, or some such trophy to his bachelor friends among the "Phi Delts" and members of the various bar associations, the Chicago Athletic association and the Exmoor Country and Hamilton clubs. Yesterday he returned from a vacation at South Beach, Conn., and last night surprised his friends by producing a blushing bride.

He and Miss Gladys Washington, daughter of Mrs. L. A. Washington of Sound Beach, were married by Judge Leo Doyle in the latter's home yesterday.

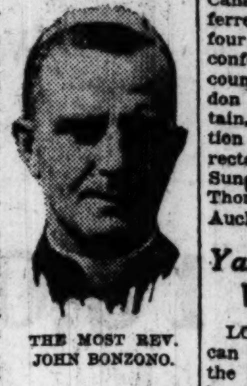
Bishop Tells 3 "R's" That Beat Bolshevism

New York, Aug. 3.—Archbishop John Bonzano, apostolic delegate to the United States, was celebrant today at a pontifical mass at St. Patrick's cathedral as the opening event of the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus. Bishop John G. Murray of Hartford, Conn., who preached the sermon, declared that the three most important "r's" in modern life are religion, righteousness, and respect for constituted authority. With these implanted in the hearts of the people, he said, there will be no danger of bolshevism.



THE MOST REV. JOHN BONZONO.

The opening session of the convention was devoted to reports of the supreme officers.

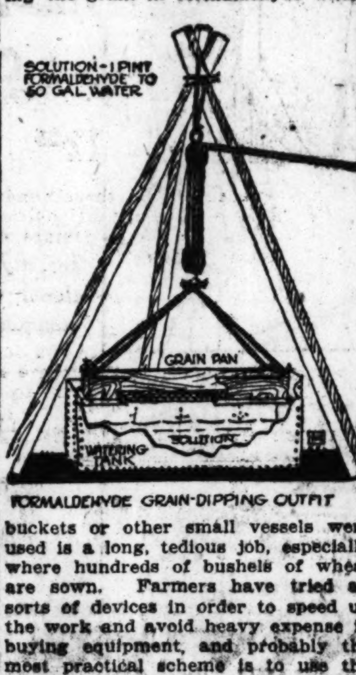
Marshal Ferdinand Foch, who is to unveil the Lafayette statue the Knights of Columbus have presented to France, today cabled a message of felicitation to the convention.

"The French municipalities of Paris, Chateau Thierry, Versailles, Verdun, and Metz," the message stated, "are preparing enthusiastic receptions for the Knights of Columbus Lafayette delegation."

How to Treat Wheat for Bunt

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

BIG wheat growers have found out that it does not pay to take the risk of sowing wheat without first treating it for stinking smut or bunt. They also found that soaking the grain in formaldehyde where buckets or other small vessels were used is a long, tedious job, especially where hundreds of bushels of wheat are sown. Farmers have tried all sorts of devices in order to speed up the work and avoid heavy expense in buying equipment, and probably the most practical scheme is to use the watering tank.



FORMALDEHYDE GRAIN-DIPPING OUTFIT

Where the watering tank is used the "dipping net" system is employed instead of draining off the solution. Western growers have recently found this to be handy, and they can treat several hundred bushels in a single day. The dipping net is made to fit in the tank and of convenient size so it can be freely lowered and raised in the container.

A square or rectangular shaped frame, depending on the shape of the watering tank, made of one-half inch rods, will be needed to support the net. The net consists of a wooden frame made of boards six inches wide and of the same dimensions as the iron frame. Tack ordinary window screen wire netting on the wooden frame to form the bottom and cover this with heavy hail screen. Heavy wire should be fastened across the iron frame to strengthen and make the net rigid. Handles may be made of rope and placed at each end. The dipping net may be handled by one man where a rope, pulley, an windlass is used to hoist it.

In treating the seed the net should be filled with grain not more than one, two, or three inches deep. The grain must be stirred as the net is gradually lowered into the solution, made from one pint of formaldehyde and forty gallons of water. After the net has been lowered so the liquid covers the grain the smut balls and other foreign matter that float on the surface should be skimmed off. Soak the grain about fifteen minutes, remove it, and dry thoroughly.

DIPPING OUTFIT

Wash all of the sacks, bins, and drills before using them in handling the treated grain.

McGill Gives Degrees to Press Delegates

Montreal, Que., Aug. 3.—Sir Arthur Currie, new principal of McGill university and former commander of the Canadian forces in France, today conferred degrees of doctor of laws upon four delegates of the imperial press conference. Those honored were Viscount Burnham, proprietor of the London Daily Telegraph; Sir Harry Brittain, representing the Press Association of England; R. S. W. Jackson, director of the Rand Daily Mail and Sunday Times, Johannesburg, and Thomas Wilson Leys, editor of the Auckland Star, New Zealand.

Yankee Boy Scouts Set World Record in London

LONDON, Aug. 3.—A team of American Boy Scouts from Miami, Fla., at the International Boy Scout "jamboree" today, established a world's record in the trek cart competition. Eight American youths, competing against the Welsh team, covered 500 yards over obstacles with a two wheeled trek cart loaded with 400 pounds, in 2 minutes 53 3-5 seconds. The Welsh boys two more than four minutes.

OBITUARY.

WAKEMAN BURR HENION died at his home at 4839 Kenwood avenue yesterday. He was born in Seneca Falls, New York, Aug. 11, 1843, and was a veteran of the civil war. Coming to Chicago in 1887 he founded the firm of Henion & Hubbell and has been president of this company since its incorporation in 1901.

OBITUARY.

W. P. Campbell, Safe Deposit Official, Dies

Funeral services for William P. Campbell of 5704 Dorchester avenue, vice president and general manager of the Chicago Safe Deposit company, who died Monday, will be held this afternoon.

Mr. Campbell was born in Bath, N. Y., in 1846. He was educated in Canandaigua academy, and served during the civil war in the paymaster's department. He came to Chicago in 1866, and became the private secretary of George B. Armstrong, the founder of the railway mail service.

He rose to the position of assistant general superintendent. Returning to Chicago, he was engaged for a time in the surety business, and later was appointed manager, subsequently vice president, of the Chicago Safe Deposit company.

DEATH NOTICES

IN MEMORIAM.

OGBORN—Willis Herbert Ogborn Jr., accidentally killed at La Grange, Ind., Dec. 7, 1918. In loving memory of our dearly beloved son and brother, who would be 18 years old today, and is spending his birthday in heaven.

If we had seen you at the last, dear Willis,
To hold your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart,
We would not feel so bad.
Long years will try the bursting tears
And calm and soothe the pain,
But love will keep the memory green
Till we meet again.

PRODUCE FIRMS FIGHT TO STAY ON S. WATER ST.

Demand Public Hearing on New Thoroughfare.

South Water street interests have not given up their fight to retain their stronghold in the downtown district.

Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, was handed a petition yesterday demanding that a public hearing be held on the question of widening Haddock place, the alley between Lake and South Water streets from Franklin to State streets, to make room for the commission merchants who will be ousted by the improvement of South Water street.

Faherty Must Act.

"The petition is signed by the majority of the property owners and asks that Haddock place be widened to eighty feet," Mr. Faherty said.

"Though the automobile clubs and the loop interests are unanimously against permitting the commission firms to remain between Lake street and the river, I am obliged to call the public hearing within thirty days under the law."

Should the petitioners win their fight at the hearing the whole question would be thrown before the city council. Mr. Faherty plans to begin work on the South Water street project next spring.

Link Material Arrives.

Work was begun on the boulevard link plazas yesterday and the stone for the link trimmings is being quarried at Lemont, Ill. The long awaited steel for the bridge guard towers has arrived and the $16,000,000 project will be completed down to its name plate in about nine months, Mr. Faherty said.

GIRLS FLOCK TO ART INSTITUTE FOR PART IN "FIRESIDE DRAMA"

ETHEL TISHLER.

Dozens of girls flocked to the Art institute yesterday in answer to an advertisement for a brunette with a soprano voice to travel throughout the United States in an educational troupe. Included were Edith Frost and Ethel Tishler.

The troupe of four actors and an assistant is to be directed by Mrs. P. H. Spaulding, head of the extension department. The players, in state fairs and big commercial institutions, will show their audiences how to build, furnish, and care for better homes.

The course runs five days, and includes dramatizations of home furnishing, demonstrations of the art of dress, chalk talks by Ross Crane, painting, and music. The intention is to raise interest in the home beautiful.

EDITH FROST.

The "better homes" movement has been under way now for three years. So far, only one troupe, under the direct leadership of Ross Crane, has been playing. "Lack of capital only," says Mrs. Spaulding, "has prevented a more rapid extension of the movement."

Owner of $20,000 Jewels on Negro Prisoner Found

Detective Sergeants William Brophy and Joseph O'Donnell of the detective bureau have found the owner of $20,000 worth of jewelry in possession of Leroy Green, Negro, arrested a week ago. The jewels belong to David L. Luke of Tarrytown, N. Y., whose home was robbed several weeks ago.

CHAPLIN STINGY IN LOVE, CASH, WIFE CHARGES

New York, Aug. 3.—[Special.]—Mrs. Charlie Chaplin [Mildred Harris], who has begun suit for divorce in Los Angeles, was interviewed this afternoon. She said he economized both in love and cash for her.

"My allegations of cruelty refer to mental cruelty," she said. "Charlie did not beat me, but he caused me to suffer great mental anguish by his neglect. I never knew where he was or what he was doing. He married me, and as soon as he married me he forgot all about me.

"He economized in caring for me when I was ill, and preached economy even to and including the funeral arrangements. When I was able to leave the hospital and go home he would not go home with me."

Mrs. Chaplin denied that professional jealousy figured in their disagreement.

Wilmette Board Approves $125,000 Tax Levy for Year

The Wilmette village board approved a tax levy for 1921 of $125,000. This will provide $25,000 for salaries, $12,500 for street lighting, and $13,500 to apply on the rebuilding of the village hall, partially demolished last March when the town was hit by a tornado.

THEFT INSURANCE SOARS DURING MAYOR'S REIGN

City Pays for the Increase in Crimes.

Chicago, under the administration of Mayor Thompson, pays nearly twice as much for its burglary and robbery insurance as any other city in the United States. The city has always had high rates, but the increase in crime since the advent of the present city hall régime has pushed them skywards with leaps and bounds until now, a little more than five years after the first inauguration of the mayor, they have increased 43 per cent.

How Rates Increased.

In 1915, when the mayor first took office, the burglary and robbery rates on class "A" risks, that is, private homes and two family dwellings, amounted to $28 for a $2,000 policy, while a class "B" risk, an apartment or flat building, cost $32.50 for the same kind of a policy. Crime in Chicago, burglaries, robberies, and murders, have steadily increased, however, necessitating a corresponding increase in the insurance rates, so that now a class "A" risk for a $2,000 policy costs $40 and a class "B" risk costs $52. They are the rates which were put into effect by all the large companies doing a burglary and robbery insurance business in Cook county several days ago.

Rates Based on Crime.

The insurance companies in Chicago figure their rates on the number of crimes committed and attempted, and these figures they get from the Chicago crime commission. The 1919 report of the commission shows that there were 336 murders, 6,055 burglaries, 2,916 robberies, and 4,447 automobiles stolen in that year, which figures were greatly in excess of any previous years. The figures now in the hands of the commission show that the city is well on its way to eclipse its 1919 record.

"Burglary insurance rates are figured on the crime reports of the various cities in which the rates are to be effective," said George Middleton, head of the burglary department of March & McLennan. "There is more crime in Chicago than in any other city, consequently insurance rates should be higher. When the police get busy and reduce the number of crimes, then burglary and robbery insurance rates will come down.

Some Risks Refused.

"Conditions are so bad in certain sections of the city that this company will not accept business from there; the risk is too great. These districts are principally the black belt on the south side and the ghetto on the west.

"As I said in the beginning, high insurance rates are the result of increases in crime. When the crimes in Chicago are reduced, then, and not until then, will insurance premiums on burglary and robbery insurance go down."

E. B. BUTLER GIVES PASADENA SITE FOR ART MUSEUM

Edward Burgess Butler, art connoisseur, who retired from the presidency of Butler Brothers six years ago, has donated the site for a new art museum for the city of Pasadena, Cal., according to a dispatch received in Chicago yesterday. Mr. Butler, whose home is in Winnetka, is at present in Pasadena.

Mr. Butler was 60 years old when he gave up the presidency of his firm to Homer A. Stillwell. At the time he said he wanted to "play" for since he was 16 years old, when he began his career with the firm of Butler, Rogers & Co., in Boston, as a bundle boy. When he retired he immediately took up the study of art. Mr. Butler is a director of the Chicago Art institute, and donor of the George Inness room of paintings. He has achieved some fame as a painter of California landscapes.

Postal Clerks Answer Charges Burleson Made

Answers to charges that they were guilty of pernicious and political activity in their attempts to improve conditions at the Chicago postoffice were made yesterday by the eleven clerks involved.

A mass meeting of all the members of the Postoffice Clerks' union will be held at the Princess theater next Sunday.

Mooney Back After Two Weeks of Ranch Life

Chief of Detectives James L. Mooney returned yesterday from a two weeks' vacation at the ranch of Tom Cox, near Varetta, N. M. With him were Detective Sergeants William Croot and Frank Johnson. They rode buckskin broncheos, lassoed steers, killed rattlesnakes, and participated in a five gallon shindig.

A GAY COMEDY AT POWERS'

MISS MARTHA HEDMAN in "Transplanting Jean."
[Matzene Photo.]

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

A droll jumble of paradoxes is "Transplanting Jean," with which Powers' reopened its freshly painted doors last evening. In it we learn, under the Gallic tutelage of the knowing MM. de Flers and Caillavet, such disconcerting truths as that the wages of sin is mellow old age with a pretty young wife; that youth is slow and rural and gray hairs dashing and urban, and that legitimacy of birth leaves much to be desired, as compared with less conventional circumstances in the matter of ancestry.

All of which, you will perceive, is propounded in the sly manner of French high comedy, tongue in cheek perhaps, but deftly and with never a leer, as the French alone know how to do it. You will hesitate, possibly, to take your daughter to "Transplanting Jean," but, having gone yourself, you will doubtless wonder why.

The play, which is new to America, restores to Chicago the too infrequent benison of Miss Martha Hedman's presence, and brings us the veteran Arthur Byron in the dual rôle of player and producer. Mr. Byron is the Comte de Larsac, a veritable Peter Pan of philandering, brought up short in his career of joyous amours by a determination to settle down and look up his son, the offspring of one of his affairs, who has been brought up in the country and whom he has never seen. This son is in love with his neighbor, the impoverished and beautiful daughter of a once wealthy father—a circumstance which proves a stumbling block when the Comte determines to transplant the boy, Jean, to Paris and teach him how to live.

Follows an amusing conflict between father and son, the father determined that the boy shall accept his heritage as the son of a boulevardier, the youth reluctant to give up his props, his virtue, and his intended domesticity. After an hour in Paris he finds his festive parent a calamity, says so, and flees the bright lights.

Back in the foothills of the Pyrenees, however, things go badly. For father tags along, dazzles Jean's fair neighbor with his irrepressible exuberance, and, all unwitting, transfers her affections to himself. Whereupon the boy graciously adjusts matters by withdrawing from the field and finding solace elsewhere.

Miss Hedman, of course, is the disturbing lady in the case, and is her usual delectable self, making an alluring thing of a rôle which, in less skilful hands, might easily be little more than a foil for that of the Comte de Larsac. This is a showy, rollicking characterization, and Mr. Byron makes the most of it, playing the voluble Don Juan with untiring gusto.

Richard Barbee fills in the picture adequately as the retiring Jean without making much fuss about it, and the other players are capable for the most part—notably so in one or two cases.

CONVICTION OF CHICAGO REDS PLEASES NATION

Congratulations Pour Into Hoyne's Office.

Telegrams of congratulations poured into the state's attorney's office yesterday. Law enforcing officers throughout the country were praising him for his victory in the Red trial.

The conviction of William Bross Lloyd, millionaire leader of the Communist Labor party, and the nineteen other radicals, charged with sedition, was hailed as the first important victory achieved so far in the fight against bolshevism and similar movements.

The convicted men meanwhile were conferring with their attorneys preparatory to taking an appeal. Frank Comerford, who as special counsel conducted the prosecution of the Reds, expressed his confidence that the verdict would not be reversed.

Sees an Easy Victory.

"The defendants cannot well seek a reversal on any technical grounds," said Comerford. "None of them offered any contest to the documentary evidence produced against them, and there were only three defense witnesses, all from Seattle."

That their verdict expressed the sentiment of the entire country was the belief of members of the jury.

"Our country is the best in the world and good enough for us," said Frank S. Reid, 3303 Park avenue, the foreman. "If the Reds didn't like it they should have stayed out. We never had any doubt as to their guilt."

New Trial to Be Argued.

The defendants are all out on bonds. A motion to have them taken into custody was overruled. A motion for a new trial will be argued on Sept. 25.

The state will then proceed with the trials of the other radicals taken in the raids of last New Year's day. Thirty-six members of the Communist party and eighty-seven I. W. W.'s are awaiting trial.

SCRAPPY CLIENT GETS KNOCKOUT FROM ATTORNEY

Attorney Marshall V. Kearney is herewith awarded a newspaper decision over his client, Vincent Cipar, 2126 South Halsted street. The bout occurred yesterday in the courtroom of Chief Justice Robert E. Crowe. It ended with bailiffs carrying the conquered defendant from the ring.

Cipar was on trial for a crime against a 4 year old child. Kearney was to defend him.

"Your honor, I gave this lawyer $50 and if I don't get my money back I won't stand trial," said Cipar. "Also if I don't get medical treatment I won't stay in jail."

The attorney offered to withdraw from the case and tendered a check. This was refused. Without warning, Cipar led with his left for the chin. Kearney sidestepped and the fight was on. One round sufficed. It was a lively mixup for a few minutes. Kearney scored often before bailiffs threw in the towel for Cipar. Judge Crowe forgot to give a decision.

SCHULYER SEEKS FREEDOM FROM U. S. INDICTMENT

Demurrers to federal indictments charging Daniel J. Schuyler and his law partner, Charles Weinfeld, with perjury in connection with the filing of their income tax returns for 1916 were filed in the United States District court yesetrday. Should they be upheld, there can be no further prosecution by the government, for the statue of limitations has run out on the perjury charge.

Remus, Wanted in Booze Cases, Now Sought Here

Search for Attorney George Remus, wanted on charges of conspiracy to move thirty cases of liquor from the Sibley warehouse on forged liquor permits, was instituted yesterday in Chicago. New York operatives were notified Saturday that Remus was traveling in the east on his honeymoon. Yesterday, however, a tip was received by Assistant District Attorney John J. Kelly that Mrs. Remus had been seen in Evanston.

TAXI DRIVERS QUIZZED IN HUNT FOR BRAUN GEMS

Nearly every driver of a yellow painted taxicab in the loop was questioned yesterday regarding the disappearance of $10,000 worth of jewels which Mrs. George P. Braun Jr. lost on Monday between the time she left a train from New York and reached her residence at 1221 Astor street.

MRS. G. P. BRAUN JR.

Mrs. Braun is convinced she engaged a taxi of the Yellow Cab company, but officials of that company have failed to find any record of the fare, and the police believe she may have engaged an independent cab of the same color.

The missing articles consist of an onyx ring, diamond wrist watch, platinum watch set with diamonds, diamond pendant, diamond bracelet, and diamond lavalliere.

Goggles Fool Pickpockets and Arrest Follows

Detective Sergeant William Blaul, for fifteen years the paramount pickpocket beagle of the police department, wore smoked glasses yesterday because the sun irritated his eyes.

Three men jostled him. A hand slid into a pocket. He seized the owner of the hand, also the other two men, removed the goggles, and summoned the patrol.

"Why, it's Bill Blaul, ain't it?" chorused the three.

"It is," replied Mr. Blaul, "and you're Clarence Warren, Max Felisher, and Joseph Cohen. Haven't picked you up for some time."

Poses as Auto Purchaser, Robs Agency of $1,315

A man who said he was John Smith entered the automobile agency of J. H. Balch, 2333 South Michigan avenue, last night, selected a car and tendered a deposit of $50. When Mr. Balch opened the safe, he drew a revolver and took $1,315 from the cash box, including the $50. Then he backed out the front way and escaped.

Safecrackers early yesterday dynamited the safe of the Hopper, a confectionery shop, 4626 Sheridan road, obtaining $7,763 in currency, stocks and bonds.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

THE TRIBUNE on Monday stated that Inez Nelson, 353 North avenue, was arrested for kissing a jackie in public. It was not Inez who was arrested, but a distant acquaintance, who gave her name to the police.

VINCI GOES FREE ON BONDS TODAY IN ENRIGHT DEATH

James Vinci, recently convicted of complicity in the murder of Maurice Enright, will be released today. A bond of $20,000 was approved yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Orrin N. Carter. A writ of supersedeas had been issued ordering Vinci freed pending an appeal.

"Big Tim" Murphy, Vincenzo Cosmano, and Michael Corozzo, also accused of the murder, were released last week owing to the absence of two important witnesses.

When first arrested, Vinci made a confession to the state's attorney, in which he admitted driving the automobile used in the slaying of Enright. He named the others. When brought to trial he repudiated the confession. But it was admitted in evidence against him and he was sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment.

His attorney, James J. Barbour, went to Springfield yesterday to get the documents necessary to obtain his freedom on bonds.

2 MEN, WOMAN, ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

George J. Schaller, a mail carrier, 7531 South Morgan street, suffered a fracture of the skull and internal injuries when struck by an automobile truck piloted by Joseph Gleason, 9223 South Halsted street. Gleason is being held.

William Mau, 715 South Claremont avenue, was internally injured when struck by a stolen automobile at Union avenue and West Forty-seventh street. The driver of the automobile jumped from the car after the accident and escaped.

Jeannette Movish, 20 years old, 2638 West Railroad avenue, Evanston, is at the St. Francis hospital there in a critical condition. She was struck by an automobile Sunday night. Witnesses said the license number was 427362, Illinois, 1920. That was issued to Maj. Daniel E. Egan of the United States recruiting office in Chicago. He could not be found last night.

RALPH BURDICK, TENNIS STAR, IS SUED BY WIFE

Mrs. Margaret Burdick, wife of Ralph Burdick, winner of the Chicago tennis singles championship in 1919, filed suit for divorce in the District court at Reno, Nev., yesterday. News of the action caused little surprise among her Chicago friends, it is said, as it was rumored several months ago a suit was impending.

The bill of complaint charges Burdick with non-support and recites there are no property rights to be settled. The Burdicks were married Sept. 12, 1910, in Dixon, Ill. No children have been born. Their Chicago residence is given as 1330 West Jackson boulevard.

Wounded Soldiers Guests on Michigan City Trip

Seventy-five wounded soldiers at the Fort Sheridan hospital took a trip to Michigan City, Ind., on the steamer Florida yesterday, as the guests of the Fort Sheridan Recall, the camp newspaper. Upon their arrival in Michigan City they were met by the War Mothers' association and a delegation from the local chamber of commerce, who entertained them during the day.

Doctor Held as Accessory in Bank Holdup Slaying

Casimer Wysocki, 1509 Wicker Park place, and Dr. John A. Stevenson, 1658 [illegible] Chicago avenue, were ordered held to the grand jury yesterday on charges of murder and accessory after the fact in the death of A. Rouillard, 2258 West Roosevelt road. He was killed June 16 in a holdup of a bank at 2322 West Roosevelt road.

Thinks "Ragged Stranger" Wanderer Killed His Cousin

The mystery surrounding the identity of the youthful victim of Lieut. Carl Wanderer's double murder may be cleared today. Edward Purcell, member of the fire department in Cincinnati, O., is expected to arrive in Chicago today. He believes the body to be that of his cousin, Albert J. Purcell.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

Today's Question.

What animal not in the zoo would you like most to see added to the collection?

Where Asked.

At the Lincoln park zoo.

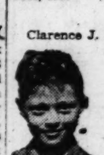
The Answers.

Miss Merle Hartwell, 832 Montrose avenue, actress—I don't see any giraffes around here. No zoo is really complete without one. I vote for a giraffe.

Alfred E. Parker, 3 East Walton place, director of the Lincoln park zoo—I would prefer a hippopotamus. One is expected to arrive here from Liberia in a couple of months, however; so my wish now is for a rhinoceros. Have you a little rhino in your home?

Shirley Logan, 396 Lake Shore drive, a little enthusiast—The pelican's a nice animal. I saw one step on a goose yesterday. Wouldn't it be nice to have a zoo monkey as big as you are? Bears are awfly nice, too.

Clarence J. Brown, 1042 North Keystone avenue, schoolboy—We ought to have a wild horse. I've seen 'em in the movies, but never got a look at a real, live one. Maybe Bill Hart would come around then and try to ride him.



Officer Charles Kalweit, 4104 North Maplewood avenue—Well, now, personally, I'm not so anxious to see a new animal around here as an aquarium. So many people ask me where it is located, and I have to confess we haven't any. An aquarium would be mighty interesting, too.

GOT YOUR RENT RAISE NOTICE? IT'S ON THE WAY

40% Over October, '19, "Reasonable."

BY AL CHASE.

Have you got your rent increase yet? That's the apartment house query now—both Gold Coast and elsewhere. For the mails have been clogged for the last few weeks with notices from renting agents to tenants which read like carbon copy of what another bunch of flat dwellers got two months prior to May 1.

No one knows exactly how high rents are climbing, but all real estate men agree that they're going up.

"The increase ranges from 15 to 70 per cent and in some cases even higher," said Adolph Kramer, president of the Chicago Real Estate board. "They are being put up higher than last May's increase, because operation costs have gone up so much higher. For instance, Pocahontas coal, which was $8.50 a ton last spring, or $1 a ton more than during the war, is now $11 a ton.

Says Shortage Impends.

"We're facing a more acute shortage in apartments this fall than last spring. The crowd of vacationists who gave up their flats for the summer, are coming back soon; the normal increase of population has kept on and then there are the marriages.

"Practically every one who has received his notice of increased rent has come in and signed a new lease for a year. We've had few complaints. Most people are staying where they are in spite of bigger rentals."

President A. W. Stanmeyer, president of the Cook County Real Estate board, said he thought the peak in high rentals had been reached.

Forty Per Cent Reasonable.

"It is impossible to set an absolute and arbitrary per cent that holders of flat leases can expect to pay," he said, "but I should say that if a man received no increase in rent in October, 1919, he would have no justifiable protest if he received a 40 per cent jump this year. That is, of course, if his flat had been renting at its full value before."

VACANT HOMES, BUT—

Chicago has a surplus of dwellings—flats, houses and bungalows—but they are either of the high priced sort or are old, in need of repairs, and situated in districts considered passe.

That is the gist of Chief of Police Garrity's housing report, which is almost ready to be handed over to the Chicago real estate board. On their face the figures show that the city's flat shortage is a myth, but on analysis the shortage of "middle class" homes sticks up like a sore thumb.

4,500 Vacant Homes Soon.

At the chief's direction policemen canvassed the housing situation in each of the city's twenty-seven police districts with the following results:

There are 2,544 vacant dwellings—flats, houses, and bungalows—in the city.

At the conclusion of the present construction season the surplus of dwellings will be nearly 4,500.

Twenty-seven hundred families are answering the high rent question by living two, three, and four in a single family dwelling.

562 Flats Building.

Flat buildings, houses, and bungalows under construction number 632, and without giving the number of buildings, the report says that 562 additional flats will be ready when snow flies.

But there are strings to the good news. The police figures on "doubled up" families do not include those living in hotels. In addition, a goodly number of the 2,544 vacant dwellings are listed as "condemned by the city" and "in need of repairs."

Nearly one-sixth of the vacancies are in the Summerdale and Rogers Park police districts, and consist mostly of vacancies in recently completed apartment hotels. About 10 per cent of the empty homes are along Wallace street, and Parnell, Wentworth, Normal and Shields avenue in the Stockyards police district.

Families "Double Up."

In general the report indicates that families have preferred doubling up to paying big rents for luxurious apartments, at the same time refusing to move into old dwellings which have been hedged about by railroads and industries.

Whisky Breath Costs Auto Speeder Fine of $100

A faintly familiar aroma was wafted across the bench of Judge Fry in the Speeders' court yesterday when Walter R. West, proprietor of a restaurant at 2053 North Halsted street, stood before him on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

"What is that?" asked the judge, sniffing. "Is this the hangover?"

"I didn't feel well this morning, so I just took one little drink to steady me," explained West.

"The testimony of your breath convicts you," said the court, imposing a fine of $100 and costs.

Army Chauffeur's Shoes Catch Fire in Evanston

Paul Leky, an army chauffeur from Fort Sheridan, was sitting in his truck in Ridge avenue, Evanston, yesterday when he noticed his shoes were on fire. He hot footed it to a saloon and summoned the fire department after nearly setting the booth on fire. A policeman sprayed a hose on his feet and put out the blaze before the engines arrived.

"Must be some of those famous army issue of paper shoes," remarked the policeman.

ALL GRAINS UP; WHEAT IN LEAD WITH BIG GAINS

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

A continuation of the upward course in grain prices which started Monday was more marked yesterday. Sensational advances were made in wheat, which led all other grains and made a close at or nearly the highest of the day, with shorts the best buyers. That the markets were heavily oversold was clearly shown by their action, as selling pressure was reduced and values readily responded to the increased buying power which absorbed the offerings of hedgers as values moved up.

Uneasiness over the foreign political situation with negotiations between Russia and Poland reported as broken off caused a change in sentiment.

At the close wheat was 7@11c higher for cash and 16¼@17½c for futures. Corn was 4@5c up for cash and 3½@4½c higher on futures. Cash oats were 2@3c higher, while futures gained ¼@1½c. Rye futures gained 8¼@13¾c, and barley ½@¾c.

Big Trade in Wheat.

In the wheat trade there was more animation than at any time since business was renewed in futures. All big commission houses had large buying orders, and selling was scattered, with hedgers doing the most. There was not enough of the hedging sales to satisfy the demand from the dozen or more big buyers, and prices advanced 32½c over Monday's low, with the close at 1c under the top at $2.29 for December. Cash wheat lost 5c of its premium and closed 5@10c over the futures for the various grades. Flour prices have dropped 50c@$1 within the last few days, and the trade is demoralized.

Cars are said to be in better supply in the southwest, and the movement there is liberal, although under last year's. Primary arrivals were 1,485,000 bu, against 2,662,000 bu last year. Export clearances from the seaboard were 308,000 bu, against 1,017,000 bu last year.

Short Covering in Corn.

The probability of a resumption of hostilities in Europe and dry weather reports from Illinois, Missouri, and Indiana disclosed a badly oversold condition in corn, with the strength in wheat prices advanced sharply, closing at the top. There was free buying of December by Bartlett Frazier, Leland, Updike, and Stein-Alstrin, while Jackson Brothers took December and September. The trade had the impression that a leading local short was covering.

Oats derived the bulk of their strength from other grains and failed to hold the full advance, due to profit taking by local longs. Premiums in the sample market advanced ½@1c, with an excellent shipping demand, the advance in freight rates to go into effect on Aug. 25 being a big factor.

Reports that Germany and Scandinavia had bought 2,000,000 bu rye since last Thursday and buying of futures at Minneapolis for North Dakota country account, combined with the bulge in wheat, gave the rye market a strong tone and a sharply higher close. The bulge caused exporters to withdraw from the market, and no sales were claimed for the day. No. 2 on track was 7@7¼c over September.

Two cars of new barley were received. One was consigned to Harris Winthrop & Co. and came from Illinois, while Somers, Jones & Co. had one from eastern Iowa. Both graded No. 3 and sold at $1.68. Spot prices advanced 1@2c, with a better demand.

Provisions Do Better.

Provisions advanced and closed at the top, with gains of 55@57½c on lard, 32½@35c on ribs, and 10@30c on pork. Selling pressure most of the day was light, although on the bulge small packers sold fairly. The decrease in stocks of lard of nearly 7,000,000 lbs the last two weeks, combined with the strength in grains, offset the effect of the decline in sterling exchange. Hog receipts continue above expectations. Cash lard was 35c under September. Prices follow:

FLOUR PRICES UNSETTLED

The flour market is demoralized and all kinds of prices are being made. A local miller had inquiries from abroad yesterday and made small sales. Minneapolis millers are selling the best spring patents in car lots at $12.25@12.50 per bbl or $1.00 under the price of Saturday. Should prices for wheat advance again a rally in flour is expected. For September shipment $12.05 is asked and for October $12.00. Prices to retailers are $13.00@13.50 for spot delivery. Hard winters are $11.00@11.75 in car lots and soft winters $10.50@11.50. White patent 7's, $9.50@10.00 per bbl in car lots, with sales slow.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Shipping sales of cash corn at Chicago Tuesday were 71,000 bu, oats 246,000 bu and barley 6,000 bu.

The sharp advance in wheat futures caused exporters to withdraw from the market, except at a relatively lower basis, an advance of 8@12c in bids failing to draw substantial offers. The British commission is expected to be back in the wheat market today and asked for offers in all positions.

While premiums on cash wheat were 5@7c lower as compared with the December, cash sales showed 7@11c above the previous day, with No. 1 hard sold mainly at 10@12c over December and No. 1 red at 7@8c over. Kansas City was 8@13c, Omaha 10@15c, and Minneapolis 10@15c higher. Holiday at St. Louis.

Bids at the Gulf were $2.53 for August, September or October loading, and $2.52 track New York for first half August shipment. There was a small amount sold from the interior, but quantities were not given.

Cash corn advanced 4@5c and closed strong, with No. 2 mixed around $1.44, and No. 2 yellow at $1.45½@1.46. Receipts, 111 cars. Oats 2@3c higher, with No. 2 white 5@6c and No. 3 white 1½@3c over September. Receipts, 70 cars.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

An advance of 23½c in December wheat the last two days carries the price up one-third of the 70c decline in the last two weeks. The advance has been mainly on covering by shorts, and on a restoration of confidence. With the short interest reduced and buying power increased sharp changes in prices are to be expected. The British commission is expected to come in as a buyer today. With freight rates to advance 3c to nearly 6c per bu on the various grains this month it will be no surprise to see increased buying of cash grains by distributors in the east and by exporters.

P. S. Goodman, the Clement, Curtis & Co. statistician, says on the basis of 825,000,000 bu for supplies for the United States and a minimum carry over of 50,000,000 bu, there would be 230,000,000 bu wheat for export, or the same as exported the last year. Requirements of Europe and other importing countries last year were 603,000,000 bu, or 75,000,000 bu over the previous year. Assuming they are 600,000,000 bu this year, the United States and Canada can furnish 390,000,000 bu, leaving 210,000,000 bu to be furnished by other countries. India has 50,000,000 bu for export, leaving 160,000,000 bu to be furnished by Argentine and Australia, both of which have exhausted their surplus. The outcome of the new crop in these countries will fix prices for wheat ultimately. Until their crops are in sight the wheat situation will not be over comfortable.

David H. Aman, a former football star of the University of Chicago, has joined the Board of Trade. He is connected with Lamson Bros. & Co. Memberships are $10,500 net to the buyer.

A correction was made in the Board of Trade figures of mess pork stocks, giving them as 20,578 brls instead of 31,050 brls. Other pork is 38,489 brls, instead of 28,027 brls.

RAILROAD NOTES

Announcement was made yesterday by the Interstate Commerce commission that the loading and unloading of live stock in carload shipments at the Chicago stock yards is not the duty of the shipper. This reverses a former finding by the commission in which it was held that loading and unloading must be undertaken by the shipper. The collection of separate charges from the shipper for unloading an cloading live stock, in addition to the rate of live stock to and from the Chicago yards was held to be an unlawful and unreasonable practice. Shippers carrying these charges, the commission held, are entitled to reparation. The commission also held that the stock yards at Chicago were terminals of the line haul carriers, as was the Chicago Junction railway and Union Stock-yards company.

Application was made to the Interstate Commerce commission by the Galesburg, Rockford and Northern railroad for authority to issue $300,000 of first mortgage bonds on its property at 8 per cent interest. The application was taken under consideration.

PIANO CONCERNS TO MERGE NORTH SIDE FACTORIES

BY AL CHASE.

Consolidation of the plants of the Marshall Piano company and the J. P. Seeburg Piano company is planned by J. P. Seeburg, head of both concerns, as the result of his sale to the Seeburg company of the factory property at the northwest corner of Blackhawk and Dayton streets, for an indicated $245,000, subject to $145,000.

The three story building, 175 by 176, is now partly used by the Marshall company and the balance by the Chicago Tanning company. As soon as the tanning concern erects a new plant, expected to be built within two years, the Seeburg company will move in. The Seeburg piano factory now is at 419 West Erie street.

Adams Residence Sold.

Alexander W. Hannah, as administrator of the estate of Lawrence Adams, former part owner of the Brevoort hotel, has sold the Adams residence at 1222 North state street, a three story brick and stone building, to the Northern Trust company, trustee, through Harrison L. Van Schaick, for a reported $45,000, subject to $15,000.

Rogers Park came to the front with two apartment deals yesterday, one of them a good sized trade. Joseph Cormack sold to Adolph Amster and others the thirty-nine flat building at the northwest corner of Greenleaf avenue and Paulina street, 171 by 150, for a reported $150,000, subject to $80,000. The rental is reported as $28,000. The Lake View Real Estate exchange represented both parties.

The six flat building just across the street, and 150 feet east of Paulina, with a south frontage on Greenleaf of fifty and a depth of 171, was sold by Daniel Benninghoeven to Charles Schmidt for an indicated $53,500, subject to $25,500.

Good Sized Swap.

The forty-eight flat building at the northeast corner of Marianna street and Mildred avenue figured in a good sized deal. Anders E. Anderson of Riverside sold it to Mrs. Kate M. West of 4144 Clarendon avenue for an indicated $171,000, subject to $90,000. The lot is 200x125.

In exchange Mrs. West gave the six flat building at 429 Melrose street, lot 35x165, for an indicated $30,000, subject to $11,000; the two store and ten flat building at the northeast corner of Webster avenue and Bissell street, lot 48x115, for an indicated $30,000, subject to $12,000, and the nine flat and one store building at the southwest corner of Tremont and Clay streets, lot 24x125, for an indicated $22,000, subject to $19,000.

Further information in regard to this issue is given in a letter of Mr. R. J. Dunham, Vice-President, from which we summarize as follows:

Sutter Basin Company, a corporation organized under the laws of California, owns 55,122 acres of land in Sutter County, California, at the confluence of the Sacramento and Feather Rivers, approximately 22 miles above the City of Sacramento. Of the above acreage 45,654 acres lie within the boundaries of Reclamation District No. 1500 and the remaining 9,468 acres lie within the Sutter By-Pass.

Reclamation District No. 1500 was created by a Special Act of the Legislature of California and contains an area of 66,200 acres, completely reclaimed in accordance with the general Flood Control Plan adopted by the U. S. Government and by the State of California. In addition to being reclaimed, the lands of the Sutter Basin Company lying within District No. 1500 are completely irrigated and are practically all under cultivation, the crops consisting of grains, vegetables, fruit, rice, beans and other miscellaneous crops. The cost of the irrigation system was over $2,000,000.

The bonds will be secured by a closed mortgage covering the Company's holdings of 55,122 acres of land, appraised at a total valuation of approximately $17,000,000. It will be a first mortgage on the lands described, except only in respect to a lien represented by an assessment for reclamation purposes against all lands lying within District No. 1500, of which the Company's share amounts to approximately $3,850,000. This assessment, plus similar assessments against other lands in the District not owned by the Company, has been funded into an issue of approximately $5,000,000 District No. 1500 bonds, none of which mature prior to January 1, 1930. Future similar assessments may, under state laws, be funded into bonds maturing over a period of twenty years and therefore are not burdensome. There are no assessments against the By-Pass acreage.

In addition to the mortgage security, there will be deposited with the Trustee, all of the stock of the Sutter Basin Improvement Company which owns 5,268 acres of land lying without District No. 1500, but adjacent thereto. There will also be deposited with the Trustee all of the stock of Sutter Basin Company.

In 1918 the earnings of Sutter Basin Company and its subsidiary, Sutter Basin Improvement Company, after deducting operating expenses including taxes, but before depreciation and interest, were $545,776.60, and in 1919 were $761,784.44. The levees of the District were not closed until the fall of 1918 and the irrigation system was not completed in time to reflect full benefits in 1919. Therefore, 1920 will be the first year of operation upon which a fair presumption of earning power may be obtained. Net earnings for the year applicable to interest and federal taxes are estimated at approximately $1,750,000.

The proceeds of this loan will be used to reduce floating indebtedness incurred in the development of the property.

Legality will be approved by Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt, Chicago, and Devlin and Devlin, Sacramento.

About Real Estate Mortgages

When Mortgages bore 5% they sold readily to careful investors, even though more speculative investments bore 6%.

Now when needy borrowers are bidding 7% and 8% for credit the careful leader should be still more cautious.

A 6% mortgage bears the same relation now to higher interest paying securities that a 5% mortgage formerly bore.

And greater reasons for caution in investments now exist.

Chicago real estate mortgages should, of course, be sold only with the title guarantees issued by this company.

The New York Times.

New York, Aug. 3.—[Special.]—After a period of irregularity in which some new low records for the year were established among industrial stocks, the market turned about today and left off amid a marked demonstration of strength in the railroad department.

Great Northern preferred scored the really remarkable gain of 5 points, while net advances of 1 to more than 2 points were recorded by Atchison; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, and others. The rise of 4 points and more by New Haven was worthy of special mention, for in other directions the more important advances were generally limited to issues of seasoned dividends.

Little Stock Offered.

It was probable that when the bearish tide turned in the afternoon, helped by a decline of call money from 8 to 6 per cent, a hasty covering movement in the rails found little stock offered. The irregular price tendency of the morning, with its full quota of sharp reactions, was a familiar aftermath of such a fall as occurred yesterday.

The bulk of the day's buying orders seemed to be for the purpose of retiring short contracts. Still, the demand for the old line rails once the movement got under way was reported to include accumulation both from investment and speculative sources. Short covering was especially active among the steel, motor, and rubber shares, the groups which had been driven down previously under a particular attack.

Polish News Ignored.

It would have been difficult to find anything outside of the call money quotation to promote buying for really constructive purposes. In the afternoon recovery it seemed as though the depressing news from Poland was ignored. An abrupt decline of sterling exchange was also passed by, although this recession and the weakness of German, French, and other continental exchanges may have been a reflection of conditions which will have influence in the security market.

Sterling decline more than 7 cents below the final price of yesterday. Dutch and Spanish rates, following their recent tendency, reached levels lower than those recorded during the war years, and it is significant of the changes taking place in international trade and financial relations that these exchanges, so long at a stiff premium at New York, have reached a sizeable discount.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Trading in Chicago stocks showed increased activity yesterday. Prices were irregular in the more active issues and generally lower in the less active stocks. Opening quotations were about steady, followed by a general decline in midsession and a rally at the close, which showed more net losses than gains. Stewart-Warner, Libby-McNeill, and Montgomery Ward were under selling pressure and declined fractionally. Swift International, Union Carbide, and Swift also were active, but met with good buying and net gains. The motor stocks were weak, Mitchell leading the decline with a drop of 4½ points. Continental Motor recovered an early loss. On small sales Beaverboard and Piggly Wiggly declined 3 points.

MONTH'S REVIEWS POINT A GRADUAL PRICE LOWERING

Further indications of a general slowing down in trade and a tendency toward lower commodity prices are set forth in several reviews covering July. The monthly report of the Credit Clearing house, dealing with merchandising, is based on about 200,000 actual transactions by wholesalers, involving about $150,000,000.

"Buying over the country as a whole is below the average for this season of the year," the report states. "Although many buyers are in the different markets, they are mostly representatives of the larger houses. Small buyers, who are essential to good business, either have not come to the markets or have come and gone without making the usual purchases, owing to prices quoted and terms of sale. Indebtedness, instead of declining as is usual at this season, is growing heavier. Payments are behind the average shown in the same month of the last two years."

The review of the National City bank of New York says conditions favor a continued gradual readjustment of commodity prices to a lower level.

"This is what everybody should desire," the review continues, "because it means keeping the industries in balance, with continuous employment for wage-earners, a continuous turnover in trade, a gradual reduction of inventories and indebtedness, and a safe reëstablishment on the foundation of normal solid values.

"It is likely that Europe will require less than during the last year. One of the chief factors in high prices is the inadequacy of transportation facilities, but this will be gradually overcome. If farmers must accept a gradual reduction in the prices of their products, they will buy less of the products of other industries unless these are cheaper. It will be useless for producers in other industries to insist that they shall have the same money income if the great agricultural population has less."

FINANCIAL NOTES

Directors of the American Cotton Oil company yesterday decided not to declare any dividend on the common stock at this time. The last dividend on the common was 1 per cent, and was distributed on June 1, 1920. The stock has been on a 4 per cent per annum basis since 1916. Action on the preferred dividend does not come until the next quarter, the disbursement on that issue being semi-annual.

Armour & Company filed notice of an increase in the company's authorized capital stock from $210,000,000 to $400,000,000 in the office of Secretary of State Emmerson. The company paid into the state treasury a fee of $105,093.

The sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. for July were $7,353,431, compared with $7,297,376 for July, 1919, an increase of 38.81 per cent. Sales for the seven months ended July 31 were $66,642,316, compared with $49,141,514 in the like period last year, an increase of 35.61 per cent.

The Corona Typewriter company has increased its shares from 25,000 to 40,000, divided as follows: Five thousand first preferred and 10,000 second preferred, both of $100 par value. The 25,000 common stock is without par value.

The Schulte Retail Stores corporation, tobacconists, has declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent on the common stock, payable Aug. 24 to holders of record Aug. 9.

The total net assets behind the note issue described below are stated by the Company to be over $250,000,000 including the proceeds of the notes. This is more than five times these notes. These assets include, among others, oil-producing properties, pipe lines, refineries and distributing facilities, each of which has an independent earning power. In the opinion of the Company's management, these valuations are conservative and the properties could not be duplicated today except at much higher figures.

Five-Year Secured 7½% Convertible Gold Notes of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation which has furnished us with the following information:

These $50,000,000 Secured Notes are the sole funded debt of the enterprise, excepting equipment notes and other items aggregating about $5,275,800, and against this the audited statement shows total net assets, including the proceeds of this note issue, of over five times the amount of the note issue.

The consolidated net earnings over a series of years make a consistent and convincing record, the audited statements showing an amount available for interest, depletion, etc., equal to 5.83 times the annual interest on these notes for the year 1919, and averaging over 5 times such interest for the past three years.

The notes have the benefit of a sinking fund provision at the rate of $2,000,000 every six months for the purchase of the notes at or below 100 and interest. A feature is the noteholder's privilege of converting each $1,000 note into $1,000 par value (ten shares) 8% Cumulative Sinking Fund Preferred Stock and 2½ shares Common Stock of the Company.

These secured notes may be purchased in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Interest payable without deduction for the Federal Income Tax up to 2%.

A High Interest Return from a Company with a Record of 32 Years of Big Earnings

The Wisconsin Chair Company is one of the pioneer industrial corporations of Wisconsin. Incorporated in 1888 with a capital of $10,000 it has kept pace steadily with the phenomenal expansion of western business, and today has a capital of $1,000,000, capital increases having been made almost entirely from earnings.

In addition to chairs, household furniture and veneer, the company has built up, the last few years, a lucrative business in phonographs. Thirty-two years of steadily expanding earnings is the record of this company. Management conservative and progressive has made its success and high commercial standing.

Average annual net earnings for 29 years prior to Jan. 1, 1919 were over $37,200, after all charges. For two years ended April 30, 1920 average net earnings were $126,977, or over three and two-thirds times the maximum interest on these notes. Combined net earnings of the Company and its affiliated companies for 1920 are estimated at $425,000, or twelve times the maximum interest.

The proceeds of these notes will be used to retire current liabilities and to provide additional working capital. They constitute the Company's sole funded indebtedness.

Our "26 Years Devoted to Making Safety a Certainty" is back of our recommendation of these Notes, which we regard from every standpoint as the highest type of sound industrial investment.

American Tobacco.

J. W., Bay View, Mich.—The American Tobacco company last year authorized the issue of 500,000 shares of B common stock having all the rights of other common stock, except that it has no vote. Last May stockholders authorized the redeeming of $12,072,720 of outstanding dividend scrip in B stock at the rate of $110 scrip for $100 of stock. They also authorized a dividend of 75 per cent payable in B stock on Aug. 1 to common stock of record July 15. This dividend was payable on old stock, also on the B stock that had been issued in exchange for scrip.

Brief Answers.

J. H., Oshkosh, Wis.—The Pan American Petroleum and Transport company has issued $10,000,000 of bonds secured by first mortgage on ten steel tank steamers. A sinking fund of $1,050,000 a year is provided. The bonds have a wide margin of safety as to both principal and interest.

P. C., Wabash, Ind.—The Petroleum Motors corporation was organized for the purpose of developing a kerosene burning motor. It says the motor has been perfected, and the company will soon reorganize for the purpose of manufacturing it.

L. S. McD.—Shares of the Revere Motor company can be bought in the open market at $5.75. That is reason enough for not paying $13.50.

One or Two Bond Salesmen Wanted

A young and well known bond house is desirous of getting in touch with one or two high-grade men. We prefer, of course, a Bond man with a clientele, but this is not essential. If your record proves that you have accomplished things worth while in the sales line, we think we can use you. To those who can qualify we have a proposition that will certainly be of much interest.

U'LL N JOY A HOME
To a few responsible I offer a home on payments the same as rent. Can you qualify?
You will require a home, you must be responsible and steady. This is not for the man who can afford to pay cash, but the man that wants a home and can't afford it. I am on the N. W. Side. Agents need not answer. Address A X 78, Tribune.

Will You Consider A Plan to Own Your Own Home?
We will do for you what we have done for hundreds of others. We have several buildings ready and will let you pay for one in small payments while you are enjoying the comfort and independence of living in it without the fear that the landlord is going to raise your rent or refuse to renew your lease. If you are interested and want further particulars kindly address A X 57, Tribune.

Closest in property opened up for years. Beautiful Irving Park section. We will build a home for you there and let you pay like rent for it. DON'T WAIT till next spring and have your rent raised 50% again.
OUR PLAN.
Saves you 10 to 15% on the cost. We have helped thousands of renters, and can put you in your own home if you will get started now on a small payment down. HURRY. Address A X 94, Tribune.

Investigate at Once PLAN that will put you in your own home on monthly terms like rent in closest-in subdivision, opened up in the last 4 years. Beautiful Irving Park section, adjoining new park. Address F F 287, Tribune.

STOP!
This is not the time to build a home; wait a year. We know that building material is coming down, and a year's time will mean a saving to you of $2,000 to $3,000. Now is the proper time to select a home site. We have the choicest spots on the Northwest Side, in the Ravenswood section. Property is near schools, theaters, stores of all kinds, and also the finest transportation. Next year we will build you a bungalow or a 2 flat house and let you move in it and pay for it on a monthly installment plan, just as you pay for rent in a flat. Our terms on home sites are $10 per month. For further information address B D 595, Tribune.

TO MEN
of moderate means this proposition should appeal as the ONLY logical solution to the housing problem. Our exceptional success will assure you of safety and assurance to realize your ambition to own your OWN HOME. Most desirable location in Albany Park; L and surface transportation. An inquiry will furnish you with full particulars. Address F F 295, Tribune.

DO NOT pay rent any longer than May 1st next year. Our building plan will start that bungalow or two flat for you in an ideal neighborhood on the great Northwest Side. For $100 DOWN and small MONTHLY PAYMENTS. INVESTIGATE. Address C K 178, Tribune.

MOVING TO FARM.
$300 takes my $510 equity in 90 ft. improved corner on N. W. Side; beautiful location. Address S 447, Tribune.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

VACANT—NORTHWEST SIDE.

Every One Realizes That When the building situation adjusts itself prices on vacant in a desirable location will go soaring.
Our subdivision can't be beat for beauty, exclusiveness, and location. Prices here will double and treble.
You can get your homesite here now on easy terms and get an on every lot your purchase, as the property is under lease to a golf club at the present time and all rents collected will be distributed among lot owners until May 1, 1921, when the lease expires. Lowest rent on smallest lot amounts to $2.50 per month, or 21% net on your investment.
We will start building next year and let you pay like rent for your home. We only help a few. You owe it to yourself to investigate. Address J S 286, Tribune.

"Be a Packard Owner"

If you don't want to invest the money that a new high grade car would cost, the solution to your problem would be, "Buy a Rebuilt Twin Six," and yet enjoy the use of a high grade car.

You won't have any tire trouble, engine trouble, or any other trouble for that matter, when you make a week end or vacation trip in a car by buying a rebuilt Twin Six, because we guarantee our rebuilt cars the same as new, equip them with all new cord tires, repaint and redress them so that the most critical cannot distinguish them from new.

HAYNES TOUR.
The crowning achievement of 26 years of successful motor car building is expressed in this beautiful Haynes automobile. The power of the motor is as fluid as water over a fall. The feeling one gets when riding in this wonderfully harmonious working unit is almost uncanny.
Rich dark blue body with white wire wheels add to the "tout ensemble."
As one would expect of a car of this sort it has had most careful handling and is in perfect mechanical condition. Presents the appearance of new. Priced surprisingly low.

Fur Coats at August Sale Prices

That Make Buying Now of Unusual Advantage

Assortments—complete and varied—all-inclusive to the point limited only by the new in fur fashions. This gives a latitude for selection that adds immeasurably to the advantage of choosing at sale prices.

From these splendid assortments certain groups are singled out for especial mention at this time. These groups present

Fur Coats for Misses and Young Women
Those of Blended Muskrat at $175
Those of Marmot Priced $185

The coat of blended muskrat is fashioned of notably fine skins, expertly blended. In the 30-inch length. Sketched at the right.

The coat of marmot, in the 36-inch length, has a deep collar and wide cuffs of natural raccoon or natural opossum. Sketched at the left.

Then There Are Youthful Styles in Fur Coats of Beaver at $650 to $850. Nutria, $310 to $500. Coats of Raccoon, Vary With Length, From $295 to $800.

Tub Skirts

For Vacation Outfits

If there is one more tub skirt needed, here is an exceptional opportunity to choose one, exceedingly smart, at a decided saving. These skirts are

Of Cotton Gabardine, Expertly Tailored Very Specially Priced, $4.75 and $8.50

One skirt, stitched from belt to hem in blue and black, fastens all the way down with large pearl buttons. Priced $8.50.

Another—simple and smart—has row on row of tailored folds and many fine little pearl buttons to accent the clever placing of the pockets. $4.75.

Fourth Floor, South.

Fresh, Cool Tub Frocks

Of Plain and Printed Voile, Quaint in Style, or of Gingham Smart and Tailored

And also charming frocks, simple, youthful and very lovely, of fine dotted Swiss.

Indeed, whatever one's preference is in the way of a summer frock, one is practically certain to find here. For surely never was there a collection of frocks more varied.

Prices are decidedly less than one would expect for such frocks. One may choose

Voile Frocks From $10 to $15
Dotted Swiss Frocks Moderately Priced, $25
Frocks of Crisp Gingham, $7.50 to $25

All the dainty pastel tints are here, and those darker shades so favored in this summer's modes.

Always there is a clever touch—a bit of ribbon at waist or throat, a new line in tunic, or a collar, perhaps, of unusually becoming cut.

French Hand-made Tub Frocks Are Specially Priced, $22.50

Frocks of fine voile and batiste in lovely pastel colorings. These frocks are trimmed with hand-drawn work and hand-hemstitching, beautifully done, and are most unusual values at this price.

Fourth Floor, South.

Lacy, Dainty Summer Blouses

Of Georgette Crepe, Specially Priced, $5.75

Soft, frilly blouses such as one chooses to wear with the silken sports skirt, or to give a fresh summery touch to the travel or street suit. Just now such a group is certain to be welcomed.

There Are Five Styles to Choose From in White or Lovely Flesh Tint

All these blouses have short sleeves. One is made with a collar and jabot edged in a filet-pattern lace. On another there is a charming new neckline and bows of picot ribbon. Then there is one—very charming—with a vestee of creamy lace. The quality of the Georgette crepe is unusually fine.

Each Blouse Is an Exceptional Value, $5.75

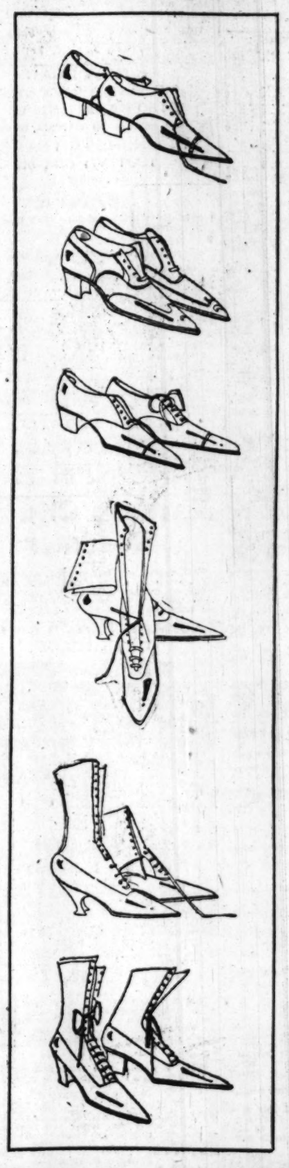
Now in Progress— The August Sale of Shoes

Once again this Sale is proving itself the remarkable buying event our patrons have always known it to be. The advantages it affords for providing footwear needs cannot be too strongly emphasized. Here are thousands of pairs of shoes—of the finer qualities only.



All at Prices Greatly Reduced

There are low shoes and boots. There are footwear styles suitable for every occasion, meeting the demands of every requirement. There are shoes for women, for men and for children. And every pair is marked by excellence of material and fine workmanship. Especially featured—

Women's Low Shoes
$7.45, $9.45, $13.45

Oxfords, pumps, Colonials, tongue pumps and French "ties" are included in these groups, priced according to style and leather. The leathers include patent leather, suede, brown and black kidskin, dull kidskin, tan and black calfskin. Some of the styles are in satin. Several of many styles are sketched.

Women's Fine Boots
$9.75, $12.75, $15.75

These values in boots make it decidedly profitable to supply the needs of fall and winter. The new styles are presented in these boots, and are priced remarkably low. These boots may be had in patent leather, brown and black kidskin, tan and black calfskin, dull kidskin and suede. Several of many styles are sketched.

Men's, Young Men's and Boys' Shoes, Misses' and Children's Shoes, All at August Sale Prices.
